Alan Booth, Judith F. Dunn

Spring Of The Year:

The Spring of the Year Dallas Lore Sharp, 2021-05-18 In The Spring of the Year Dallas Lore Sharp crafts a poignant narrative that intertwines natural observation with philosophical reflection evoking the vibrant rebirth of the natural world each spring The book s lyrical prose captures the essence of the changing seasons employing rich imagery and a meditative tone that invites readers to contemplate their own relationship with nature Sharp s work fits within the broader context of early 20th century American pastoral literature echoing themes found in the works of contemporaries like John Burroughs and Henry David Thoreau while also standing out for its personal almost confessional style Dallas Lore Sharp an esteemed naturalist and author was deeply influenced by his upbringing in the countryside and his extensive studies in the natural sciences His passion for the outdoors permeates his writing revealing his desire to communicate the wonders of nature and to inspire others to seek out the beauty in their surroundings This intimate connection to the land provided the foundation for his exploration of themes pertaining to renewal growth and the cyclical rhythms of life The Spring of the Year is highly recommended for readers seeking a meditative exploration of nature and an understanding of the profound joy found in simple natural experiences Sharp s eloquent prose makes this work not only a celebration of spring but also a timeless reminder to cherish the world around us In this enriched edition we have carefully created added value for your reading experience Hand picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance Interactive footnotes clarify unusual references historical allusions and archaic phrases for an effortless more informed read Family-School Links Alan Booth, Judith F. Dunn, 2013-10-31 Based on the presentations and discussions from a national symposium on family school links held at the Pennsylvania State University this volume brings together psychologists sociologists educators and policymakers studying the bidirectional effects between schools and families This topic the links between families and schools and how these affect children's educational achievement encompasses a host of questions each of key social and educational significance. How far does parental involvement in schools affect children's experiences and achievement at school? What explains the great differences between schools, families and communities in the extent of such involvement? Are these differences a matter of school practices or do they reflect much broader social and cultural divisions? What is the nature of the impact schools have on children and their families? How can family-school partnerships be fostered in a way that helps children? The chapter authors consider these questions and related issues, present different perspectives, highlight various aspects of the issues and suggest widely differing answers. This volume's goal is to provide the reader with current information on what is known about family-school-community links and to provoke new ways of thinking about these links and their implications for children's education and well-being.

Federal Register, 1980-02-04 Register-based Statistics

Anders Wallgren, Britt Wallgren, 2007-05-21. There is a growing interest in developing register-based surveys that is surveys based upon already available administrative data. Since huge amounts of such data are generated within various administrative systems, the opportunity exists to use the data for statistical analysis without any of the costs involved in data collection. Register-based surveys require their own methodology and the development of these methods is an important challenge to statistical science. Instead of methods on how to collect data, methods for integrating data from different sources are necessary. How should administrative data be transformed to meet the statistical needs? Register-based Statistics offers readers a detailed account of the principles and practices of this increasingly popular area of statistics. Provides a comprehensive overview of register-based statistics both in terms of theory and advanced application. Uses real-life examples taken from Statistics Sweden to illustrate fundamental global principles. Proposes a much-needed systematic terminology for the field. Describes how to create statistical registers and a methodology for integration of data from many sources as a key tool for the future. Develops estimation methods and quality concepts for register-based surveys. Discusses statistical systems consisting of many statistical registers and surveys, highlighting the importance of consistency and coherence. Register-based Statistics provides a unique guide for all those working in statistical agencies. It will also prove invaluable for academic researchers and teachers in statistics and statisticians working with administrative systems in government institutions and enterprises.
