Spit Delaneys Island:

Spit Delaney's Island Jack Hodgins, 1976      Spit Delaney's Island Charles Tidler, Jack Hodgins, Playwrights Union of Canada, 1990      Spit Delaney's Island Jack Hodgins, 1976      Spit Delaney's Island and Lives of Girls and Women: The Experiments in Cynical Form Ian Bruce McLatchie, 1981      Spit Delaney's Island Charles Tidler, Jack Hodgins, Playwrights Union of Canada, 1990      The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story Maria Löschnigg, 2022-12-30 This volume aims to introduce undergraduates graduates and general readers to the diversity and richness of Canadian short story writing and to the narrative potential of short fiction in general Addressing a wide spectrum of forms and themes the book will familiarise readers with the development and cultural significance of Canadian short fiction from the early 19th century to the present A strong focus will be on the rich reservoir of short fiction produced in the past four decades and the way in which it has responded to the anxieties and crises of our time Drawing on current critical debates each chapter will highlight the interrelations between Canadian short fiction and historical and socio cultural developments Case studies will zoom in on specific thematic or aesthetic issues in an exemplary manner The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story will provide an accessible and comprehensive overview ideal for students and general readers interested in the multifaceted and thriving medium of the short story in Canada      An Independent Stance W. J. Keith, 1991 Part One of this strongly worded informed and wide ranging collection examines key issues for the future of Canadian criticism Part Two offers new readings of important works by Grove Wilson MacLennan Davies Laurence Hood Wiebe Hodgins and Atwood As W J Keith argues We still have a mission to have our literature recognized as an essential reflection of our national life This is what I mean by retrenchment and consolidation Literature can survive without literary criticism but it cannot survive if it is unknown and unread It is criticism s prime function at the present time to see that it is both known and read with that mature enjoyment which is a combination of emotional sensitivity and humane intelligence As critics scholars editors we shall not be fulfilling our responsibilities or justifying our existence if we attempt anything less Or as Keith modestly observes in his introduction to this collection If this book is of any interest it will be because Canadian literature is an important subject Literary commentators like myself are middle men and should be prepared to admit the fact If this book succeeds in helping readers to appreciate the works of Canadian writers that I discuss and to derive increased pleasure and insight from them it will have served its purpose I can see no other justification for it or for any other work of criticism      The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada s flagship genre It continues to attract the country s most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century. A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada, the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it. The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature. For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story. Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance, Germany.

Double-Voicing the Canadian Short Story Laurie Kruk, 2016-05-27. Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is the first comparative study of eight internationally and nationally acclaimed writers of short fiction: Sandra Birdsell, Timothy Findley, Jack Hodgins, Thomas King, Alistair MacLeod, Olive Senior, Carol Shields, and Guy Vanderhaeghe. With the 2013 Nobel Prize for Literature going to Alice Munro, the master of the contemporary short story, this art form is receiving the recognition that has been its due, and as this book demonstrates, Canadian writers have long excelled in it. From theme to choice of narrative perspective, from emphasis on irony, satire and parody to uncovering the multiple layers that make up contemporary Canadian English, the short story provides a powerful vehicle for a distinctively Canadian double voicing. The stories discussed here are compelling reflections on our most intimate roles and relationships, and Kruk offers a thoughtful juxtaposition of themes of gender, mothers and sons, family, storytelling, otherness in Canada, and the politics of identity to name but a few. As a multi-author study, Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is broad in scope, and its readings are valuable to Canadian literature as a whole, making the book of interest to students of Canadian literature or the short story, and to readers of both. Published in English.

Stories About Storytellers Douglas Gibson, 2011-10-01. The legendary Canadian book editor presents this remarkable four-decade romp through the back rooms of publishing. Toronto Sun, Scottish-born Douglas Gibson was drawn to Canada by the writing of Stephen Leacock and eventually made his way across the Atlantic to find a job in book publishing, where he edited a biography of none other than Leacock. But over the decades, his stellar career would lead him to work with many more of the country's leading literary lights. This memoir shares stories of working and playing alongside writers including Robertson Davies, Mavis Gallant, Brian Mulroney, Val Ross, W.O. Mitchell, and many more. Gibson reveals the projects he brainstormed for Barry Broadfoot, how he convinced future Nobel Prize winner Alice Munro to keep writing short stories, his early morning phone call from a former prime minister, and his recollection of yanking a manuscript right out of Alistair MacLeod's reluctant hands, which ultimately garnered the author one of the world's most prestigious prizes for fiction. Insightful and entertaining, this collection of tales goes behind the scenes and between the covers to divulge a treasure trove of literary adventures. He makes his life in publishing sound like great fun. The Globe and Mail, Toronto.

A History of Canadian Literature W.H. New, 2003-08-06. New offers an unconventionally structured overview of Canadian literature from Native American mythologies to contemporary texts.

