Meyer,Janice Thompson,2009 The authors sort fact from fiction to help students and practitioners of sports nutrition present sound advice to athletes on correct nutrition and dietary requirements      Global Perspectives on Women in Combat Sports Christopher R. Matthews,Alex Channon,2016-04-29 This volume offers a wide reaching overview of current academic research on women's participation in combat sports within a range of different national and trans national contexts detailing many of the struggles and opportunities experienced by women at various levels of engagement within sports such as boxing wrestling and mixed martial arts      A Dictionary of Confusable Phrases Yuri Dolgoplov, 2010-10-18 Covering over 10 000 idioms and collocations characterized by similarity in their wording or metaphorical idea which do not show corresponding similarity in their meanings this dictionary presents a unique cross section of the English language Though it is designed specifically to assist readers in avoiding the use of inappropriate or erroneous phrases the book can also be used as a regular phraseological dictionary providing definitions to individual idioms cliches and set expressions Most phrases included in the dictionary are in active current use making information about their meanings and usage essential to language learners at all levels of proficiency      Education, physical activities and sport in a historical perspective = [Educació, activitats físiques i esport en una perspectiva històrica] : XIV ISCHE Conference 1992 : conference working papers ,      Godey's Lady's Book , 1896      Women, Horse Sports and Liberation Erica Munkwitz, 2021-07-13 Shortlisted for the 2022 Lord Aberdare Literary Prize This book is the first full length scholarly examination of British women's involvement in equestrianism from the eighteenth through the twentieth centuries as well as the corresponding transformations of gender class sport and national identity in Britain and its Empire It argues that women's participation in horse sports transcended limitations of class and gender in Britain and highlights the democratic ethos that allowed anyone skilled enough to ride and hunt from chimney sweep to courtesan Furthermore women's involvement in equestrianism reshaped ideals of race and reinforced imperial ideology at the zenith of the British Empire Here British women abandoned the sidesaddle which they had been riding in for almost half a millennium to ride astride like men thus gaining complete equality on horseback Yet female equestrians did not seek further emancipation in the form of political rights This paradox of achieving equality through sport but not through politics shows how liberating sport was for women into the twentieth century It brings into question what emancipation meant in practice to women in Britain from the eighteenth through twentieth centuries This is fascinating reading for scholars of sports history women's history British history and imperial history as well as those interested in the broader social gendered and political histories of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and for all equestrian enthusiasts      Gender, Sport and Development in Africa Jimoh Shehu, 2010 Drawing on various theories and cross cultural data the contributors to this volume highlight the various ways in which sport norms policies practices and representations pervasively interface with gender and other socially constructed categories of difference They argue that sport is not only a site of competition and physical recreation but also a crossroad where features of modern society such as hegemony identities democracy technology development and master statuses intertwine and bifurcate As they point out in many ways sport production reproduction distribution and consumption are relational spatial and contextual and therefore do not pay off for men women and other social groups equally The authors draw attention to the structure and scope of efforts needed to transform the exclusionary and gendered nature of sport processes to make them adequate to the task of engendering Africa's development Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1999
