The Long Sexual Revolution Hera Cook, 2004-02-05 In this book Hera Cook traces the path of sexuality in England and shows how its route was determined by the gradual exertion of control over fertility Most sexual activity had major economic and social costs the most fundamental of which was the physical cost of children upon women's bodies Around 1800 birth rates reached historical heights Using a combination of demographic and qualitative sources Dr Cook examines the connection between the struggle to lower fertility and the increasing repression of sexuality throughout the nineteenth century Contraception became a viable option in the early twentieth century The book charts the resulting slow relaxation of attitudes to sexuality and the remaking of heterosexual physical behaviour culminating in the sexual revolution of the 1960s

The Irish New Woman Tina O'Toole, 2013-07-12 The Irish New Woman explores the textual and ideological connections between feminist nationalist and anti imperialist writing and political activism at the fin de si cle This is the first study which foregrounds the Irish and New Woman contexts effecting a paradigm shift in the critical reception of fin de siècle writers and their work Victorian Sexual Dissidence Richard Dellamora, 2019-04-08 Recent critical and historical work on the late Victorian period has furnished a vocabulary for discussing gender and sexuality. These popular terms include categories such as homo/hetero/patriarchal/feminist and masculine/effeminate. This collection exploits this framework while refining and resisting it in places to show how certain Victorians imagined difference in ways that continue to challenge us today. One essay, for example, traces the remarkable feminist appropriation of male-identified fields of study such as Classical philology. Others address the validation of male bodies as objects of desire in writing, painting, and emergent modernist choreography. The writings shed light on the diverse interests served by a range of cultural practitioners and on the complex ways in which the late Victorians invented themselves as modern subjects. This volume will be essential reading for students of British literary and cultural history as well as for those interested in feminist, gay, and lesbian studies. Contributors are Oliver Buckton, Richard Dellamora, Dennis Denisoff, Regenia Gagnier, Eric Haralson, Andrew Hewitt, Christopher Lane, Thomas Morgan, Yopie Prins, Kathy Alexis Psomiades, Julia Saville, Robert Sulzer Jr., Martha Vicinus.
