The Judas kiss Gerry Smyth, 2015-05-01 This book argues that modern Irish history encompasses a deep seated fear of betrayal and that this fear has been especially prevalent since the revolutionary period at the outset of the twentieth century The author goes on to argue that the novel is the literary form most apt for the exploration of betrayal in its social political and psychological dimensions The significance of this thesis comes into focus in terms of a number of recent developments most notably the economic downturn and the political and civic betrayals implicated therein and revelations of the Catholic Church's failure in its pastoral mission As many observers note such developments have brought the language of betrayal to the forefront of contemporary Irish life This book offers a powerful analysis of modern Irish history as regarded from the perspective of some of its most incisive minds including James Joyce Liam O Flaherty Elizabeth Bowen Francis Stuart Eugene McCabe and Anne Enright

Wyndham Lewis and the Cultures of Modernity Dr Nathan Waddell, Ms Alice Reeve-Tucker, Professor Andrzej Gasiorek, 2013-05-28 Making a strong case for a revaluation of Wyndham Lewis 1882-1957 this collection argues that significant aspects of Lewis's writing painting and thinking have not yet received the attention they deserve The contributors explore Lewis's contributions to the production and circulation of modernism and assess the links between Lewis's writing and painting and the work of other key contemporary figures to position Lewis not only as one of the first twentieth century cultural critics but also as one who anticipated the work of the Frankfurt School and other social theorists Familiar topics and themes such as Vorticism receive fresh appraisals and Lewis's significance as a philosopher critic novelist and artist becomes fully realized in the context of his associations with important figures such as John Rodker Charlie Chaplin Evelyn Waugh Naomi Mitchison and Rebecca West
