The Outsiders: Poets of Contemporary Ireland Frank Kersnowski, 1975 The Outsiders Frank L. Kersnowski, 1986 Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Canon Kenneth Keating, 2017-03-27 This book makes an important intervention into debates about influence and contemporary Irish poetry Supported throughout by incisive reflections upon allusion word choice and formal structure Keating brings to the discussion a range of new and lesser known voices which decisively complicate and illuminate its pronounced concerns with inheritance history and the Irish poetic canon Steven Matthews Professor of English Literature University of Reading UK and author of Irish Poetry Politics History Negotiation and Yeats As Precursor This book is about the way that contemporary Irish poetry is dominated and shaped by criticism It argues that critical practices tend to construct reductive singular and static understandings of poetic texts identities careers and maps of the development of modern Irish poetry This study challenges the attempt present within such criticism to arrest stabilize and diffuse the threat multiple alternative histories and understandings of texts would pose to the formation of any singular pyramidal canon Offered here are detailed close readings of the recent work of some of the most established and high profile Irish poets such as Paul Muldoon and Medbh McGuckian along with emerging poets to foreground an alternative critical methodology which undermines the traditional canonical pursuit of singular meaning and definition through embracing the troubling indeterminacy and multiplicity to be found within contemporary Irish poetry

The Outsiders Frank L. Kersnowski, 1975 Irish Literature Mary Ketsin, 2004 Irish literature s roots have been traced to the 7th 9th century This is a rich and hardy literature starting with descriptions of the brave deeds of kings saints and other heroes These were followed by generous veins of religious historical genealogical scientific and other works The development of prose poetry and drama raced along with the times Modern well known Irish writers include William Yeats James Joyce Sean Casey George Bernard Shaw Oscar Wilde John Synge and Samuel Beckett Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Pastoral Tradition Donna L. Potts, 2012-01-01 In Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Pastoral Tradition Donna L Potts closely examines the pastoral genre in the work of six Irish poets writing today Through the exploration of the poets and their works she reveals the wide range of purposes that pastoral has served in both Northern Ireland and the Republic a postcolonial critique of British imperialism a response to modernity industrialization and globalization a way of uncovering political and social repercussions of gendered representations of Ireland and more recently a means for conveying environmentalism s more complex understanding of the value of nature Potts traces the pastoral back to its origins in the work of Theocritus of Syracuse in the third century and plots its evolution due to cultural changes While all pastoral poems share certain generic traits Potts makes clear that pastorals are shaped by social and historical contexts and Irish pastorals in particular were influenced by Ireland s unique relationship with the land language and industrialization due to England s colonization For her discussion Potts has chosen six poets who have written significant collections of pastoral poetry and whose work is in dialogue with both the pastoral tradition and other contemporary pastoral poets Three poets are men John Montague Seamus Heaney Michael Longley while three are women Eavan Boland Medbh McGuckian Nuala N Dhomhnaill Five are English language authors while the sixth N Dhomhnaill writes in Irish Additionally some of the poets hail from the Republic while others originate from Northern Ireland Potts contends that while both Irish Republic and Northern Irish poets respond to a shared history of British colonization in their pastorals the 1921 partition of the country caused the pastoral tradition to evolve differently on either side of the border primarily because of the North s more rapid industrialization its more heavily Protestant population whose response to environmentalism was somewhat different than that of the Republic s predominantly Catholic population as well the greater impact of the world wars and the Irish Troubles In an important distinction from other studies of Irish poetry Potts moves beyond the influence of history and politics on contemporary Irish pastoral poetry to consider the relatively recent influence of ecology Contemporary Irish poets often rely on the motif of the pastoral retreat to highlight various environmental threats to those retreats whether they be high rises motorways global warming or acid rain Potts concludes by speculating on the future of pastoral in contemporary Irish poetry through her examination of more recent poets including Moya Cannon and Paula Meehan as well as other genres such as film drama and fiction

