Subsurface Karen Pinkus, 2023-04-18 A bold new consideration of climate change between narratives of the Earth's layers and policy of the present Long seen as a realm of mystery and possibility the subsurface beneath our feet has taken on all too real import in the era of climate change Can reading narratives of the past that take imaginative leaps under the surface better attune us to our present knowledge of a warming planet In Subsurface Karen Pinkus looks below the surface of texts by Edgar Allan Poe Arthur Conan Doyle George Sand E T A Hoffmann and Jules Verne to find the buried origins of capitalist fantasies in which humans take what they want from the earth Putting such texts into conversation with narrative theory critical theory geology and climate policy she shows that the subsurface has been in our past a place of myth and stories of male voyages down to gain knowledge but it is also now the realm of fossil fuels How do these two modes intertwine A highly original take on evocative terms such as extraction burial fossils deep time and speculative futurity Subsurface questions the certainty of comfortable narrative arcs It asks us to read literature with and against the figure of the geological column with and against fossil fuels and the emissions warming our planet As we see our former selves move into the distance what new modes of imagination might we summon

Celestial Tapestry Nicholas Mee, 2020-09-11 Artists and scientists view the world in quite different ways Nevertheless they are united in a search for hidden order beneath surface appearances The quest for eternal geometrical designs is also seen in the sacred mathematical patterns created by the world's great religions Tibetan monks fashion chalk mandalas representing the emergence of order in the universe Moslem architects wrap their buildings in elaborate abstract tessellating designs Celestial Tapestry places mathematics within a vibrant cultural and historical context Threads are woven together telling of surprising influences that pass between the Arts and Mathematics The story involves intriguing characters the soldier who laid the foundations for fractals and computer art while recovering in hospital after suffering serious injury in the First World War the mathematician imprisoned for bigamy whose books had a huge influence on twentieth century art the pioneer clockmaker who suffered from leprosy the Victorian housewife who amazed mathematicians with her intuition for higher dimensional space

Alchemy, Paracelsianism, and Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale Martina Zamparo, 2022-10-05 This book explores the role of alchemy Paracelsianism and Hermetic philosophy in one of Shakespeare's last plays The Winter's Tale A perusal of the vast literary and iconographic repertory of Renaissance alchemy reveals that this late play is imbued with several topoi myths and emblematic symbols coming from coeval alchemical Paracelsian and Hermetic sources It also discusses the alchemical significance of water and time in the play's circular and regenerative pattern and the healing role of women All the major symbols of alchemy are present in Shakespeare's play the intertwined serpents of the caduceus the chemical wedding the filius philosophorum and the so called rex chymicus This book also provides an in depth survey of late Renaissance alchemy Paracelsian medicine and Hermetic culture in the Elizabethan and Jacobean ages Importantly it contends that The Winter's Tale in symbolically retracing the healing pattern of the rota alchemica and in emphasising the Hermetic principles of unity and concord glorifies King James's conciliatory attitude

The Cycle of Life Erel Shalit,2011-09-25 The art of life is the most distinguished and rarest of all the arts C G Jung CW 8 par 789 The Cycle of Life explores the patterns that unfold over the course of our lives as we set out to find our place in the world in our efforts to live authentically and in our search for home that place within ourselves that can so easily be neglected or disregarded in this fast paced modern world In the first half of life the task of the young traveler is to depart from home to adventure out into the world to find his or her own individual path However in the second half we find ourselves on what often amounts to a very long journey in search of home In many a tale the hero for instance Gilgamesh sets off on his road to find life's elixir while other stories such as the Odyssey revolve around the hero's long and arduous journey home Many are also familiar with the journey of Dante who at the very beginning of his Divine Comedy finds himself Midway along the journey of our life The archetypal journey of life is constantly reenacted in the never ending process of individuation We find ourselves returning to this venture repeatedly every night as we set out on our voyage into the landscape of our unconscious Many dreams begin by being on the way for instance I am on my way to I am driving on a road that leads into the desert I am walking through one room after the other in a long corridor like building I am walking towards my office but it looks different than in reality I walk on the pavement and on the opposite side of the street someone seems to be following me I go down into an underground parking I am in my car but someone I don't know is driving I have to go to the place from where I came

History of the German People at the Close of the Middle Ages Johannes Janssen,1925 THE COLLECTED WORKS OF C. G. JUNG: Mysterium Coniunctionis (Volume 14) C.G. Jung,2014-12-05 Mysterium Coniunctionis was first published in the Collected Works of C G Jung in 1963 For this second edition of the work numerous corrections and revisions have been made in cross references to other volumes of the Collected Works now available and likewise in the Bibliography Mysterium Coniunctionis was Jung's last work of book length and gives a final account of his lengthy researches in alchemy. It was Jung's empirical discovery that certain key problems of modern man were prefigured in what the alchemists called their art or process. Jung maintained that the world of alchemical symbols does not belong to the rubbish heap of the past but stands in a very real and living relationship to our most recent discoveries concerning the psychology of the unconscious. The volume includes ten plates, a Bibliography, an Index, and an Appendix of original Latin and Greek texts quoted in the work.

