Teaching as a Human Experience Patrick Blessinger, Karen J. Head, 2015-09-18 The poems in this collection deal with the real life worlds of professors instructors lecturers teachers and others working in education This volume covers contemporary teaching experiences in education including the many roles that teachers play such as instructing lecturing mentoring facilitating coaching guiding and leading This volume covers the manifold life experiences and perspectives of being and working as a teacher in education and the epiphanies experienced in that role This volume gives creative voice to the full range of experiences by teachers students and others and empowers readers with inspiration and personal agency as they evolve as self creating self determining authors of their own lives both personally and professionally The poems in this volume are largely based on teachers meaningful experiences in and out of the classroom and will provide artistic inspiration and creative insight to others who currently work as teachers or those students who are preparing to be professors instructors and teachers or those students who simply enjoy the creative voice of others

Graduate Theological Education and the Human Experience of Disability Robert C. Anderson, 2003 Create pathways in theological education and congregational practice for people with disabilities Graduate Theological Education and the Human Experience of Disability examines graduate schools of theology and their limited familiarity with the study of disability and the presence of people with disabilities in particular on their campuses Dubbed a missing note by one theologian this text offers critical research and illuminates new pathways for theologia and practice in the community of faith Reviews of previous literature theology and practices illuminate how people with disabilities have historically been marginalized by the religious community Theologians people with disabilities and researchers offer suggestions for incorporating disability studies into theological education and religious life This text contains firsthand testimony from people with disabilities who are the necessary sources of wisdom for overcoming barriers By infusing education into existing theological curriculum seminaries may better prepare their students for leadership and ministry in their congregations People with disabilities number 18% of the population yet represent only 5.7% of congregational membership This book explores aspects of theology and disability such as the challenges faced by theological schools that desire to improve both theological curriculum and facilities a review of literature that connects theology and disability from sources such as scripture history faith traditions and social theory the various ideologies that shape the way the human body is understood redefining normal in theological education an overview of critical boundaries that mark the limits and possibilities for theological inquiry about the human experience of disability creative concepts that religious communities may use to better include people with disabilities and their families how the religious community may benefit from the gifts talents and leadership of people with disabilities Graduate Theological Education and the Human Experience of Disability contains a reprint of Dr Harold Wilke's landmark 1978 article from Theological Education published by the Association of Theological Schools Dr Wilke born without arms was the theologian minister and scholar who first articulated the need to address the human experience of disability in both theological education and congregational life With extensive biographies and inclusive liturgies this innovative text is a valuable resource for seminary professors and leaders clergy and disability advocates

The Logic of the Spirit in Human Thought and Experience Keith J White, Dana R Wright, 2015-02-26 In March 2012 a small consultation convened on the campus of Princeton Theological Seminary where James E Loder Jr had served for forty years as the Mary D Synnott Professor of the Philosophy of Christian Education Members from the Child Theology Movement had begun to read Loder's work and they wanted to go further So they invited former students of Loder's to meet with them for conversations about things that really mattered to them and to Loder human beings and especially children the church's witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ and discerning the work of Spiritus Creator in the postmodern world The conversations proved rich and rewarding and some would even say they took on a life of their own serious scholarship set to the music of the Spirit's communion creating artistry forming new relationships inspiring new ideas and sustaining all of it amid much laughter joy and hope These essays taken from the papers delivered at the consultation are offered as a means of extending that conversation inspired by Loder's interdisciplinary practical theological science and his discernment of the Critical Human Rights Education Michalinos Zembylas, André Keet, 2019-08-30 This book engages with human rights and human rights education HRE in ways that offer opportunities for criticality and renewal It takes up various ideas from critical and decolonial theories to philosophers and intellectuals to theorize the renewal of HRE as Critical Human Rights Education The point of departure is that the acceptable truths of human rights are seldom critically examined and productive interpretations for understanding and acting in a world that is soaked in the violations these rights try to address cannot emerge The book cultivates a critical view of human rights in education and beyond and revisits receivable categories of human rights to advance social justice oriented educational praxes It focuses on the ways that issues of human rights philosophy and education come together and how a critical project of their entanglements creates openings for rethinking human rights education HRE both theoretically and in praxis Given the persistence of issues of human rights worldwide this book will be useful to researchers and educators across disciplines and in numerous parts of the world Generating Tact and Flow for Effective Teaching and Learning Susanna M. Steeg Thornhill, Ken Badley, 2020-11-26 This book draws from and analyzes teachers and students stories of great classes in order to promote teachers development of pedagogical tact and to encourage flow states for students Taken together these theoretical lenses pedagogical tact and flow provide a valuable framework for understanding and motivating classroom engagement As the authors suggest tactful teachers are more likely to see their students in flow than teachers who struggle with basic classroom routines and practices Grounded in narrative research and written for pre service teachers the book offers strategies for replicating these first hand accounts of peak classroom teaching and learning Encyclopedia of Death and the Human Experience Clifton D.
