Supervising The Doctorate:

EBOOK: Supervising the Doctorate Sara Delamont, Paul Atkinson, Odette Parry, 2004-06-16 This publication represents a thorough updating of an earlier book that was in its own right very useful. The second edition is a significant improvement on its predecessor and I cannot recommend it highly enough for novice or experienced doctoral supervisors. Journal of Adult and Continuing Education How can I get my students to produce good theses on time? My last student failed. What could I have done to prevent it? I am supposed to train the new supervisors in my faculty where can I get some good ideas? This new edition of Supervising the Doctorate still provides everything you ever wanted to know about the doctoral supervision but were afraid to ask. It includes New material on supervising professional doctoral theses. A new chapter on the changing policy context in higher education. Latest research findings. Experiential material from staff development sessions throughout the United Kingdom and New Zealand. Now that supervisor training is compulsory this practical no nonsense handbook is essential reading for both the novice and the experienced higher degree supervisor. For novices there is a developmental sequence of advice guiding them through all stages of supervision from the first meeting to the viva and beyond. For experienced supervisors there are fresh ideas on how to improve practice and solve problems. Grounded in research this book is invaluable to academics in all disciplines. At a time when there is increasing pressure to ensure quality provision to improve the doctoral completion rate and to turn out employable graduates the need for a practical guide is obvious. An essential item for every academic's bookshelf.

Supervising the PhD Sara Delamont, Paul Atkinson, Odette Parry, 1997 This guide to supervising doctoral research is a practical handbook for both the novice and the experienced higher degree supervisor. It looks at how to get students to produce good PhD theses on time and how to prevent failed theses.

The Good Supervisor Gina Wisker, 2012-07-16 This engaging book outlines effective strategies for supervising students on a wide variety of research projects whether at undergraduate or postgraduate level. It covers each stage of the research journey and provides guidance on working with students to define research topics, select appropriate methodologies, write up theses and prepare for the viva. It also supports supervisors in establishing and maintaining good supervisory practices and shows how supervisors can help students to help themselves. This will be essential reading for supervisors of undergraduate or postgraduate research projects, dissertations and theses. It is also an ideal resource for student researchers looking to get the most out of their relationship with their supervisor.

New to this Edition: New content on cross cultural supervision, online distance supervision and sustaining research communities and networks.

Supervising PhD Students Hugh Kearns, John Finn, 2017-10 This book is a guide to the practical activities, strategies and tools used by effective PhD supervisors. It looks at the main processes that relate to PhD supervision: the personal motivations of supervisors, recruitment, clarifying expectations, how to run productive meetings, providing effective feedback, academic writing, the interpersonal challenges that arise during the PhD, the PhD examination and professional development. We address these key supervisory practices by offering a range of practical advice and activities that can inform and guide supervisors Throughout the book we highlight examples of good and bad practice that are inspired by real life examples The book provides a range of templates and supports that supervisors can provide to their PhD students This is one of our strongest motivations for writing this text to help supervisors to improve the experience of doctoral research not just for themselves but also for their PhD students

Supervising The Doctorate Delamont, Sara, Atkinson, Paul, Parry, Odette, 2004-06-01 This text provides everything you ever wanted to know about PhD supervision but were afraid to ask It is a practical no nonsense handbook for both the novice and the experienced higher degree supervisor This 2nd edition includes details on supervising professional doctoral theses

Enhancing the Doctoral Experience Steve Hutchinson, Helen Lawrence, 2017-03-02 One of the major intangible benefits associated with the postgraduate research experience is precisely that the experience And more specifically for an increasing number of international research students the British doctoral experience This experience is often largely defined and shaped by their relationship with and support from their supervisor Enhancing the Doctoral Experience brings together the authors experience and research frameworks and models as well as pragmatic feedback and understanding This synthesis of scholarly theory and pragmatic sampling has produced a book that provides a scaffold for students and supervisors to have conversations about their expectations to discuss what supervision is to articulate clearly what both parties need in order for a successful relationship to occur and to build a mutually beneficial endeavour In many cases these conversations can be complicated by cultural and linguistic differences so the text explicitly addresses these and other sources of misunderstanding Against a challenging background of growing numbers of students but also increasing pressures on time and costs Enhancing the Doctoral Experience offers an approach to improve the effectiveness of the doctoral student and increase the professionalization of research supervision It does so by providing both with an awareness of and a toolkit to approach student diversity

The Doctoral Examination Process: A Handbook For Students, Examiners And Supervisors Tinkler, Penny, Jackson, Carolyn, 2004-03-01 It also incorporates a wealth of information that most supervisors and examiners only acquire through years of experience this book deserves to be widely read and if it is it should contribute to an improvement in the quality of both research degree examining and the student s performance at the viva Professor Diana Woodward University Director of Research Napier University Edinburgh and retiring UKCGE Executive Committee Member importantly the book deals with perspectives of all three concerned parties i e the candidate examiner and supervisor It is a very useful guide to appreciate and prepare for the different stages of the doctoral examination process Higher Education Quarterly What is the viva and how can students prepare for it What should supervisors consider when selecting PhD examiners How should examiners assess a doctoral thesis and conduct the viva The doctoral examination process has been shrouded in mystery and has been a source of anxiety and concern for students supervisors and examiners alike But now help is at hand This book sheds new light on the process providing constructive ways of understanding the doctoral examination preparing for it and undertaking it This book stands alone in the field due to the extensive research undertaken by the authors Over a four year period surveys and interviews were undertaken with candidates and academics from a wide range of disciplines throughout Britain Outcomes and ideas from the research have been united to provide the most comprehensive information available Real life accounts and case studies are combined with useful advice tasks and checklists to create an illuminating handbook This user friendly book is a vital resource for anyone involved in the doctoral process No doctoral candidate examiner or supervisor should be without it

Graduate Research Supervision in the Developing World Erik Blair,Danielle Watson,Shikha Raturi,2020-01-03 Recognising that graduate supervisory practice is not an abstracted academic pursuit but an activity that is subjectively bounded by content and context impacted by the experiences and beliefs of supervisee and supervisor this text explores the unique dynamics of graduate supervision in the Global South as perceived and experienced by students and academics within those same contexts Bringing together contributions which reflect a rich diversity of perspectives on supervisory practices at regional universities in the Caribbean and South Pacific Graduate Research Supervision in the Developing World explores how supervisors navigate unscripted supervisory terrain contextualise supervisory best practices establish roles and relationships and work to understand supervisees needs By highlighting the effect on graduate supervision of complex sociocultural interplay and the relationship between learning environments and student success contributors look to locate best practices through analyses of stories of success and failure As the contributors demonstrate there is a need to restructure the standardised operation of graduate supervision across diverse faculties This text will be of great interest to graduate supervisors and their supervisees as well as scholars in the fields of continuing professional development and higher education in international and comparative education and Sociology of Education

The Doctorate as Experience in Europe and Beyond Michael Byram,Maria Stoicheva,2019-11-20 The Doctorate as Experience in Europe and Beyond presents a detailed and fascinating account of completing a doctorate from the perspectives of researchers supervisors and students It provides an in depth insight through qualitative data interpretative methods and insider experiences for a truly unique perspective Given the popularity of doctoral studies and their increasing importance outside of academia the PhD has needed to evolve and develop particularly given its role in the internationalization of universities Drawing on in depth interviews with international participants this book explores case studies and comparative analysis of the dimensions of researcher identity the processes of supervision and the use of languages for teaching and learning and conducting research Providing a keen insight into how the internationalization of higher education is affecting the doctoral experience The Doctorate as Experience in Europe and Beyond is ideal reading for all academics doctoral supervisors and examiners as well as postgraduate students involved in doctoral education

Traversing the Doctorate Tanya M. Machin,Marc Clarà,Patrick Alan Danaher,2019-09-23 This book explores the multiple ways in which doctoral programs are traversed by students supervisors and administrators Rather than proposing a single homogeneous approach as the most effective form of doctoral education the editors and contributors focus on the diversity of global approaches to the doctorate including doctoral experiences from Australia Finland Chile New Zealand and Spain The doctorate emerges from this analysis as a highly complex heterogeneous and situated phenomenon that resists easy solutions Strategies that are successful in traversing the doctorate are found to be grounded in contexts that cannot necessarily be generalised to other situations in doing so the authors emphasise the importance of presenting a diverse array of experiences and stories The separate and shared perspectives of doctoral students supervisors and administrations are mapped and analysed in ways that bring their voices compellingly to life this book will be of interest and value to students and scholars of the doctoral journey as well as of international and comparative education
