The Passion of Ingmar Bergman Frank Gado,1986

Acknowledged as one of the greatest filmmakers of this or any other time Bergman has with few exceptions written his own screenplays an uncommon practice in the film industry and for this practice critics refer to him as a literary filmmaker In this work Gado examines virtually the entire range of Bergman s literary output While treating the matter of the visual presentation of Bergman s films Gado concentrates on story and narrative and their relationship to Bergman s personal history Gado concludes that whatever the outward appearance of Bergman s works they contain an elementary psychic fantasy that links them all revealing an artist who hoped to be a dramatist the new Strindberg and who saw the camera as an extension of his pen Passion of Anna Bibi Andersson,Ingmar Bergman,Max von Sydow,Liv Ullmann,2004 Ingmar

A Companion to Ingmar Bergman Daniel Humphrey,Hamish Ford,2025-02-25 The first book in English to address Ingmar Bergman s cinema through a broad array of classical and contemporary approaches Widely acclaimed around the world from the mid 1950s to the early 1980s Ingmar Bergman s films were often considered outmoded by the turn of the last century as exemplars of a long gone European art cinema However in more recent years his work has been reconsidered with fresh eyes recognized as speaking to global audiences about ideas of contemporary relevance such as the dysfunctions of personal romantic and family relations gender performance and sexual identity social engagement and alienation questions of racial difference and power living with and articulating challenges to mental health and the causes thereof questions of religious belief or values and their secular replacements the reality and guilt of Scandinavian and European privilege and the challenges of morally vertiginous daily life for subjects born of ever later modernity A Companion to Ingmar Bergman brings together 32 original essays by established scholars and exciting new voices in the field Representing a uniquely wide range of approaches in academic film studies and beyond the chapters that make up the volume illuminate a body of work that changed the way cinema is created defined experienced understood and interpreted Thematically organized into four parts the Companion discusses gender exploration and self representation in Bergman s cinema draws evolutionary insights from The Seventh Seal explores existential feelings and religious iconography in the early 1960s trilogy journeys through the filmmaker s island landscape in the context of cinematic tourism and much more Throughout the book hailing from a range of global contexts and backgrounds the authors provide fresh insights into a deeply complex and challenging film artist often from unexpected perspectives An innovative mixture of new scholarship and fresh updated employments of older approaches A Companion to Ingmar Bergman Examines Bergman s cinema through methodologies as diverse as Film Philosophy Star Studies Bisexual Studies Tourism Studies Transgender Studies and Evolutionary Studies Applies recent and contemporary theories such as Affect Theory Queer Theory and Neo Formalism to Bergman s films Delves into the director s early period in the late 1940s 1950s through his most challenging modernist period in the 1960s and into the 1980s Analyzes seminal films such as The Virgin Spring and Cries and Whispers from wholly new perspectives Engages with films long considered problematic by commentators plus unproduced Bergman screenplays including All These Women The Petrified Prince Face to Face and From the Life of the Marionettes A Companion to Ingmar Bergman is a must read for advanced undergraduate and graduate film students postgraduate scholars college and university lecturers and researchers particularly those interested in the application of classical and modern approaches to the study of twentieth century cinema and Bergman fans around the world

Searching for Wisdom In Movies Richard

Gilmore,2016-10-12 In this volume Richard Gilmore explores film as a channel through which to engage in philosophical reflection and analyzes the relationship between philosophy and film This book argues that philosophy and film can and should be used for the amelioration of life s difficulties and the promotion of life s boons Gilmore identifies how philosophy and film complement and enrich one another and explores their relationship by connecting classic wisdom texts to significant movies For example the volume analyzes the Coen brothers films The Big Lebowski and A Serious Man in light of The Book of Job Gilmore considers the ancient idea of philosophy as spiritual exercise and a way of life The volume concludes by examining what the author labels sublime conversations as the highest expression of philosophy The book identifies and dissects these conversations in movies directed by the likes of Robert Bresson Yasujir Ozu Jean Luc Godard and Ingmar Bergman among others

The Medieval Filmscape William F. Woods,2014-01-23 This book is an attempt at defining the genre of medieval film by describing its features and analyzing its effects and their significance there being few works presently available that work toward such definition There are three parts the introduction enters the medieval film world describing its typical features and showing how they create a convincing sense of its time three short chapters discuss authenticity simplicity and spectacle the roots of film medievalism and six longer chapters comment on individual films Works are discussed that extend the reach of the genre such as Dreyer s La Passion de Jeanne d Arc with its emotional range or Bergman s Seventh Seal which creates a universal symbolism The author describes what goes into a medieval film and how it affects its audience while offering suggestions about why its themes are meaningful to us

