The Penguin New Writing 1940 50:

The Penguin New Writing John Lehmann, Roy Fuller, 1985 The Penguin New Writing 1940-1950, 1985 The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07

More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re-shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries.

Art and Commerce in the British Short Story, 1880-1950 Dean Baldwin, 2015-10-06 The short story was a commercial phenomenon which took off in the late nineteenth century and lasted through to the rise of television and film. Baldwin uses a wide variety of sources to show how economic factors helped to dictate how and what a wide variety of authors wrote.

Letters of Frank Sargeson Sarah Shieff, 2012-02-03 A rich and riveting record of both literary and social value. Frank Sargeson is one of New Zealand's best loved and most important writers. Besides the ground-breaking short stories he wrote memoirs, novels and plays. He encouraged at least three generations of younger writers and for most of his adult life the famous bach behind the hedge at 14 Esmonde Road was at the heart of New Zealand's artistic and literary world. Sargeson was also a prolific letter writer and this selection of 500 of the most fascinating ranges over half a century from 1927 to 1981. The letters are immensely readable, vividly capturing his life and times, his milieu and his personality. Frank loved gossip, could be bitchy and peevish but also kind, affectionate, funny, ribald, astute. This collection, selected, edited and annotated by Sarah Shieff, is a document of extraordinary significance for all those interested in New Zealand's literary and social history.

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world. Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect. In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories. In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide.

Reading London in Wartime William Cederwell, 2017-11-06 Reading London in Wartime: Blitz, the People and Propaganda in 1940s Literature presents an expansive variety of writers and genres including non-fiction and film approaches to build a comprehensive social picture of the atmosphere during wartime London. From blitz and austerity to the nagging insistency of propaganda, this volume examines the representation of London in wartime and early post-war literature through each writer's unique perspective on the pressures of 1940s city life Exploring the use of London imagery this book considers how literature redirects attention to individual subjective experience at a time of enforced co operation uniformity and community Unlike government information films and news broadcasts which often used London to prop up prevailing clichés and stereotypes and encouraged patriotic support for the war literature had the freedom to express more recalcitrant truths London writing of the 1940s was not a literature of opposition or dissent but in offering more nuanced depictions of the period it was a counterweight to propaganda and the general war temperament In writing the city becomes a more complex place no longer the easy symbol of defiance and stoicism of the shared sacrifice of ration book and war work

The British Short Story Emma Liggins, Andrew Maunder, Ruth Robbins, 2017-09-16 The short story remains a crucial if neglected part of British literary heritage This accessible and up to date critical overview maps out the main strands and figures that shaped the British short story and novella from the 1850s to the present It offers new readings of both classic and forgotten texts in a clear jargon free way

Just War on Terror? Brian Wicker, 2016-04-22 Following the 9 11 attacks by Al Qaeda President Bush declared war on terror In the succeeding years Western governments have struggled to find the right way to respond to the new and deadly threat posed by terrorism With the election of President Obama the rhetoric has softened and policies have been adjusted but the underlying problems and challenges remain the same Meanwhile the war on terrorism in Afghanistan has been intensified Drawing on just war teaching as developed within both Christian and Muslim traditions this book examines whether and how liberal democracies can combat the new global terrorism both effectively and justly The authors including distinguished academics from both sides of the Atlantic Christian and Muslim theologians former senior civil servants and a General deploy a wide range of experience and expertise to address one of the most difficult and pressing ethical challenges to contemporary society
