

Scene 1

[KANGAROO, WOMBAT and KOOKABURRA are sitting on stage in different places. A plain-looking LIZARD sits towards the front of the stage. PLATYPUS skips onto the stage, pirouetting and stopping every now and then to preen himself and admire his reflection in the water.]

NARRATOR: Long, long ago, when the earth was new and animals newly made, there lived a handsome creature called Platypus. He was half bird, half mammal. He had the beak of a bird and the feet of a graceful bird.

His face was exquisite, with large soft eyes. He had long soft fur that shimmered and shone with all the colours of the rainbow. His body was roly-poly round and his tail long and exceedingly bushy.

PLATYPUS: [Looking at LIZARD pitifully] No other animal has my rainbow fur, my delicate beak, my dainty feet. Oh, and my beautiful eyes! How handsome am I! I'm so cool.

NARRATOR: Some days, he craved the company of other animals. Not because he was lonely, oh no, but because he wanted to hear them tell how good looking he was – and to criticise them.

PLATYPUS: [Looking at WOMBAT] Wombat, don't you wish you had my gorgeous tail?

WOMBAT: Well, Platypus, if I had your tail, which is indeed gorgeous, I would have to dig a much longer entrance to my burrow to accommodate it.

PLATYPUS: [Turning to face KANGAROO] Kangaroo, your legs are far too large for your body. Wouldn't you look better with my fine limbs?

KANGAROO: Your legs are indeed the envy of all, but don't you see that I need big legs to jump the way I do? [Jumps away, angrily]

Economies of Early Modern Drama Anne Enderwitz,2023-09-29 This book provides new insights into how theatre responded to changing economic practices and structures It reviews discourses on household management and commerce to create a rich context for the discussion of socio economic actions and transactions in Macbeth Othello and Timon of Athens as well as in city comedies by Ben Jonson and Thomas Middleton By approaching discourses on economy and commerce as complementary the book opens up a diverse field of socio economic practices including the gendered division of duties in the household new modes of valuation and evolving credit instruments Theatre provides unique access to this field In contrast to practical and policy oriented discourses it addresses socio economic change and its vicissitudes in a spirit of experimentation testing the ethical limits of socio economic action and accustoming audiences to the demands of a changing socio economic reality Theatre thus offers a vital contribution to the prehistory of political economy On the London stages self interest emerges as a key motive of socio economic action and theatre playfully explores its ambiguous status as a partly rational and partly excessive force that has a new ordering function but also creates social conflict At the same time by staging the contradictory demands of ethics and efficiency in economic decision making early modern plays offer access to a changing understanding of prudence that has a Machiavellian touch by aligning with the pursuit of private interest prudence sheds some of its ethical content and becomes foremost an instrumental faculty

Towards a Poetics of the Mental Health Play Anja Drautzburg, 2020 This study traces key developments in theatre's engagement with mental health since the 1970s It introduces and applies the concept of the mental health play as accurate and timely in addressing the way mental distress and mental illness have been brought to the stage The study argues that the theatre is a central calibrator for reflecting developments and tensions in as well as attitudes towards mental health care and thus opens up a domain that still has stereotypes and myths attached to it Theatre's representations of mental distress inform and shape cultural production and vice versa Mental health plays are central in encouraging and fostering conversations about mental health and they thus intervene in ongoing debates Due to its interdisciplinary approach this study contributes to and extends existing research in multiple fields including theatre and science performance studies and the medical humanities
