Spoilt Children of Empire Nicholas Rowland Clifford, 1992-06-01 Spoilt Children of Empire Nicholas R. Clifford, A Study of Jewish Refugees in China (1933-1945) Guang Pan, 2019-09-12 This book comprehensively discusses the topic of Jews fleeing the Holocaust to China It is divided into three parts historical facts theories and the Chinese model The first part addresses the formation development and end of the Jewish refugee community in China offering a systematic review of the history of Jewish Diaspora including historical and recent events bringing European Jews to China Jewish refugees arriving in China route time number and settlement the Jewish refugee community in Shanghai Jewish refugees in other Chinese cities the Final Solution for Jewish refugees in Shanghai and the Designated Area for Stateless Refugees friendship between the Jewish refugees and the local Chinese people the departure of Jews and the end of the Jewish refugee community in China The second part provides deeper perspectives on the Jewish refugees in China and the relationship between Jews and the Chinese The third part explores the Chinese model in the history of Jewish Diaspora focusing on the Jews fleeing the Holocaust to China and compares the Jewish refugees in China with those in other parts of the world It also introduces the Chinese model concept and presents the five features of the model Framing China Ariane Knüsel, 2016-04-15 Framing China sheds new light on Western relations with and perceptions of China in the first half of the twentieth century In this ground breaking book Ariane Knüsel examines how China was portrayed in political debates and the media in Britain the USA and Switzerland between 1900 and 1950 By focusing on the political economic cultural and social context that led to the construction of the particular images of China in each country the author demonstrates that national interests anxieties and issues influenced the way China was framed and resulted in different portrayals of China in each country The author s meticulous analysis of a vast amount of newspaper and magazine articles commentaries editorials cartoons and newsreels that have previously not been studied before also focuses on the transnational circulation of images of China While previous publications have dealt with the occurrence of the Yellow Peril and Red Menace in particular countries Framing China reveals that these images were interpreted differently in every nation because they both reflected and contributed to the discursive construction of nationhood in each country and were influenced by domestic issues cultural values pre existing stereotypes pressure groups and geopolitical aspirations The International History of East Asia, 1900-1968 Antony Best, 2009-12-18 Constituting an impressive account of key themes in the international history of East Asia from 1900 to 1968 this book is an important contribution to the interpretive study of this crucial period of history It offers economic political and strategic perspectives and with a particular focus on Anglo Japanese relations Out of China Robert Bickers, 2017-03-30 SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2018 WOLFSON HISTORY PRIZE The extraordinary and essential story of how China became the powerful country it is today Even at the high noon of Europe s empires China managed to be one of the handful of countries not to succumb Invaded humiliated and looted China nonetheless kept its sovereignty Robert Bickers major new book is the first to describe fully what has proved to be one of the modern era's most important stories the long often agonising process by which the Chinese had by the end of the 20th century regained control of their own country Out of China uses a brilliant array of unusual strange and vivid sources to recreate a now fantastically remote world the corrupt lurid modernity of pre War Shanghai the often tiny patches of extra territorial land controlled by European powers one of which unnoticed had mostly toppled into a river the entrepôts of Hong Kong and Macao and the myriad means through armed threats technology and legal chicanery by which China was kept subservient Today Chinese nationalism stays firmly rooted in memories of its degraded past the quest for self sufficiency a determination both to assert China's standing in the world and its outstanding territorial claims and never to be vulnerable to renewed attack History matters deeply to Beijing's current rulers and Out of China explains why

