

Participant Observation

Participant observation is a principal research method in anthropology where anthropologists immerse themselves in the daily lives of people they study. By taking part in the community's life, they observe and record data about social phenomena, providing a deep and holistic understanding of a given culture or society.

Alexseev, Sufian N. Zhemukhov, 2017-07-14 Under what conditions does in group pride facilitate out group tolerance What are the causal linkages between intergroup tolerance and socialization in religious rituals This book examines how Muslims from Russia s North Caucasus returned from the Hajj pilgrimage to Mecca both more devout as Muslims and more tolerant of out groups Drawing on prominent theories of identity and social capital the authors resolve seeming contradictions between the two literatures by showing the effects of religious rituals that highlight within group diversity at the same time that they affirm the group s common identity This theory is then applied to explain why social integration of Muslim immigrants has been more successful in the USA than in Europe and how the largest Hispanic association in the US defied the clash of civilizations theory by promoting immigrants integration into America s social mainstream The book offers insights into Islam s role in society and politics and the interrelationships between religious faith immigration and ethnic identity and tolerance that will be relevant to both scholars and practitioners Youth Smoking Behavior Characteristics and Their Educational Implications Jean M. Creswell, William H. Creswell, 1970 Qualitative Methods in Psychology: a Research Guide Peter Banister, Geoff Bunn, Erica Burman, John Daniels, Paul Duckett, Dan Goodley, Rebecca Lawthom, Ian Parker, Katherine Runswick-Cole, Judith Sixsmith, Sophie Smailes, Carol Tindall, Pauline Whelan, 2011-10-16 Providing an
