Surfing The:

Surfing the Past Olivier Nyirubugara, 2012 This book discusses one of the most frequently discussed subjects in history education during the last two decades namely how secondary school pupils use the World Wide Web for their learning activities Based on two case studies in two Dutch schools the book shows some ways in which the use of the Web has changed history education in at least three respects first the findings of the two case studies show that the Web has a huge potential to turn the history class previously described as boring and too abstract into a livelier and more attractive environment where concepts events phenomena and processes of the past almost always have textual and or audio visual representations second strong indications were observed showing that the Web fosters historical understanding not only by triggering thinking processes that take pupils beyond the shown contents but also by prompting them to evaluate sources and sample relevant fragments for their assignments third the Web has brought into history education sources that were previously excluded including those described as unconventional This book shows among other things that convergence is underway on both the user side since pupils use both conventional and unconventional online sources and the content production side where heritage institutions are increasingly getting involved in unconventional platforms like Wikipedia The latter emerged from the two case studies as the most popular source of historical information while the websites of heritage institutions tended to appear at the bottom of the list of references Unlike personal sites which also scored better heritage sites face some obstacles including the still dominant desire to preserve institutions identity and uniqueness conservatism which often prevents the redefinition of collection management tasks and the tax payers dilemma For that reason collections are not hyperlinked and therefore remain invisible and not easy to find online Surfing the South Steve Estes, 2022-02-23 When most Americans think of surfing they often envision waves off the coasts of California Hawai i or even New Jersey What few know is that the South has its own surf culture To fully explore this unsung surfing world Steve Estes undertook a journey that stretched more than 2 300 miles traveling from the coast of Texas to Ocean City Maryland Along the way he interviewed and surfed alongside dozens of people wealthy and poor men and women Black and white all of whom opened up about their lives how they saw themselves and what the sport means to them They also talked about race class the environment and how surfing has shaped their identities The cast includes a retired Mississippi riverboat captain and alligator hunter who was one of the first to surf the Gulf Coast of Louisiana a Pensacola sheet metal worker who ran the China Beach Surf Club while he was stationed in Vietnam and a Daytona Beach swimsuit model who shot the curl in the 1966 World Surfing Championships before circumnavigating the globe in search of waves and adventure From these varied and surprising stories emerge a complex sometimes troubling but nevertheless beautiful picture of the modern South and its people Surfing the Internet Safely MCP CCNA Whitney Hankison, McP Hankison, 2009-03 Internet Guidance for youth and adults Easy to read with great practice lessons this book guides youth and adults into being able to find the information they need while doing so safely With many pictures and detailed explanations readers will have fun while learning a skill that will last their whole lives It will Cover all aspects of using an Internet browser Have examples of some topics youth age children look for and how to best find the information Discuss the different search engines and their results Show how to get the information from a browser into another program such as word processing Go through saving information from the Internet to use later Discuss printing from the Internet Discuss shopping on the Internet Discuss social networking on the Internet Discuss Internet predators and how to avoid them Have exercises in put it into practice sections and two projects at the end of the book Many recommendations for both youth and adults on Internet safety practices Have a special chapter for parents and teachers to help keep family members and their computer safe The exercises provide a great opportunity for adults to interact with their family and learn too

You Are Probability: Surfing The Matrix Andrea Diem-Lane, David Christopher Lane, 2014-03-15 Just think of your father's sperm as a starting off point A usual male produces about 100 million sperm per ejaculation Only one of those sperm will survive the arduous journey to its terminal apex How many sperm does a male produce in say an 80 year life span No precise count is possible since it varies with each individual but one can roughly estimate the number to be around 500 billion or perhaps more impressive sounding as a 1 2 trillion If your own father had five children this would mean that just in terms of sperm you are a 1 in a 100 billion winner Couple this with the rarity of your mother's egg of the nearly half million follicles where only about 400 or so will become viable and the very fact that you are alive reading this essay is beyond any moneyed lottery you will ever enter

Surfing the Gnarl Rudy Rucker, 2012-01-25 The original Mad Professor of cyberpunk Rudy Rucker along with fellow outlaws William Gibson and Bruce Sterling transformed modern science fiction tethering the gnarly speculations of quantum physics to the noir sensibilities of a skeptical and disenchanting generation In acclaimed novels like Wetware and The Hacker and the Ant he mapped a neotopian future that belongs not to sober scientists but to drug addled sex crazed youth And won legions of fans doing it In his outrageous new story The Men in the Back Room at the Country Club Dr Rucker infiltrates fundamentalist Virginia to witness the apocalyptic clash between Bible thumpers and Saucer Demons at a country club barbecue He shoots erotica into orbit with Rapture in Space to explore the future of foreplay in freefall In his gonzo nonfiction masterpiece Surfing the Gnarl he documents the role of the Transreal in transforming both the personal and the political distinguishes with mathematical precision between high gnarl and low gnarl in literature and life and argues for remaking popular culture as a revolutionary project And Featuring PM's exclusive Outspoken Interview in which the author explains Infinity deconstructs his own outrageous film career answers one Jeopardy question and finally reveals the truth about Time All under oath You'll never be the same Is that good or bad Your call