Governing the Tongue in Northern Ireland Shane Alcobia-Murphy, 2008-12-11 How free is the Northern Irish writer to produce even a short poem when every word will be scrutinised for its political subtext Is the visual artist compelled to react to the latest atrocity Must the creative artist be aware of his or her own inculcated prejudices and political affiliations and must these be revealed overtly in the artwork Because of these and other related questions the recent work by Northern Irish writers and visual artists has been characterised by an inward looking self consciousness It is an art that relays its personal responses in guarded often coded ways Characterised by obliquity and self reflexivity the art does not simply re present events and the artist s emotive response towards them rather it calls attention to the manner of its presentation It is an art about art and its role and place in society Governing the Tongue examines how the creation of art in a time of violence brings about an anxiety in the Northern Irish artist regarding his or her artistic role and how it calls into question the ability to represent events The series of essays is inter disciplinary in its approach exploring the place of art its role and location in the work of key Northern Irish writers Ciaran Carson Seamus Deane Brian Friel Seamus Heaney Michael Longley Medbh McGuckian Eoin McNamee Glenn Patterson and visual artists Willie Doherty Rita Donagh Paul Seawright Victor Sloan      Literature and Culture in Northern Ireland Since 1965 Richard Kirkland,2016-07-01 This study considers writing within the cultural context of Northern Ireland and discusses how writing creates a sense of community and the different forms this takes when written from loyalist or republican perspectives The book takes its major theoretical energy from readings of Antonio Gramsci s concept of hegemony and Walter Benjamin s work on historiography these are applied to major writers such as Seamus Heaney Tom Paulin Paul Muldoon and Edna Longley and to institutions such as the Ulster Folk and Transport Museum      The Cambridge Companion to Contemporary Irish Poetry Matthew Campbell,2003-08-28 In

Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society María Amor Barros-del Río, 2024-07-19 Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society examines the transcultural patterns that have been enriching Irish literature since the twentieth century and engages with the ongoing dialogue between contemporary Irish literature and society Driven by the growing interest in transcultural studies in the humanities this volume provides an insightful analysis of how Irish literature handles the delicate balance between authenticity and folklore and uniformisation and diversity in an increasingly globalised world Following a diachronic approach the volume includes critical readings of canonical Irish literature as an uncharted exchange of intercultural dialogues The text also explores the external and internal transcultural traits present in recent Irish literature and its engagement with social injustice and activism and discusses location and mobility as vehicles for cultural transfer and the advancement of the women's movement A final section also includes an examination of literary expressions of hybridisation diversity and assimilation to scrutinise negotiations of new transcultural identities In the light of the compiled contributions the volume ends with a revisitation of Irish studies in a world in which national identity has become increasingly problematic This volume presents new insights into the fictional engagement of contemporary Irish literature with political social and economic issues and its efforts to accommodate the local and the global resulting in a reshaping of national collective imaginaries Contemporary Irish Women Poets Alexander G. Gonzalez, 1999-09-30 So many male critics have attacked Ireland's contemporary women poets whether through hostile reviews outright silence or condescending praise that the impression has been created that very few men appreciate these women's poetry Gonzalez has produced the first book ever to appear in Irish studies in which men make it a point to praise literature written by Irish women Included are two essays studying the structure of Eavan Boland's poetry sequences some close readings of Medbh McGuckian's most challenging poems and the first formal scholarly pieces ever devoted exclusively to Paula Meehan Rita Ann Higgins and Mary O'Malley Additional chapters treat the works of Eilean Ni Chuilleanain and Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill Women poets have made substantial contributions to Irish literature particularly in the last few decades However so many male critics have attacked Ireland's women poets whether through hostile reviews outright silence or condescending praise that the impression has been created that very few men appreciate these women's poetry With some notable exceptions most academic appraisals by men have been less than enthusiastic Many women also point to the treatment these poets receive in various anthologies which typically include only token portions of literature written by women In his book Gonzalez has responded to these slights by offering a forum to a significant number of men to express their highest praise for Ireland's women poets. Until now no book has ever appeared in Irish studies in which men make it a point to praise literature written by Irish women. In this book Gonzalez includes two essays on each of Ireland's best known women poets: Eavan Boland, Eilean Ni Chuilleanain, Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill and Medbh McGuckian. Three other essays are the first formal scholarly pieces entirely dedicated to Paula Meehan, Rita Ann Higgins or Mary O'Malley. In his pioneering effort, Gonzalez helps establish the place of these contemporary women poets in the Irish literary canon, corrects the popular misconception that male critics are unresponsive to their works and encourages further exploration of Irish women poets by male scholars and critics.

