So Who Says I Have To Act My Age:

The Hard Word John Clanchy, 2002 Vera Miriam Laura one family three generations with Miriam at the centre balancing the needs of her mother and daughter with those of her marriage and career Vera is slipping into the darkness of Alzheimer's disease while Laura is embroiled in teenage conflicts of identity and sexuality In her professional life Miriam is able to help others unlock the past through the simple power of words So what prevents her from doing it for those closest to her And for herself The answer to this painful dilemma emerges not so much from within Miriam herself but from the hard raw experience of the migrant and refugee women she teaches Their stories resonate with her own and she finds herself sustained in her own crisis by their strength and laughter In this sensitive exploration of memory love and family John Clanchy's writing reaches new levels of insight while retaining its distinctive humour Clanchy explores the big questions like love death betrayal and loss with a rare toughness and an even rarer insight He is a highly accomplished writer Mark Henshaw Canberra Times

You Don't Have to Act Your Age Win McFadden, 2001-01-31 Win McFadden now in his nineties is an international senior track and field star who still participates in U S Masters and Senior Olympics competition In You Don't Have to Act Your Age he has written a book with a radical mission to convince the many millions of people over the age of 65 that the remaining years of their lives can be healthy joyful ones He poses the following questions Suppose that in our effort to be as healthy as we could possibly be we engaged in a pursuit that also let us have fun and that while having fun we became totally absorbed and therefore willingly disciplined in our efforts Suppose further that because of our dedication and discipline we were eventually rewarded by public recognition and tangible rewards What if as our days sped by in this happy rewarding and disciplined existence we also met large numbers of friends who were similarly healthy dedicated and interesting And suppose that through the friends we made and the recognition we received we became able to be of service to other older people who needed help in bringing themselves to a condition of greater health and fitness and therefore happiness That would be true satisfaction of the highest order He claims that his positive answers to these questions have been the result of his participating in Masters athletics and teaching physical fitness classes for older adults In this second edition of You Don't Have to Act Your Age McFadden has added tips for seniors on how to choose an exercise class that meets their needs as well as advice for younger relatives of seniors who now live in convalescent facilities on how to encourage their loved ones to remain as physically fit as possible
