Mark Vanhoenacker spent his childhood dreaming of elsewhere of the distant real cities he found on the illuminated globe in his bedroom and of one perfect metropolis that existed only in his imagination These cities were the sources of endless comfort and escape and of a lasting fascination Streets unspooled towers shone and anonymous crowds bustled in the places where Mark hoped he could someday be anyone perhaps even himself Now as a commercial airline pilot Mark has spent nearly two decades crossing the skies of our planet and touching down in dozens of the storied cities he imagined as a child He experiences these destinations during brief stays that he repeats month after month and year after year giving him an unconventional and uniquely vivid perspective on the places that form our urban world In this intimate yet expansive work that weaves travelogue with memoir Mark celebrates the cities he has come to know and to love through the lens of the hometown his heart has never quite left As he explores emblematic facets of each city s identity the road signs of Los Angeles the old gates of Jeddah the snowy streets of Sapporo he shows us with warmth and fresh eyes the extraordinary places that billions of us call home

The Pony Express Trail William E. Hill,2010-03-01 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for Caxton Press It operated less than two years It lost an enormous amount of money But the Pony Express delivered the mail across a continent at a critical time and captured the imagination of people all over the world like few events in the history of the American West