Publishers Weekly A History of Canadian Literature looks at the work of writers and the social and cultural contexts that helped shape their preoccupations and direct their choice of literary form W H New explains how from early records of oral tales to the writing strategies of the early twenty first century writer reader literature and society are interrelated New discusses both Aboriginal and European mythologies looking at pre Contact narratives and also at the way Contact experience altered hierarchies of literary value He then considers representations of the real whether in documentary fantasy or satire historical romance and the social construction of Nature and State and ironic subversions of power the politics of cultural form and the relevance of the media to a representation of community standard and individual voice New suggests some ways in which writers of the later twentieth century codified such issues as history gender ethnicity and literary technique itself In this second edition he adds a lengthy chapter that considers how writers at the turn of the twenty first century have reimagined their society and their roles within it and an expanded chronology and bibliography Some of these writers have spoken from and about various social margins dealing with issues of race status ethnicity and sexuality some have sought emotional understanding through strategies of history and memory some have addressed environmental concerns and some have reconstructed the world by writing across genres and across different media All genres are represented with examples chosen primarily but not exclusively from anglophone and francophone texts A chronology plates and a series of tables supplement the commentary

Difference and Community Peter Easingwood, Konrad Gross, Lynette Hunter, 1996 This volume brings together essays which suggest that the relationship between Canada and Europe is a two way process as historically the traffic between them has been either may have something to offer the other Europe too acknowledges situations today in which difference and community are hard terms to reconcile Difference refers to gender sexuality race nationality or language Community is the collective understanding which must continually be renegotiated and reconstructed among these factors The Canadian European connection is one in which it seems especially appropriate to explore such circumstances The topics covered include pioneer women s writing transcultural women s fiction canonical taxonomy of the contemporary novel the city poem in Confederate Canada poetry of the Great War various ethno cultural perspectives Jewish South Asian Italian Native reappropriations Quebec cinema literature and the media and small press publishing Some of the authors treated Sandra Birdsell Nicole Brossard Jack Hodgins Henry Kreisler Robert Kroetsch Janice Kulyk Keefer Archibald Lampman Malcolm Lowry Lesley Lum Daphne Marlatt Susanna Moodie Bharati Mukherjee Alice Munro Frank Paci and Susan Swan

Difference and Community , 2022-03-07 This volume brings together essays which suggest that the relationship between Canada and Europe is a two way process as historically the traffic between them has been either may have something to offer the other Europe too acknowledges situations today in which difference and community are hard terms to reconcile Difference refers to gender sexuality race nationality or language Community is the collective understanding which must continually be renegotiated and reconstructed among these factors The Canadian

European connection is one in which it seems especially appropriate to explore such circumstances The topics covered include pioneer women s writing transcultural women s fiction canonical taxonomy of the contemporary novel the city poem in Confederate Canada poetry of the Great War various ethno cultural perspectives Jewish South Asian Italian Native reappropriations Quebec cinema literature and the media and small press publishing Some of the authors treated Sandra Birdsell Nicole Brossard Jack Hodgins Henry Kreisel Robert Kroetsch Janice Kulyk Keefer Archibald Lampman Malcolm Lowry Lesley Lum Daphne Marlatt Susanna Moodie Bharati Mukherjee Alice Munro Frank Paci and Susan Swan The One and the Many Gerald Lynch,2001-05-02 The search for the Great Canadian Novel has long continued throughout our history Controversially to say the least Gerald Lynch maintains that a version of it may already have been written as a great Canadian short story cycle In this unique text the author launches into a fascinating literary historical survey and genre study of the English Canadian short story cycle the literary form that occupies the middle ground between short stories and novels This wide ranging volume has much to say about the continuing relationship between place and identity in Canadian literature and culture Initially Lynch employs Stephen Leacock s Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town for illustrative purposes and begins by discussing two definitive features of short story cycles the ways in which their form conveys meaning and the paramount function of their concluding stories which are here called return stories Lynch then devotes five discrete but related chapters to six Canadian short story cycles spanning some one hundred years from Duncan Campbell Scott to Thomas King and tracing some surprising continuities in this distinctive genre A number of the works are discussed extensively for the first time within the tradition of the Canadian short story cycle which has never before been accorded book length study in English This engaging and intelligent volume will be of interest to the general reader as well as specialists in Canadian literature

Words We Call Home Linda Svendsen,2011-11-01 This is the 25th anniversary going on 44th of an opportunity of Earle Birney s sanctuary for creative writers We at the gate of the stockade follow the migrations of the creatures imagined into life outside and it is best that I do as we always have let the gate swing open to let the curiosity roam so that you can see some of those that came down through the years to drink at UBC and then move on Each of us has our favourites you will find yours George McWhirter from the Introduction Words We Call Home is a commemorative anthology celebrating more than twenty five years of achievement for the UBC Creative Writing department the oldest writing program in Canada The more than sixty poets dramatists and fiction writers included provide just a sample of the energy and vision the department has fostered over the years From Earle Birney s pioneering efforts in 1946 to the birth of the department in 1965 to the present day the programme has created a place for aspiring talented writers That it has succeeded is evidenced by the numerous authors who have received Governor General Awards Commonwealth Poetry Prizes CBC Prizes for Poetry and other distinguished awards Words We Call Home is a collection of work that will hold a special place in the hearts of those who have watched UBC grow and flourish over the years and of everyone who loves