Surfing and the Philosophy of Sport Daniel Brennan,2021-02-03 Surfing and the Philosophy of Sport uses the insights gained through an analysis of the sport of surfing to explore key questions and discourses within the philosophy of sport As surfing has been practiced dynamically since its beginnings as a traditional Polynesian pursuit to its current status as a counter culture lifestyle and also a highly professionalized and commercialized sport that will be included in the Olympic Games it presents a unique phenomenon from which to reconsider questions about the nature of sport and its role in a flourishing life and society Daniel Brennan examines foundational issues about defining sport sport s role in conceptualizing the good life the aesthetic nature of sport the place of technology in sport the principles of Olympism and surfing s embodiment of them and issues of institutionalized sexism in sport and the effect that might have on athletic performance

Surfing Spaces Jon Anderson,2022-08-04 The act of surfing involves highly skilled humans gliding sliding or otherwise riding waves of energy as they pass through water As this book argues however this act of surfing does not exist in isolation It is defined by the cultures and geographies that synergize with it by the places ideas images and other representations which at once reflect create and commodify this spatial practice This book innovatively explores the spaces of surf and surf riding informed specifically by the perspective of human geography Based on a range of critical turns within the social sciences the book explores the locations relational sensibilities and transformative nature of surfing spaces and examines how the spatial practice has been scripted by dominant surfing cultures The book details how prescriptive b orders of access entitlement and marginalization have been created and how with the advent of new craft media and ideals they are being actively challenged to redefine surfing spaces in the twenty first century

Surfing in the Movies John Engle,2015-10-05 Surfing has fascinated filmmakers since Thomas Edison shot footage of Waikiki beachboys in 1906 Before the 1950s surf craze surfing showed up in travelogues or as exotic background for studio features The arrival of Gidget 1959 on the big screen swept the sport into popular culture but surfer filmmakers were already featuring the day's best surfers in self-narrated two-reelers. Hollywood and independent filmmakers have produced about three dozen surf films in the last half century including the frothy Beach Party movies Point Break 1991 and Chasing Mavericks 2012. From Bud Browne's earliest efforts to The Endless Summer 1966 Riding Giants 2004 and today's brilliant videos over 1 000 surfing movies have celebrated the stoke. This first full-length study of surf movies gives critical attention to hundreds of the most important films.

The Critical Surf Studies Reader Dexter Zavalza Hough-Snee, Alexander Sotelo Eastman, 2017-08-17 The evolution of surfing from the first forms of wave riding in Oceania Africa and the Americas to the inauguration of surfing as a competitive sport at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics traverses the age of empire the rise of globalization and the onset of the digital age taking on new meanings at each juncture. As corporations have sought to promote surfing as a lifestyle and leisure enterprise the sport has also narrated its own epic myths that place North America at the center of surf culture and relegate Hawai'i and other indigenous surfing cultures to the margins. The Critical Surf Studies Reader brings together eighteen interdisciplinary essays that explore surfing's history and development as a practice embedded in complex and sometimes oppositional social political economic and cultural relations. Refocusing the history and culture of surfing this volume pays particular attention to reclaiming the roles that women indigenous peoples and people of color have played in surfing. Surf Craft Richard Kenvin, 2014-07-18 The evolution of the surfboard from traditional Hawaiian folk designs to masterpieces of mathematical engineering to mass produced fiberglass Surfboards were once made of wood and shaped by hand objects of both cultural and recreational significance Today most surfboards are mass produced with fiberglass and a stew of petrochemicals moving or floating billboards for athletes and their brands emphasizing the commercial rather than the cultural Surf Craft maps this evolution examining surfboard design and craft with 150 color images and an insightful text From the ancient Hawaiian alaia the traditional board of the common people to the unadorned boards designed with mathematical precision but built by hand by Bob Simmons to the store bought longboards popularized by the 1959 surf exploitation movie Gidget board design reflects both aesthetics and history The decline of traditional alaia board riding is not only an example of a lost art but also a metaphor for the disintegration of traditional culture after the Republic of Hawaii was overthrown and annexed in the 1890s In his text Richard Kenvin looks at the craft and design of surfboards from a historical and cultural perspective He views board design as an exemplary model of mingei or art of the people and the craft philosophy of Soetsu Yanagi Yanagi believed that a design's true beauty and purpose are revealed when it is put to its intended use In its purest form the craft of board building along with the act of surfing itself exemplifies mingei Surf Craft pays particular attention to Bob Simmons's boards which are striking examples of this kind of functional design mirroring the work of postwar modern California designers Surf Craft is published in conjunction with an exhibition at San Diego's Mingei International Museum