The Wounded Researcher Robert D. Romanyshyn, 2020-08-14 The Wounded Researcher addresses the crises of epistemological violence when we fail to consider that a researcher is addressed by and drawn into a work through his or her complexes. Using a Jungian Archetypal perspective, this book argues that the bodies of knowledge we create degenerate into ideologies which are the death of critical thinking if the complexity of the research process is ignored. Writing with soul in mind invites us to consider how we might write down the soul in writing up our research.

W.B. Yeats's Robartes-Aherne Writings Wayne K. Chapman, 2018-05-31 The figures of Michael Robartes and Owen Aherne appear throughout the writing of the great Irish poet W. B. Yeats, featuring in his poems, short fictions, dialogues, and as authorities in notes to his work. Bringing together into one volume published and unpublished writings featuring these two enigmatic figures, W. B. Yeats's Robartes Aherne Writings traces their history and the development of Yeats's mystical thought that culminated twice in the publication of his visionary work A Vision (1925, 1937). Including reproductions of manuscript and notebook pages as well as transcriptions and extracts from a wide range of Yeats's mystical writings and substantial commentary and annotation throughout, this book is an essential resource for scholars of Yeats's thought, his stylistic evolution, and the esoteric influences on modernist writing in the early 20th century.

Printing the Middle Ages Sian Echard, 2013-09-25 In Printing the Middle Ages, Sian Echard looks to the postmedieval, postmanuscript lives of medieval texts, seeking to understand the lasting impact on both the popular and the scholarly imaginations of the physical objects that transmitted the Middle Ages to the English-speaking world. Beneath and behind the foundational works of recovery that established the canon of medieval literature, she argues, was a vast terrain of books: scholarly or popular, grubby or beautiful, widely disseminated or privately printed. By turning to these we are able to chart the differing reception histories of the literary texts of the British Middle Ages For Echard any reading of a medieval text whether past or present amateur or academic floats on the surface of a complex sea of expectations and desires made up of the books that mediate those readings Each chapter of Printing the Middle Ages focuses on a central textual object and tells its story in order to reveal the history of its reception and transmission Moving from the first age of print into the early twenty first century Echard examines the special fonts created in the Elizabethan period to reproduce Old English the hand drawn facsimiles of the nineteenth century and today s experiments with the digital reproduction of medieval objects she explores the illustrations in eighteenth century versions of Guy of Warwick and Bevis of Hampton she discusses nineteenth century children s versions of the Canterbury Tales and the aristocratic transmission history of John Gower s Confessio Amantis and she touches on fine press printings of Dante Froissart and Langland

Alchemy and Finnegans Wake Barbara DiBernard,1980-01-01 In the first full length study of Joyce s direct and indirect use of alchemical allusions DiBernard shows how an awareness of the alchemical metaphor guides a reader through the richness of Finnegans Wake For example the alchemical transmutation of lead into gold parallels the transmutation of the dross and commotion of ordinary life into a work of art This study shows how the themes of Joyce s novel death and rebirth the conflict between physical and spiritual incest colors forgery and the reconciliation of opposites relate to the alchemical process The author then presents a theory based on alchemical metaphor on the much debated subject of Joyce s view of the artist The Sacrificial Body and the Day of Doom Urszula Szulakowska,2006-05-01

The Underground Wealth of Nations Jeannette Graulau,2019-01-01 Silver mining was a capitalist business long before the supposed origin of modern capitalism Hundreds of years before a sixteenth century crisis in European agriculture led to the origins of capital investment and finance the silver mining industry exhibited many of the features of modern capitalism Silver mines were large scale businesses that demanded large investments and steady cash flow achieved by spreading that risk through fungible shares and creating legal structures to protect entrepreneurs from financial disaster Jeannette Graulau argues that mining preceded agriculture as the first true capitalist enterprise of the modern world