Progress in Self Psychology, V. 19 Mark J. Gehrie, 2013-05-13 The contributors to Explorations in Self Psychology volume 19 of the Progress in Self Psychology series wrestle with two interrelated questions at the nexus of contemporary discussions of technique How authentic and relationally invested should the self psychologically informed analyst be and what role should self disclosure play in the treatment process The responses to these questions embrace the full range of clinical possibilities Dudley and Walker argue that empathically based interpretation precludes self disclosure whereas Miller argues in favor of authentic self expression and against the self psychologist s frustrating attempt to decenter from frustration or anger Consideration of the utility of a consistently empathic stance continues with Weisel Barth s clinical presentation and the discussions that it elicits about management of her patient s primary destructiveness Lenoff s critical rereading of Kohut s Examination of the Relationship Between Mode of Observation and Theory and Rieveschl self psychological work with adolescents and Neville Symington s theory of narcissism Contributions to applied analysis explore topics as diverse as an exchange of dreams between John Adams and Benjamin Rush Mann s Death in Venice the films of Ingmar Bergman psychotherapy of the elderly and disabilities in the sensory motor integration in children And Volume 19 concludes with Constance Goldberg s candid and enlightening reminiscence of Heinz Kohut a very complex man with whom to be in a relationship

Gender, Power, and Identity in The Films of Stanley Kubrick Karen A. Ritzenhoff, Dijana Metlić, Jeremi

Szaniawski,2022-10-21 This volume features a set of thought provoking and long overdue approaches to situating Stanley Kubrick s films in contemporary debates around gender race and age with a focus on women s representations Offering new historical and critical perspectives on Kubrick s cinema the book asks how his work should be viewed bearing in mind issues of gender equality sexual harassment and abuse The authors tackle issues such as Kubrick s at times questionable relationships with his actresses and former wives the dynamics of power misogyny and miscegenation in his films and auteur apologism among others The selections delineate these complex contours of Kubrick s work by drawing on archival sources engaging in close readings of specific films and exploring Kubrick through unorthodox venture points With an interdisciplinary scope and social justice centered focus this book offers new perspectives on a well established area of study It will appeal to scholars and upper level students of film studies media studies gender studies and visual culture as well as to fans of the director interested in revisiting his work from a new perspective

Historical Dictionary of Scandinavian Cinema John Sundholm,Isak Thorsen,Lars Gustaf Andersson,Olof Hedling,Gunnar Iversen,Birgir Thor Møller,2012-09-20 Although relatively small the northern countries of Scandinavia have made a disproportionately large contribution to world cinema Indeed some of their films are among the best known of all times including The Seventh Seal Dancer in the Dark and The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo And Scandinavian directors are also among the best known just to mention Ingmar Bergman and Lars von Trier But there is much more to the cinema of Denmark Norway Sweden Finland and Iceland than that and this book shows us what they have been accomplishing over more than a century from the beginnings of cinema until the present The Historical Dictionary of Scandinavian Cinema shows just how long and busy this history has been in the chronology starting in 1896 The introduction then describes the situation in each one of the component countries all of which approached and developed the field in a similar but also slightly different manner The dictionary section with over 400 substantial entries looks at the situation in greater detail with over 400 substantial entries on major actors directors and others significant films various genres and themes and subjects such as animation ethnicity migration and censorship Given its contribution to world cinema it is good to finally have an encyclopedia like this which can meet the interests of the scholar and researcher but also the movie fan

The Reel Middle Ages Kevin J. Harty,2015-08-13 Those tales of old King Arthur Robin Hood The Crusades Marco Polo Joan of Arc have been told and retold and the tradition of their telling has been gloriously upheld by filmmaking from its very inception From the earliest of Georges Melies s films in 1897 to a 1996 animated Hunchback of Notre Dame film has offered not just fantasy but exploration of these roles so vital to the modern psyche St Joan has undergone the transition from peasant girl to self assured saint and Camelot has transcended the soundstage to evoke the Kennedys in the White House Here is the first comprehensive survey of more than 900 cinematic depictions of the European Middle Ages date of production country of origin director production company cast and a synopsis and commentary A bibliography index and over 100 stills complete this remarkable work

Bion in Film Theory and

Analysis Carla Ambrósio Garcia, 2016-12-01 In Bion in Film Theory and Analysis The Retreat in Film Carla Ambrósio Garcia introduces the rich potential of the thinking of British psychoanalyst Wilfred Bion for film theory By so doing she rethinks the space of the cinema as a space of retreat and brings new insights into the representation of retreat in film Presented in two parts the book seeks to deepen our understanding of the film experience and psychical growth Part I places Bion's view on the importance of the epistemophilic instinct at the heart of a critique of the pleasure centred theories of the cinematic apparatus of Jean Louis Baudry Christian Metz and Gaylyn Studlar proposing an idea of cinema as thoughts in search of a thinker Garcia then moves from Bion's epistemological period to his later work which draws on mysticism in order to posit an emotional experience in the cinema through which the subject can be or become real or at one with O Part II examines representations of retreat in four European films directed by Ingmar Bergman Pier Paolo Pasolini Georges Perec and Bernard Queysanne and Manoel de Oliveira showing them to articulate a gesture of retreat as an emotionally turbulent transitional stage in the development of the psyche what Bion conceptualizes as caesura Through its investigation of the retreat in cinema the book challenges common understandings of retreat as a regressive movement by presenting it as a gesture and space that can also be future oriented Bion in Film Theory and Analysis will be of significant interest to academics and students of psychoanalysis psychotherapy and film and media studies as well as psychoanalysts and psychotherapists

Apocalyptic Dread Kirsten Moana Thompson, 2012-02-01 In Apocalyptic Dread Kirsten Moana Thompson examines how fears and anxieties about the future are reflected in recent American cinema Through close readings of such films as Cape Fear Candyman Dolores Claiborne Se7en Signs and War of the Worlds Thompson argues that a longstanding American apocalyptic tradition permeates our popular culture spreading from science fiction and disaster films into horror crime and melodrama Drawing upon Kierkegaard's notion of dread that is a fundamental anxiety and ambivalence about existential choice and the future Thompson suggests that the apocalyptic dread revealed in these films and its guiding tropes of violence retribution and renewal also reveal deep seated anxieties about historical fragmentation and change anxieties that are in turn displaced onto each film's particular monster whether human demonic or eschatological A Knight at the Movies

Sisters on Screen Eva Rueschmann, 2000 Perhaps the most vital emotionally complex and lasting attachments between women occur between sisters Whether as best friends or antagonists sisters remain entangled in a common tapestry of mutual experience and remembrance family and history according to author Eva Rueschmann Although many of the women centered films in the last three decades depict the relationship between sisters as a pivotal aspect of a character's psychological development the now substantial body of feminist film criticism has not taken up this theme in any sustained way In Sisters on Screen Eva Rueschmann explores the sister bond in a wide range of modernist feature films that depart from the conventional cinematic rendering of women's lives Drawing on the psychoanalytic concept of intersubjectivity this book emphasizes the role of a woman's relationship and inner world in her continual quest for self knowledge Offering an original and absorbing perspective on women's filmic images Sisters on Screen reveals how post 1960s cinema has articulated the ways in which biological sisters negotiate mutuality and difference co author family histories and profoundly shape each other's political and personal identities The films in focus question standards of femininity as they probe into memory fantasy and desire bringing women's realities into view in the process Structuring her discussion in terms of life cycle stages adolescence and adulthood Rueschmann offers an in depth discussion of such films as An Angel at My Table Double Happiness Eve's Bayou Gas Food Lodging Heavenly Creatures Little Women Marianne and Julianne Paura e amore Peppermint Soda The Silence Sweetie and Welcome to the Dollhouse Rueschmann draws upon the works of filmmakers from the 1970s to the 1990s Some of the directors included in her study are Allison Anders Gillian Armstrong Ingmar Bergman Jane Campion Peter Jackson Mina Shum Diane Kurys Kasi Lemmons Todd Solondz and Margarethe von Trotta Sisters on Screen will appeal to anyone interested in women's studies film studies psychology psychoanalytic readings of cinema women directors and international modern film Author note Eva Rueschmann is Assistant Professor of Cultural Studies at Hampshire College

Cinema, Philosophy, Bergman Paisley Livingston, 2009-07-02 The increasingly popular idea that cinematic fictions can do philosophy raises some difficult questions Who is actually doing the philosophizing Is it the philosophical commentator who reads general arguments or theories into the stories conveyed by a film Could it be the film maker or a group of collaborating film makers who raise and try to answer philosophical questions with a film Is there something about the experience of films that is especially suited to the stimulation of worthwhile philosophical reflections In the first part of this book Paisley Livingston surveys positions and arguments surrounding the cinema's philosophical value. He raises criticisms of bold theses in this area and defends a moderate view of film's possible contributions to philosophy. In the second part of the book he defends an intentionalist approach that focuses on the film maker's philosophical background, assumptions, sources, and aims. Livingston outlines intentionalist interpretative principles as well as an account of authorship in cinema. The third part of the book exemplifies this intentionalist approach with reference to the work of Ingmar Bergman. Livingston explores the connection between Bergman's work and the Swedish director's primary philosophical source, a treatise in philosophical psychology authored by the Finnish philosopher Eino Kaila. Bergman proclaimed that reading this book was a tremendous philosophical experience for him and that he built on this ground. With reference to materials in the newly created Ingmar Bergman archive, Livingston shows how Bergman took up Kaila's topics in his cinematic explorations of motivated irrationality, inauthenticity, and the problem of self-knowledge.
