Impact Evaluation of Small and Medium Enterprise Programs in Latin America and the Caribbean Gladys Lopez

Acevedo,Hong Tan,2011 Small and medium enterprise SME support programs are a common feature of industrial policy in developing countries but one whose effectiveness is not well known Governments are motivated to support SMEs both because they make up the majority of industrial enterprises and contribute substantially to GDP employment and earnings and because SMEs are thought to be weaker than their larger counterparts Few governments however have evaluated their SME programs rigorously so there is little empirical basis for rational allocation of resources to the well performing programs The paucity of empirical evidence from rigorous impact evaluations also presents problems for multi lateral and bilateral donors in deciding whether or not to provide lending or aid for such policy interventions to promote SME development This study rigorously evaluate SME programs in four Latin American countries to gain insights into which programs perform better than others and just as important why These countries Mexico Chile Colombia and Peru cover a wide range of enterprise support programs including training innovation and technology upgrading quality control market development export promotion and network formation Broadly comparable panel data on enterprises is used to investigate the net impacts of these SME interventions      Facilitating Pro-poor Business Michiel Arnoldus,2011 In development co operation there is a trend that the private sector is seen as an integral part of the solution to reduce poverty As a result pro poor businesses emerge involving actors such as private businesses the public sector farmer organisations and NGOs There are some challenges in bringing these different actors together in a social enterprise Generally there is a need for a facilitator to align interests bridge cultural differences fill in gaps in skills and deal with power differences wrong expectations and prejudice The Royal Tropical Institute KIT has experience in playing this role But over time our role has changed From being an advisor with little mandate to act and no ownership to being a full business partner backed by investment Through this new role we have achieved more direct influence on the conditions under which smallholders are active participants in business But other roles are also important The five cases in this bulletin ginger in Sierra Leone tuna in Ghana organic cocoa on the Dominican Republic biodiesel in Mali and a trade house in Mali illustrate that each type of facilitating role has its advantages and disadvantages and that there are many factors a good facilitator needs to take into account when bringing together the public and private sector and civil society to form a pro poor business We hope that other organisations recognise themselves in these roles and are inspired to make similar or better choices so that more people will benefit Handbook of Research on Strategies and Interventions to Mitigate COVID-19 Impact on SMEs Baporikar, Neeta, 2021-06-25 The COVID 19 pandemic has affected every aspect of the modern world and its impact is felt by all The pandemic particularly has had a large impact on businesses as they were forced to close supply chains were disrupted and new health and safety precautions were adopted As such many businesses especially small businesses were faced with losses they could not afford Governments and stakeholders across the world have thus needed to formulate various strategies and interventions to mitigate the negative consequences of the COVID 19 pandemic particularly as they relate to small and medium sized enterprises SMEs The Handbook of Research on Strategies and Interventions to Mitigate COVID 19 Impact on SMEs is a comprehensive reference source that encapsulates the overall effect of COVID 19 on SMEs and a variety of strategies to overcome the negative effects and create more sustainable policies and organizations moving forward The book offers a thorough overview of interventions and tactics to help organizations entrepreneurs and institutions of higher learning overcome the negative impact of COVID 19 while preparing policies for a more effective post pandemic world Covering topics that include sustainable practices for development interventions to lessen the impact of COVID 19 and psychological resilience for SME employees this book is Ideal for entrepreneurs managers executives small businesses family firms academicians scholar practitioners policymakers researchers and students