1919 - The Year That Changed China Elisabeth Forster, 2018-03-05 The year 1919 changed Chinese culture radically but in a way that completely took contemporaries by surprise At the beginning of the year even well informed intellectuals did not anticipate that for instance baihua a precursor of the modern Chinese language communism Hu Shi and Chen Duxiu would become important and famous all of which was very obvious to them at the end of the year Elisabeth Forster traces the precise mechanisms behind this transformation on the basis of a rich variety of sources including newspapers personal letters student essays advertisements textbooks and diaries She proposes a new model for cultural change which puts intellectual marketing at its core This book retells the story of the New Culture Movement in light of the diversified and decentered picture of Republican China developed in recent scholarship It is a lively and ironic narrative about cultural change through academic infighting rumors and conspiracy theories newspaper stories and intellectuals hell bent on selling agendas through powerful buzzwords

Chinese Capitalists in Japan's New Order Parks Coble, 2003-04 He shows how the war left an important imprint on the structure and culture of Chinese business enterprise by encouraging those traits that had allowed it to survive in uncertain and dangerous times

BOOK JACKET Chinese Walls in Time and Space Roger Des Forges, Minglu Gao, Chiao-mei Liu, Haun Saussy, 2010-03-31 Are walls remnants of ancient and medieval societies destined to become anachronistic in modern and post modern times Or will they persist shaping as well as adjusting to new conditions Do walls necessarily constrain and even isolate those who live within them or can they act as a medium of support and communication for people on both sides This volume addresses these questions Authors from six disciplines history art law medicine communication and film provide multiple perspectives on various kinds of walls material ones around and within states cities and towns as well as virtual ones regulating the administration of justice the flow of pathogens and the transmission of information

A History of East Asia Charles Holcombe, 2017-01-11 The second edition of Charles Holcombe's acclaimed introduction to East Asian history from the dawn of history to the twenty first century

News under Fire Shuge Wei, 2017-09-05 News under Fire China's Propaganda against Japan in the English Language Press 1928 1941 is the first comprehensive study of China's efforts to establish an effective international propaganda system during the Sino Japanese crisis It explores how the weak Nationalist government managed to use its limited resources to compete with Japan in the international press By retrieving the long neglected history of English language papers published in the treaty ports Shuge Wei reveals a multilayered and often chaotic English language media environment in China and demonstrates its vital importance in defending China's sovereignty Chinese bilingual elites played an important role in linking the party led propaganda system with the treaty port press Yet the development of propaganda institution did not foster the realization of individual ideals As the Sino Japanese crisis deepened the war machine absorbed treaty port journalists into the militarized propaganda system and dashed their hopes of maintaining a liberal information order A superbly researched and well nuanced account of an overlooked topic nationalist China's propaganda system and the multiple ways in which it intersected with the treaty port foreign language press of the time Combining a wealth of archival and newspaper sources it is destined to be on the must read list of all who are interested in state propaganda and news dissemination in the Republican period Julia C Strauss professor of Chinese politics SOAS University of London An absorbing and well sourced study of KMT propaganda efforts to convince the United States to side with China rather than Japan in WWII The study shows how the KMT facing a massive power asymmetry compared to its Japanese opponent managed to effectively use the soft power of foreign propaganda Rudolf G Wagner senior professor of Chinese studies Cluster of Excellence Asia and Europe Heidelberg University Germany

Incidents and International Relations Gregory C. Kennedy, Keith Neilson, 2002-02-28 Historians often ignore treat cursorily or relegate to footnotes specific incidents in international relations in order to facilitate the construction of a larger narrative The contributors to this volume argue that researchers do so to their peril as individual or seemingly isolated incidents can play significant roles in the overall course of history Incidents are crucial in determining the mental maps that decision makers form regarding the countries and individuals with whom they interact Incidents can either initiate or block new policies with consequences that are both far reaching and unexpected People make foreign policy and an understanding of what elements of an incident were important to these individuals at key points essential to an appreciation of policies subsequently advocated How individuals view other cultures and nations how they react to the actions of such nations and their perceptions of such actions all form key components in this study Using a variety of examples these essays show the value of detailed examinations of events illuminating such matters as British policy in the Far East French imperial policy Italian military actions in the interwar period British attitudes toward Hitler and the effect of the Soviet Union on British thinking in the 1930s

