tries to use all the logic to figure what's happening to him. He believes that he's caused the death of his favourite movie actress in one of the two lives that he claims to be living. And watching all of this happen are a bunch of people from two schools of thought: Physics and Psychiatry. Split Second Sandra Hocking, 2012-11 Sandra and Ray Hocking have worked hard their whole lives. In their sixties they were simply looking forward to retirement. In an instant, however, their lives changed forever when Ray suffered a freak accident that caused him to be paralyzed. He needed around the clock care and couldn't even live in his own home. Ray struggled to make progress at a rehabilitation facility before moving to a convalescent home, which became his permanent home. Although he had lost the ability to move like he once did, he continued to inspire everyone he met. A constant advocate for her husband, Sandra did everything she could to help him recover a life worth living. She liquidated assets, organized fundraisers for an accessible van, and researched grants. She determined what assistance her husband qualified for and what he didn't, and through it all, Ray kept a positive attitude. Sandra spent some time being angry, but she sees every day with her husband and their family is a gift. She has already found out that it can all change in a split second.

Split Second Garry Kilworth, 2011-09-29 When a young boy, Richard, goes too close to a Wiedershaus Repeater, the greatest archaeological breakthrough ever, he exposes any prehistoric remains to it, and it creates briefly complete hologrammatic images of the people who were in contact with them and the scenes in which they existed. Split-Second Persuasion Kevin Dutton, 2011-02-03 An entertaining look at the psychology and neuroscience behind the act of influencing others. Kirkus Reviews: People try to persuade us every day. From the news to the Internet to coworkers and family, everyone and everything wants to influence our thoughts in some way. And in turn, we hope to persuade others. Understanding the dynamics of persuasion can help us to achieve our own goals and resist being manipulated by those who don't necessarily have our best interests at heart. Psychologist Kevin Dutton has identified a powerful strain of immediate, instinctual persuasion: a method of influence that allows people to disarm skepticism, win arguments, and close deals. With a combination of astute methods and in-depth research in the fields of psychology and neuroscience, Dutton's fascinating and provocative book introduces the natural super-persuaders in our midst: Buddhist monks, magicians, advertisers, con men, hostage negotiators, and even psychopaths. Reveals which hidden pathways in the brain lead us to believe something even when we know it's not true. Explains how group dynamics can make us more tolerant or deepen our extremism. Illuminates the five elements of SPICE: simplicity, perceived self-interest, incongruity, confidence, and empathy for instantly effective persuasion.

Split Second Persuasion offers some powerful insights into the art and science of getting people to do what you want.
