Green, 2015-02-02 Chichester is the archetypal Georgian town with streets of elegant buildings gathered

closely around the ancient cathedral It usually appears to today s first time visitor that the city has been largely untouched by the hand of time particularly the destructive hand that guided the 1960s However this is not the case in the 1960s Chichester faced the same challenges as all historic towns and much was lost but the brakes were applied in good time and it became one of the first conservation areas in the country This book the first of its kind looks at how Chichester fared in that turbulent decade how it gained its status as a city of culture with a new theatre and museum and how it expanded to meet the demands of its growing populace Historical research blends with personal anecdote to produce a heartfelt portrait of the decade

Arreola, 2013-08-01 A history in postcards of Mexican tourist towns in the first half of the twentieth century with nearly two hundred illustrations Between 1900 and the late 1950s Mexican border towns came of age both as tourist destinations in some cases by luring Americans who wanted to escape Prohibition and as emerging cities Commercial photographers produced thousands of images of their streets plazas historic architecture and tourist attractions which were reproduced as photo postcards Daniel Arreola has amassed one of the largest collections of these border town postcards and in this book he uses this amazing visual archive to offer a new way of understanding how the border towns grew and transformed themselves in the first half of the twentieth century as well as how they were pictured to attract American tourists Postcards from the Río Bravo Border presents nearly two hundred images of five towns on the lower Río Bravo Matamoros Reynosa Nuevo Laredo Piedras Negras and Villa Acuña Using multiple images of sites within each city Arreola tracks changes both within the cities as places and in the ways in which they've been pictured for tourist consumption He also shows how postcard images when systematically and chronologically arranged can tell us a great deal about how Mexican border towns have been viewed over time This innovative visual approach demonstrates that historical imagery no less than text or maps can be assembled to tell a fascinating geographical story This is masterful cultural geography with rich visual materials delivered in a unique and compelling fashion Journal of Latin American Geography Design, 1977 Postcards from the Western Front Mark Connelly, 2022-09-15 Visitors to the battlefields of France and Belgium expressed pain and anguish pride and nostalgia and wonder and surprise at what they saw Postcards from the Western Front chronicles the many ways in which these sites were perceived and commemorated by British people both during the First World War and in the twenty years following the Armistice Mark Connelly's definitive and engaging study of the former Western Front examines how different and distinctive sub communities regional ethnic and religious civilian and armed forces influenced the depth and strength of the visiting public's relationship with the battlefields all the while comparing and contrasting this relationship with the viewpoint of the French and Belgian inhabitants of the devastated regions Connelly draws from a vast archive a number of interlocking themes including the lingering presence of the battlefields in the British domestic imagination the often fraught experience of visiting the battlefields memorials and cemeteries functioning as part of a historical testimony to wartime realities and the interactions between visitors and the people living in these former fighting zones Focusing on French and Belgian sites Connelly nevertheless provides insight into other major battlefields fought over by troops from the British Empire Extensively illustrated with black and white photographs Postcards from the Western Front offers a groundbreaking perspective on landscapes that rarely left anyone whether tourist inhabitant veteran or pilgrim unmoved