American Radio in China Michael A. Krysko,2011-04-12

Interwar era efforts to expand US radio into China floundered in the face of flawed US policies and approaches Situated at the intersection of media studies technology studies and US foreign relations this study frames the ill fated radio initiatives as symptomatic of an increasingly troubled US East Asian relationship before the Pacific War

Chinese Business

Enterprise in Asia Rajeswary Ampalavanar Brown,2018-10-29 This volume first published in 1995 looks at the development of Chinese business and management practices across Asia from the late nineteenth century Experts examine how familism and informal networks have contributed to Chinese entrepreneurial success They demonstrate how effective these factors have been in overcoming restrictive state policies through alliances with ethnic and international traders and connections between financial networks in Hong Kong South East Asia China and Australia An institutional model of analysis is developed to determine the efficacy of Chinese business practices and structures The relationship between culture and environment is examined as well as how modern institutions are embedded not only in culture but also in history and economics

The

Scottish Experience in Asia, c.1700 to the Present T. M. Devine,Angela McCarthy,2016-11-22 This pioneering volume focuses on the scale territorial trajectories impact economic relationships identity and nature of the Scottish Asia connection from the late seventeenth century to the present It is especially concerned with identifying whether there was a distinctive Scottish experience and if so what effect it had on the East Did Scots bring different skills to Asia and how far did their backgrounds prepare them in different ways Were their networks distinctive compared to other ethnicities What was the pull of Asia for them Did they really punch above their weight as some contemporaries thought or was that just exaggerated rhetoric If there was a distinctive Scottish effect how is that to be explained

Political Survival and Sovereignty in International Relations Jesse Dillon Savage,2020-03-12 Shows how domestic politics creates incentives for political actors to surrender sovereignty to outside powers

Foreigners and Foreign

Institutions in Republican China Anne-Marie Brady,Douglas Brown,2013 Republican China attracted an uncommon diversity of foreign interests groups and individuals which included missionaries adventurers diplomats academics humanitarians and refugees as well as hedonists and tourists By exploring the diverse nature of foreign activities in Republican China this book complicates the dominant narratives of the imperialistic foreigner and Chinese victim and moves beyond the depiction of foreigners as privileged and the Chinese as simply weak The spaces and relationships examined in the essays in this volume reveal a complex series of interactions between foreigners and the people of China which go far beyond one way transmission or exploitation Indeed this book examines how diverse and sometimes seemingly peripheral foreign individuals and communities influenced literature education trade sexual morality warfare and architecture in China and in the process were themselves profoundly changed in ways that are as remarkable as those experienced by the Chinese they had come to observe meet exploit conquer assist or change Bringing together the work of a diverse group of scholars on Republican China this edited volume adopts a uniquely multi disciplinary approach to the study of foreigners in China and utilises the perspectives of historiography literary studies cultural studies sociology anthropology and political science As such this interesting and innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars from diverse fields including Chinese and global history politics and international relations Chinese studies literary studies and gender studies China: A Historical Geography of the Urban Yunnan Ding, Maurizio Marinelli, Xiaohong Zhang, 2017-11-20 This book offers a unique contribution to the burgeoning field of Chinese historical geography Urban transformation in China constitutes both a domestic revolution and a world historical event Through the exploration of nine urban sites of momentous change over an extended period of time this book connects the past with the present and provides much needed literature on city growth and how they became complex laboratories of prosperity The first part of this book puts Chinese urban changes into historical perspective and probes the relationship between nation and city focusing on Shanghai Beijing and Changchun Part two deals with the relationship between history and modernity concentrating on Tunxi a traditional trade center of tea New Villages in Shanghai and street names in Taipei and Shanghai Part three showcases the complexities of urban regeneration vis vis heritage preservation in cities such as Datong Tianjin and Qingdao This book offers an innovative interdisciplinary and international perspective which will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese urban studies as well Chinese politics and society
