Reimagining Instructional Supervision Francis M. Duffy, 2017-03-16 The history of instructional supervision has been relatively constant From the days when the first colonists arrived and established schools for their children until today instructional supervision has consistently focused on the critical examination of a teacher s classroom behavior with the assumption that supervising individual teachers could significantly improve teaching and learning throughout a school system That assumption has proven to be flawed The author believes that the focus of instructional supervision needs to shift off of individual teachers to focus on transforming the organization design and functioning of entire school systems Instead of observing teachers working in their classrooms a re imagined instructional supervision process would focus on transforming three sets of key system variables Transform the system s environmental relationships transform the system s core and support work processes and transform the system s internal social infrastructure Supervising Knowledge Work describes the salient features of a re imagined supervision process called Knowledge Work Supervision that is designed to transform entire school systems Improving Instruction Through Supervision, Evaluation, and Professional Development Michael DiPaola, Wayne K. Hoy, 2013-12-01 This new book recognizes the reality that all principals are responsible for supervision evaluation and professional development of their teachers tasks that are neither simple nor without conflict The primary audience of this text is aspiring and practicing principals We hope to help them understand both the theory and practice of supervision evaluation and professional development Observing instruction collection data for reflection and having conversations about teaching however are not sole provinces of principals Master teachers teacher leaders and teacher colleagues can also benefit from the Supervisory sections of the book especially the chapters on high quality instruction improving instruction and the classroom data collecting tools
