Berry,2001 A plentifully illustrated guide to the most popular and socially significant movies made for by and about African Americans from 1900 to today Also includes incisive interviews with Hollywood greats such as Ossie Davis and Ivan Dixon Invisibility in African American and Asian American Literature Klara Szmańko,2008-09-22 The book is a comparative study of the invisibility trope in African American and Asian American literature It distinguishes between various kinds of invisibility and offers a genealogy of the term while providing a theoretical dissection of the invisibility trope itself Investigating the various ways of striving for visibility the author places special emphasis on the need for cooperation among various racial groups While the book explores invisibility in a variety of African American and Asian American literary texts the main focus is on four novels Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man Sam Greenlee's The Spook Who Sat by the Door Maxine Hong Kingston's Tripmaster Monkey and Chang rae Lee's Native Speaker The book not only sheds light on the oppressed but also exposes the structures of oppression and the apparatus of power which often renders itself invisible Throughout the study the author emphasizes that power is multi directional never flowing only in one direction The book brings to light mechanisms of oppression within the dominant society as well as within and between marginalized racial groups Black World/Negro Digest ,1969-05 Founded in 1943

Reading Espionage Fiction Martin Griffin, 2024-05-31 Reading Espionage Fiction Narrative Conflict and Commitment from World War I to the Contemporary Era probes the ways in which the struggles and loyalties of political modernity have been portrayed in the espionage story over the course of the twentieth and twenty first centuries Reading works by authors such as Somerset Maugham Helen MacInnes John le Carre Sam E Greenlee and Gerald Seymour as popular literature deserving of sustained attention this book shows how these narratives have both created a modern genre and at the same

Black Caesars and Foxy Cleopatras Odie Henderson, 2024-02-06 The definitive account of Blaxploitation cinema the freewheeling often shameless and wildly influential genre from a distinctive voice in film history and criticism In 1971 two films grabbed the movie business shook it up and launched a genre that would help define the decade Melvin Van Peebles's Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song an independently produced film about a male sex worker who beats up cops and gets away and Gordon Parks's Shaft a studio financed film with a killer soundtrack were huge hits making millions of dollars Sweetback upended cultural expectations by having its Black rebel win in the end and Shaft saved MGM from bankruptcy Not for the last time did Hollywood discover that Black people went to movies too The Blaxploitation era was born Written by film critic Odie Henderson Black Caesars and Foxy Cleopatras is a spirited history of a genre and the movies that he grew up watching which he loves without irony but with plenty of self awareness and humor Blaxploitation was a major trend but it was never simple The films mixed self empowerment with exploitation base stereotypes with essential representation that spoke to the lives and fantasies of Black viewers The time is right for a reappraisal understanding these films in the context of the time and exploring their lasting influence society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation s creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential
