Salaman, 1970-10-01 First published in 1949 this remarkable book is the culmination of a life long study of every aspect of the potato Dr Salaman is concerned first with the history of the potato as a member of the botanical genus Solanum its adaptation by man as a cultivated plant and the record of its spread throughout the world secondly he considers the influence the potato has exerted upon the social structure and economy of different peoples at different times The archaeological and anthropological evidence for the early significance of the potato among the peoples of Latin America is discussed in detail with numerous illustrations but the central portion of the book is concerned with the European and particularly the Irish evidence Naturally the Great Hunger is the most dramatic single episode in the entire work and Dr Salaman does full justice to his tragic theme concluding with the observation that in Ireland the potato ended in wrecking both exploited and exploiter Elegantly written with numerous vivid anecdotes Salaman s History has long enjoyed the status of a classic This revised impression with a new introduction and emendations by Professor J G Hawkes enables another generation of readers to sample what Eric Hobsbawm has referred to as that magnificent monument of scholarship and humanity The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History Jeannie M. Whayne, 2024

Agricultural history has enjoyed a rebirth in recent years in part because the agricultural enterprise promotes economic and cultural connections in an era that has become ever more globally focused but also because of agriculture s potential to lead to conflicts over precious resources The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History reflects this rebirth and examines the wide reaching implications of agricultural issues featuring essays that touch on the green revolution the development of the Atlantic slave plantation the agricultural impact of the American Civil War the rise of scientific and corporate agriculture and modern exploitation of agricultural labor
