signing of the treaty between Moscow and the Chinese Communist Party in 1950 It also looks at China's relationship with Moscow from 1920 to 1945 as well as developments from 1950 to the present The author reevaluates existing sources and literature on the topic and demonstrates that the alliance was reached despite disagreements and distrust on both sides and was not an inevitable conclusion He also shows that the relationship between the two Communist parties was based on national interest politics and not on similar ideological convictions
