1.0. OBJECTIVES

The main objective of this Unit—the first one with which philosophy-course is begun—is to give a pre-taste of philosophy without going to its intricacies. Although the details of the ‘how’ of philosophizing are not considered in this unit, it is a very important Unit as it is the basis for all that will follow during this course. In this unit we shall try to give a definition of philosophy, both etymological and real; and then we shall show as to how philosophy is to be differentiated from or related to ‘philosophizing’. But the notion of wisdom will be clarified in greater depth and width in relation to ‘philosophy’ and in contrast to ‘knowledge’. Philosophy is not just one of the disciplines of knowledge, as any other one. Hence clarification of its all-comprehensive character by referring to its scope is yet another objective of this unit of study. Finally the importance of philosophy is also to be paid attention to.

Thus by the end of this Unit you should be able:

- to have a basic understanding of philosophy;
- to differentiate it from philosophizing;
- to relate it with wisdom;
- to understand the all-comprehensive character of philosophy;
- to know the importance of philosophy both at the theoretical and practical levels

1.1.DEFINITION OF PHILOSOPHY

Western philosophy was born in Greece; the term ‘philosophy’ too has its roots in Greece and in Greek language. It is quite commonly known that philosophia etymologically means ‘love of wisdom’ (Philia + Sophia). But sophia had a much wider range of application than the modern English “wisdom.” Wherever intelligence can be exercised—in practical affairs, in the mechanical arts, in business—there is room for Sophia. Herodotus used the verb philosophhein in a context in which it means nothing more than the desire to find out. We can find a gradual growth in the meaning of philosophy, as we go through the history of thought.
