Spirituality Of The Medieval West The Eighth To The Twelfth Century Paperback:

The Spirituality of the Medieval West André Vauchez, 1993 Defining spirituality as the dynamic unity between the content of a faith and the way in which it is lived by historically determined human beings Vauchez steps outside the clerical world usually studied to trace the religious mentality of the laity the ordinary and often illiterate majority of Christians By Way of Grace Paula Huston, 2010-06 Before living waters can flow we must admit our thirst One morning in a hermitage nestled in California's lovely Big Sur country Paula Huston read a Scripture verse that she had read hundreds of times before Let anyone who thirsts come to me and drink This time however the verse penetrated her heart as never before Much had happened to her in the preceding years a return to Christianity a conversion to Catholicism a choice for a radically simplified life an increasing hunger for prayer and the Eucharist Now Huston understood that all these things were just the beginning God was calling her to a deeper experience of holiness an experience that would require arduous work and the simplest surrender By Way of Grace is Huston's beautifully written and compelling account of what she learned during her journey into a deeper faith She gained a keen sense of the profound challenge that orthodox Christianity presents to the secular mind set she had uncritically absorbed Her journey also took her deep into a study of the lives and writings of the great saints of the Catholic mystical tradition where she was spiritually strengthened by the Christian virtues of prudence temperance fortitude justice humility faith hope and love Most important she discovered that Jesus call to come to me and drink is an invitation that will fully satisfy a yearning heart This book reveals the essential simplicity of holiness and how we can by way of grace know love and serve God Faith through Grace I felt sad about the years I'd spent trying to cobble together a belief that I could live with I'd been predisposed to unbelief and as with all types of unexamined cultural mind sets I was blind to this fact until I began to compare my way of thinking with the thinking of orthodox Christianity Only then did I discover the truth religious faith is not comforting as atheists so often accuse but hard In order to keep it we must nourish it and protect it otherwise it will be blown away by the changing winds of fashion More we must never forget that this virtue comes through grace The beauty of faith is its deep root in love the very love I'd been so fervently seeking when I set out on my six year spiritual search and the love I'd met in person at the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem In that moment I'd been brought face to face with the witness himself whose testimony undergirds twenty centuries of Christian belief And I'd found him to be just as described slow to anger and abounding in love From By Way of Grace Saints and virtues in this book St Basil on prudence the art of seeing clearly St Gregory on temperance the art of holding a balance St Bernard of Clairvaux on fortitude the art of courageous continuing St Thomas Aquinas on justice the art of forgiving St Teresa of Avila on humility the art of honest self appraisal St Francis de Sales on faith the art of believing in things unseen St Therese of Lisieux on hope the art of patient waiting St Teresa Benedicta of the Cross Edith Stein on charity the art of loving the enemy Studying the Life of Saint Francis of Assisi William Hugo, 2011 General readers will enjoy learning about Saint Francis in this book and how

Religion in the History of the Medieval West John Van Engen, 2023-05-31 These ten essays by John Van Engen situate religion in the history of medieval Western Europe as an unavoidable presence in everyday life as a conceptual framework for social and political life as a force integral to its historical dynamics Four of the essays are bibliographical and retrospective in nature reviewing the field broadly but also pointing toward a more dialectical approach to understanding the interaction of religion and society in the European middle ages Other studies deal with large topics usually subsumed under the abstract term Christianization They grapple with learned sources as well as those associated with popular religion and show what can be gained from an imaginative use of all that lawyers and theologians said about religion in their society The essays finally look for the quality and dynamic of change even inventiveness released by religious action and conviction in medieval European society

Sensible Ecstasy Amy Hollywood, 2002 Sensible Ecstasy investigates the attraction to excessive forms of mysticism among twentieth century French intellectuals and demonstrates the work that the figure of the mystic does for these thinkers With special attention to Georges Bataille Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Lacan and Luce Irigaray Amy Hollywood asks why resolutely secular even anti Christian intellectuals are drawn to affective bodily and widely denigrated forms of mysticism What is particular to these thinkers Hollywood reveals is their attention to forms of mysticism associated with women They regard mystics such as Angela of Foligno Hadewijch and Teresa of Avila not as emotionally excessive or escapist but as unique in their ability to think outside of the restrictive oppositions that continue to afflict our understanding of subjectivity the body and sexual difference Mystics such as these like their twentieth century descendants bridge the gaps between action and contemplation emotion and reason and body and soul offering new ways of thinking about language and the limits of representation

Medieval Foundations of the Western Intellectual Tradition, 400-1400 Marcia L. Colish, 1997-01-01 This magisterial book is an analysis of the course of Western intellectual history between A D 400 and 1400 The book is arranged in two parts the first surveys the comparative modes of thought and varying success of Byzantine Latin Christian and Muslim cultures and the second takes the reader from the eleventh century revival of learning to the high Middle Ages and beyond the period in which the vibrancy of Western intellectual culture enabled it to stamp its imprint well beyond the frontiers of Christendom Marcia Colish argues that the foundations of the Western intellectual tradition were laid in the Middle Ages and not as is commonly held in the Judeo Christian or classical periods She contends that Western medieval thinkers produced a set of tolerances tastes concerns and sensibilities that made the Middle Ages unlike other chapters of the Western intellectual experience She provides astute descriptions of the vernacular and oral culture of each country of Europe explores the nature of medieval culture and its transmission profiles seminal thinkers Augustine Anselm Gregory the Great Aquinas Ockham studies heresy from Manichaeism to Huss and Wycliffe and investigates the influence of Arab and Jewish writing on scholasticism and the resurrection of Greek studies Colish concludes with an assessment of the modes of medieval thought that ended with the period and those that remained as bases for later ages of European

Bell,2019-10-23 In the late eleventh century tens of thousands of people knights and peasants men and women priests and lords set out on a long and arduous journey to retake the holy city of Jerusalem They traveled thousands of miles across difficult terrain and into hostile territory How did they accomplish this remarkable task How did they move through such an ever changing and diverse landscape Logistics of the First Crusade Acquiring Supplies amid Chaos looks at the plans that they made and the methods they implemented to sustain themselves on this remarkable expedition in an attempt to understand how they persisted on the First Crusade The crusaders sought to implement order as they traveled moving with intent and adapting when confronted with hardship In the end they succeeded largely through their logistical perseverance The ^ABlack Jews of Africa Edith Bruder,2008-05-29 The Black Jews of Africa Edith Bruder,2008-06-05 The last several decades have seen the emergence of a remarkable phenomenon a Jewish rebirth that is occurring throughout Africa A variety of different ethnic groups proclaim that they are returning to long forgotten Jewish roots and African clans trace their lineage to the Lost Tribes of Israel Africans have encountered Jewish myths and traditions in multiple forms and various ways The context and circumstances of these encounters have gradually led within some African societies to the elaboration of a new Jewish identity connected with that of the Diaspora This book presents one by one the different groups of Black Jews in western central eastern and southern Africa and the ways in which they have used and imagined their oral history and traditional customs to construct a distinct Jewish identity It explores the ways in which Africans have interacted with the ancient mythological sub strata of both western and African ideas of Judaism It particularly seeks to identify and to assess colonial influences and their internalization by African societies in the shaping of new African religious identities The book also examines how in the absence of recorded African history the eminently malleable accounts of Jewish lineage developed by African groups co exist with the possible historical traces of a Jewish presence in Africa This elegant and well researched book goes beyond the well known case of the Falasha of Ethiopia examining the trend towards Judaism in Africa at large and exploring too the interdisciplinary concepts of metaphorical Diaspora global and transnational identities and colonization
