Sochinenia Kniga Xi:

Petrified Utopia Marina Balina, Evgeny Dobrenko, 2011-07 Taken together these essays redefine the preconceived notion of Soviet happiness as the product of official ideology imposed from above and expressed predominantly through collective experience and provide evidence that the formation of the concept of individual happiness was not contained by the limitations of important state projects controlled by state policies and aimed toward the creation of a new society

Mimesis Valery Podoroga, 2024-07-02 The Russian Revolution was a literary as well as political upheaval With a focus on the revolutionary works of Andrei Platonov and the futurist collective Oberiu leading Russian literary thinker Valery Podoroga shows how profoundly the Soviet experiment overturned the traditional expectations of fiction and poetry The production of this groundbreaking new work was inextricably interwoven with the political and historical debates of the time This volume expands on Podoroga's critical exploration of the analytic anthropology of literature Here he delves into the ways literature can be used in world building both in terms of what happens inside the narrative and how it reflects the external world He explores the function of the work outside of its time both as a means to project itself into the future and as a document of a former age How are we to read the past through these works of the imagination With an introductory essay from the author's daughter Ioulia Podoroga

Sochineniya Nikolai Vasilevich Gogol, 1893 The Age of the Seljuqs

Edmund Herzig, Sarah Stewart, 2014-11-20 From their ancestral heartland by the shores of the Aral Sea the medieval Oghuz Turks marched westwards in search of dominion Their conquests led to control of a Muslim empire that united the territories of the Eastern Islamic world melded Turkic and Persian influences and transported Persian culture to Anatolia In the eleventh and twelfth centuries the new Turkic Persian symbiosis that had earlier emerged under the Samanids Ghaznavids and Qarakhanids came to fruition in a period that under the enlightened rule of the Seljuq dynasty combined imperial grandeur with remarkable artistic achievement This latest volume in The Idea of Iran series focuses on a system of government based on Turkic men of the sword and Persian men of the pen that the Seljuqs famous foes of the Crusader Frankish knights consolidated in a form that endured for centuries The book further explores key topics relating to the innovative Seljuq era including conflicted Sunni Shi'a relations between the Sunni Seljuq Empire and Ismaili Fatimid caliphate architecture art and culture and politics and poetry Istvan Vasary looks back in Chapter 1 to the early history of the Turks in the wider Iranian world discussing the debates about the dating and distribution of the early Turkish presence in Central Asia Iran and Afghanistan Nizām al Mulk is the subject of Chapter 2 in which Carole Hillenbrand subjects this maverick vizier to critical scrutiny While paying due credit to his extraordinary achievements she does not shy away from concluding that his career illustrates the maxim that power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely A fitting antagonist for NizaAZm al Mulk is the subject of Chapter 3 in which Farhad Daftary follows the career of the remarkable revolutionary leader Hasan i SabbaAZh and the history of the Ismaili state within a state that he founded with his capture of the fortress of Alamt in 1090 In Chapter 4 David Durand Guedy examines the Seljuq Empire from the viewpoint of its western capital Isfahan He concentrates on the distinction between the parts of Iran to the west of the great deserts and in close connection to Iraq and Baghdad and the parts to the east notably Khorasan with its ties to Transoxiana and Tokharestan Vanessa Van Renterghem in Chapter 5 challenges the long held view that the Seljuq takeover of Baghdad represented a liberation of the Abbasid caliphs from their burden some subordination to the heretical Buyids Alexey Khismatulin in Chapter 6 presents a forensic examination of two important works of literature casting doubt on the authorship of both the Siyar al muluAZk attributed to NizaAZm al Mulk and the NasAZhat al muluAZk ascribed to al GhazaAZIAZ In Chapter 7 Asghar Seyed Gohrab discusses the poetry of the Ghaznavid and Seljuq periods demonstrating the poets mastery of metaphor and of extended description and riddling to build suspense The final chapter by Robert Hillenbrand shifts the focus from texts and literature to architecture and to that pre eminent Seljuq masterpiece the Friday Mosque of Isfaha
