Sport Climbing With Robyn Erbesfield:

Sport Climbing with Robyn Erbesfield Robyn Erbesfield, Steve Boga, 1997 Sport climbing is noted for its focus upon competition and the high level of fitness it demands from its participants This illustrated text defines techniques training regimens and safety advice Maximum Climbing Eric Horst, 2010-04-23 The definitive resource to brain training for climbing by an internationally recognized expert As physical as climbing is it is even more mental Ultimately people climb with their minds hands and feet are merely extensions of their thoughts and will Becoming a master climber requires that you first master your mind In Maximum Climbing America's best selling author on climbing performance presents a climber's guide to the software of the brain one that will prove invaluable whether one's preference is bouldering sport climbing traditional climbing alpine climbing or mountaineering Eric Horst brings unprecedented clarity to the many cognitive and neurophysical aspects of climbing and dovetails this information into a complete program setting forth three stages of mental training that correspond to beginner intermediate and elite levels of experience and commitment the ideal template to build upon to personalize one's goals through years of climbing to come Rock Climbing Victoria Robinson, 2013-01-09 This book provides the ultimate guide to rock climbing in the United States suitable for climbers and nonclimbers alike covering the technical and physical aspects of the sport as well as the mental challenges involved Rock Climbing The Ultimate Guide covers the history of rock climbing in the United States from its origins to the present day documenting the importance and vitality of the popular sport The chapters address topics such as the technicalities of the equipment and clothing training methods key places and events where the sport takes place the different types of rock that climbers challenge themselves on past and present rock climbing heroes who inspire today's climbers and the evolution of the sport over the years for example in terms of climbers sporting achievements and its growing global appeal The book also covers the sport from an unprecedented perspective that only the author an experienced climber and social scientist could provide discussing the meaning of extreme sports in our culture issues of gender why climbing can serve an individual focused on personal achievement and satisfy those seeking to be part of a community and how climbers come to terms with the inherent risks of the sport Climbing, 1999 American's Grand Slam Ryan Waters, Hudson Lindenberger, 2022-10-01 On May 6 2014 Ryan Waters accomplished something that has not been replicated since He and fellow explorer Eric Larsen stood atop the geographic North Pole after 53 grueling days battling their way over an ever melting sheet of ice that fought against them the entire way By reaching the pole the two adventurers became the last persons to date to complete an unsupported trip to the North Pole from land The ice sheet that used to link the Pole to land in Canada once so thick and sturdy has so degraded over the last few decades that explorers have had to abandon any attempts to cross it While reaching the North Pole was monumental for Waters it also was the final piece needed to complete a project that he had been persistently working on for over a decade the True Adventurers Grand Slam standing atop the Seven Summits and skiing full length unsupported and unassisted expeditions to both the North and South Poles His accomplishment that day made him just the 9th person and first American to gain entry into this exclusive club Never one to embrace the easy path Waters seemed to thrive in battling through whatever the fates threw at him sometimes even deliberately seeking out struggles Despite having little experience cross country skiing he decided to go to the South Pole Eschewing the more typical route he and partner Cecilie Skog completed the first traverse of Antarctica without the use of resupplies or kites Skiing from Berkner Island in the Weddell Sea via the South Pole to the Ross Ice Shelf the pair skied for 70 days and covered 1200 miles 9 years prior to the much publicized 2019 race across Antarctica To this day the two hold the record for the longest unsupported crossing of the continent without the use of kites How Waters ended up standing atop the North Pole on that fateful day is a story of hope perseverance faith and a fair share of dumb luck From his youth traipsing around the Georgia hills to his time leading expeditions around the Himalayas including five summits of Everest Waters has always seemed to stumble into the next fortuitous step of his journey often ending up in the most unlikely places This is tempered by the fact that early in Waters outdoor career he learned to live by a simple credo you have to make things happen for yourself At the beginning of his climbing career he was consumed by passion for the mountains every decision was leading to the next mountaineering challenge Eventually giving up a stable career as a geologist he had a self described mid 20 s crisis left his 401K and comfortable salary for living out of his truck and 40 dollars a day as a part time climbing instructor Following his dream of a life of adventure in exchange for a life of obeying societal norms he set out to build a mountain resume that would enable him to circle the Earth and work as a mountain guide in the Himalayas and beyond After almost two decades of hard expeditions around the planet his experiences include being on a hijacked airplane in Russia rescue of injured climbers in the Karakoram Himalaya of Pakistan the Everest Base Camp earthquake disaster narrowly missing out on the K2 2008 tragedy near misses with avalanches the deaths of close climbing partners close encounters with Polar Bears on the Arctic Ocean relationships with fellow adventurers and much more
