Crow, Larry E. Tise, 2017-10-10 Writing North Carolina History is the first book to assess fully the historical literature of North Carolina It combines the talents and insights of eight noted scholars of state and southern history William S Powell Alan D Watson Robert M Calhoon Harry L Watson Sarah M Lemmon and H G Jones Their essays are arranged in chronological order from the founding of the first English colony in North America in 1585 to the present. Traditionally, North Carolina has not received the same scholarly attention as Virginia and South Carolina despite the excellent resources available on Tar Heel history. This study derived from a symposium sponsored by the North Carolina Division of Archives and History in 1977 asks questions and describes methodologies needed to redress past neglect. Besides providing a comprehensive evaluation of what has been written about North Carolina, the essayists offer perspectives on how historians have interpreted the state's history and what directions future historians need to take. Particularly important, the book provides a bibliography and suggests opportunities for future historical investigation by discussing topics, themes, and source materials that remain untapped or underused. North Carolina's unique and colorful culture, folklore, geography, politics, and growth demand new and creative historical analysis. Collectively, the authors and editors of Writing North Carolina History offer a welcome, necessary guide to the study of Tar Heel history. UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print. On Jordan's Stormy Banks Rich Kirby, Guy Carawan, Candy Carawan, Will Campbell, Paul Gillespie, Keith Head, Claude Williams, Thelma Stevens, Lee Howard, Ron Short, Horace Newcomb, Janet Rechtman, Pam Durban, Bob Arnold, John Gaventa, Trying to describe the religious folk music of the Southern mountains is a little like trying to organize the church itself: songs like people just will not line up quietly in neat rows. Still, there are patterns in this varied and vital tradition, and searching for them reveals as well as anything can the intensity of religious feeling that has always been part of mountain life. Religious singing in the mountains flourished with the wave of revivals that has swept the region in the last two hundred years. The emotional intensity of these movements combined with the strong musical traditions of the area to produce some of America's most powerful music. It is true folk music, home-made music that people use in their everyday lives to express their deepest feelings. Old House Interiors, 2007-05 National architectural magazine now in its fifteenth year, covering period inspired design 1700-1950. Commissioned photographs show real homes inspired by the past but livable. Historical and interpretive rooms are included; new construction additions and new kitchens and baths take their place along with restoration work. A feature on furniture appears in every issue. Product coverage is extensive. Experts offer advice for homeowners and designers on finishing, decorating, and furnishing period homes of every era. A garden feature, essays, archival material, events, and exhibitions, and book reviews round out the editorial. Many readers claim the beautiful advertising, all of it design related, no lifestyle ads, is as important to them as the articles. My Roman History Alizah Holstein, 2024-06-25 A lyrical and moving exploration of the ways in which the heart governs even the pursuit of a life of the mind. This is a book for anyone who has ever loved Rome as well as anyone who shares the experience of having found in an unfamiliar history their own unexpected home. Rebecca Mead author of My Life in Middlemarch and Home Land In this exquisite and profound memoir a medieval historian traces her lifelong obsession with Rome and the encounters with the city's past and present that became fulcrum points in her life From the time she first felt called to its gates as a high school student fascinated by Dante and Italian thanks to a life changing teacher Rome has been a fixed star around which Alizah Holstein's life has rotated despite the fact that she bears no Italian heritage and has never lived there long enough to call it home In this kaleidoscopic yet intimate memoir her shifting relationship to a vibrant city layered with human history becomes a lens on why we look to the past on the mysteries of affinity and desire and on what it means to grow up Holstein weaves the stories of Romans past and present and encounters with the city of historical figures from Petrarch to Freud into the narrative of her evolution from a curious student abuzz with the thrill of discovery to a lonely researcher in a city to which she feels she belongs despite knowing no one to an ambitious young historian struggling to find her place in the halls of academia Following a trail of memories that first taste of a tartufo cioccolato in Piazza Navona the ancient walls of the Via Appia blurring from the back of a motorcycle the smudge of ink on a manuscript left by a scribe's hand over seven hundred years before she explores what it means to be romana Roman and to find solace and self knowledge in the presence of the past An enveloping original and deeply resonant account set against one of the world's most beguiling cities of the unexpected things that give our lives meaning My Roman History is a profound depiction of the winding path to self realization which much like history itself is mysterious captivating and ever unfolding