Contemporary Irish Writing and Environmentalism Donna L. Potts, 2018-09-19. This book examines how the Irish environmental movement, which began gaining momentum in the 1970s, has influenced and been addressed by contemporary Irish writers, artists and musicians. It examines Irish environmental writing, music and art within their cultural contexts, considers how postcolonial ecocriticism might usefully be applied to Ireland and analyzes the rhetoric of Irish environmental protests. It places the Irish environmental movement within the broader contexts of Irish national and postcolonial discourses, focusing on the following protests: the M3 Motorway, the Burren campaign, the Carnsore Point anti-nuclear protest, Shell to Sea, the turf debate and the animal rights movement.

Modern Irish and Scottish Poetry Peter Mackay, Edna Longley, Fran Brearton, 2011-04-14. The comparative study of the literatures of Ireland and Scotland has emerged as a distinct and buoyant field in recent years. This collection of new essays offers the first sustained comparison of modern Irish and Scottish poetry, featuring close readings of texts within broad historical and political contextualisation. Playing on influences, crossovers, connections, disconnections and differences, the affinities and opposites traced in this book cross both Irish and Scottish poetry in many directions.

Contributors include major scholars of the new archipelagic approach as well as leading Irish and Scottish poets, providing important insights into current creative practice. Poets discussed include W.B. Yeats, Hugh MacDiarmid, Sorley MacLean, Louis MacNeice, Edwin Morgan, Douglas Dunn, Seamus Heaney, Ian Hamilton Finlay, Michael Longley, Medbh McGuckian, Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill, Don Paterson and Kathleen Jamie. This book is a major contribution to our understanding of poetry from these islands in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries.

The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Poetry Fran Brearton, Alan Gillis, 2012-10-25. Forty chapters written by leading scholars across the world describe the latest thinking on modern Irish poetry. The Handbook begins with a consideration of Yeats's early work and the legacy of the 19th century. The broadly chronological areas which follow, covering the period from the 1910s through to the 21st century, allow scope for coverage of key poetic voices in Ireland in their historical and political context. From the experimentalism of Beckett, MacGreevy and others of the modernist generation to the refashioning of Yeats's Ireland on the part of poets such as MacNeice, Kavanagh and Clarke, mid-century through to the controversially titled post-1969 Northern Renaissance of poetry, this volume will provide extensive coverage of the key movements of the modern period. The Handbook covers the work of, among others, Paul Durcan Thomas Kinsella Brendan Kennelly Seamus Heaney Paul Muldoon Michael Longley Medbh McGuckian and Ciaran Carson The thematic sections interspersed throughout chapters on women s poetry religion translation painting music stylistics allow for comparative studies of poets north and south across the century Central to the guiding spirit of this project is the Handbook s consideration of poetic forms and a number of essays explore the generic diversity of poetry in Ireland its various manipulations reinventions and sometimes repudiations of traditional forms The last essays in the book examine the work of a new generation of poets from Ireland concentrating on work published in the last two decades by Justin Quinn Leontia Flynn Sinead Morrissey David Wheatley Vona Groarke and others Handlist of Work in Progress Royal Irish Academy.
