the Pacific War Historically the book reveals new knowledge about the overall defense strategies used in the Pacific Karst defenses were a central component of Pacific War defense and were constructed and used by civilians the Japanese military and U S troops as early as 1942 Karst defenses also functioned as command posts hospitals shelters storage units and combat positions The book sheds light on the social aspects that influenced the construction and use of karst defenses including the fragmented relationship between the Imperial Japanese Navy and the Imperial Japanese Army the social status of civilians under Japanese rule and the clandestine plans of the U S in Micronesia The book also discusses the complex contemporary meanings of this dark shared heritage

On the Ocean Barry Cunliffe,2017-09-29 For humans the sea is and always has been an alien environment Ever moving and ever changing in mood it is a place without time in contrast to the land which is fixed and scarred by human activity giving it a visible history While the land is familiar even reassuring the sea is unknown and threatening By taking to the sea humans put themselves at its mercy It has often been perceived to be an alien power teasing and cajoling The sea may give but it takes Why then did humans become seafarers Part of the answer is that we are conditioned by our genetics to be acquisitive animals we like to acquire rare materials and we are eager for esoteric knowledge and society rewards us well for both Looking out to sea most will be curious as to what is out there a mysterious island perhaps but what lies beyond Our innate inquisitiveness drives us to explore Barry Cunliffe looks at the development of seafaring on the Mediterranean and the Atlantic two contrasting seas the Mediterranean without a significant tide enclosed and soon to become familiar the Atlantic with its frightening tidal ranges an ocean without end We begin with the Middle Palaeolithic hunter gatherers in the eastern Mediterranean building simple vessels to make their remarkable crossing to Crete and we end in the early years of the sixteenth century with sailors from Spain Portugal and England establishing the limits of the ocean from Labrador to Patagonia The message is that the contest between humans and the sea has been a driving force perhaps the driving force in human history
