The Paisley Directory and General Advertiser for 1899-1900, 1899      The Paisley Directory and General Advertiser for 1899-1900 J Cook, 2003-02-01 Paisley grew rapidly with the cotton industry in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. It became famous world wide for the use of the boteh motif in the Paisley Pattern shawl. Although only a short distance from the expanding metropolis of Glasgow it retained its own identity. The Directory Contents include Alphabetical and Trades and Professions Directories of Paisley and surrounding villages together with lists of the officials of religious, political and recreational societies, organisations and official bodies. Distances between Paisley and nearly 200 places in the County of Renfrewshire. Post Office arrangements and a Tramways and Omnibus Traffic Timetable. A fascinating opportunity to see the social structure of a prosperous Abbey town at the end of the Victorian era.      General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1955 British Museum. Dept. of Printed Books, 1967      Weights and Measures in Scotland R. D. Connor, Allen David Cumming Simpson, 2004. This is the first book to describe the system of weights and measures used in medieval Scotland and to explain its evolution into modern times and also the first to provide secure and accurate figures for the sizes of the units. The book's radical approach includes an emphasis on the physical evidence from surviving measurement standards and it demonstrates that Scotland's meteorology was sophisticated and was closely involved with those of her trading partners. The book will appeal to a specialist market that includes social, economic and science historians. Scottish historians, weight and scale collectors, museums and science and technology libraries.      General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1800-1900 John S.
