The Homoeopathic Treatment of Alcoholism Jean-Pierre Gallavardin,1890 The Homoeopathic Treatment of Alcoholism Jean-Pierre Gallavardin,2023-11-21 Alcoholism today is a great social evil This manual fills or at least occupies a void that has hitherto existed in the homoeopathic literature It commands the respectful attention and study of all thoughtful homeopaths The Homeopathic Treatment of Alcoholism Jean-Pierre Gallavardin,2009 Homeopathic Treatment of Alcoholism Jean-Pierre Gallavardin,2020-10 Treatment Matching in Alcoholism Thomas F. Babor,Frances K. Del Boca,2003 Project MATCH was a large scale treatment evaluation study established by the U S National Institute on Alcohol Abuse to determine whether the treatment of alcoholism could be improved by matching different types of alcoholics with the most appropriate kinds of treatment This book edited by the two principal investigators is the first comprehensive report of Project MATCH the largest alcoholism treatment study ever conducted It describes the rationale methods results and implications of the study and presents new findings about how treatment works for whom it is most effective and who does best in different kinds of treatment It also offers some of the first scientific evidence of the effectiveness of Alcoholics Anonymous DEGR The Homoeopathic World ,1872 The Homoeopathic Treatment of Alcoholism Jean-Pierre Gallavardin,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1890 edition Excerpt VI There will be noted in the effects of remedies upon drunkards numerous individual diversities even a few that are contradictory For instance under the influence of Nux vom 200th one drunkard who was made drunk by a glass of wine will be able to drink several glasses without getting drunk at all another patient who could not be made drunk with less than two bottles of wine will thenceforth be made drunk by a single glass of the same wine which he no longer will be able to stand After having taken this remedy unbeknown to himself one drunkard will no longer have that thirst which leads him to drink wine another will feel such a repulsion for that drink that he will no longer wish to drink anything but water a third one ceasing to be a drunkard will not change any in disposition a fourth one on the contrary after having been cured of drunkenness will no longer be jealous or sensitive or easily angered but will become amiable and obliging toward his wife and children All that precedes gives a glimpse of the numerous individual modifications of dispositions which occur daily under the influence either of the abandonment of drink or the action of the remedies administered I cannot detail here the observations daily increasing in number of men and women of all classes whom I have treated for drunkenness In order to show the reader what psychical treatment can do against these passions I shall only mention cases in which drunkenness was cured rapidly or gradually by one two or more remedies other cases in which drunkenness ameliorated or done away with temporarily again seized its victim to be again cured by the second treatment or not to be cured again at all if treatment was not resumed Observation Psychism & Homoeopathy Jean-pierre Gallavardin,1997-12-31 St. Louis Journal of Homeopathy and
