The Human Puzzle An Introduction To Social Psychology:

The Human Puzzle Jack Levin, William C. Levin, 1988 An Introduction to Social Psychology Charles Abram Ellwood, 1917 An Introduction to Social Psychology William McDougall, 1908 Beyond Pug's Tour, 2022-06-08 At a time when the world Europe especially is once more threatened by murderous conflicts between groups of people claiming ethnic and national identity as a basis for sovereignty over specific territories it is timely to consider the part that literature has played and is playing in the creation of ethnic and national stereotypes What role do such stereotypes have in literature How are they created From what materials are they constructed What purpose do ethnic and national stereotypes serve Can it ever be a useful one Are they avoidable Can we live without them What can be done about the deleterious effects they may be thought to produce Stereotyping is worldwide is there a tribe race and nation in existence which escapes being stereotyped by its neighbours In what sense are these stereotypes accurate How are these stereotypes reflected in and reinforced by literature Should and can literature do anything about them In Beyond Pug's Tour National and Ethnic Stereotyping in Theory and Literary Practice literary scholars as well as academics engaged in sociological and psychological research consider these and other questions by examining the work of specific authors and the circumstances in which stereotyping plays such a crucial part White Lies about the Inuit John Steckley, 2008-01-01 In this lively book designed specifically for introductory students Steckley unpacks three white lies the myth that there are fifty two words for snow that there are blond blue eyed Inuit descended from the Vikings and that the Inuit send off their elders to die on ice floes The Journal of Abnormal Psychology and Social Psychology, 1924 Aboriginal Voices and the Politics of Representation in Canadian Introductory Sociology Textbooks John Steckley, 2003 The philosophical underpinnings of this textbook make it a most interesting read for scholars of Aboriginal Studies the social sciences humanities and cultural studies and humanistic curriculum development John Steckley's familiarity with and respect for the epistemology of the Huron Mohawk and Ojibwa peoples enlightens and enables his research In this book he provides a critical framework for assessing Aboriginal content in introductory sociology textbooks He defines what is missing from the seventy seven texts included in his study of the manifestation of cultural hegemony in Canadian sociology textbooks This critique is suitable for students and professors of sociology as Dr Steckley addresses the impact of the ellipses from the textbooks they have traditionally used Self and Nation Stephen Reicher, Nick Hopkins, 2001-01-26 Self and Nation is a lively and accessible exploration of the issues related to nationhood nationalism and national identity The authors challenge common assumptions of what national identity means by addressing key concepts of identity national character national history and nationalist psychology How do constructions of national identity affect the way people act are mobilized transform societies create nations and reshape nations where they already exist This book shows how the central notion of national identity is used by politicians and activists in support of attempts to create different types of nations Self and Nation will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as researchers in social psychology politics sociology and social anthropology Innovating in Practice Tiziana Russo-Spena, Cristina Mele, Maaria Nuutinen, 2016-11-13 The purpose of the book is to devise an alternative conceptual vocabulary for studying innovation by stressing the role of social contextual and cultural perspectives This vocabulary is drawn on a service and on sociological perspectives on innovation based on the ontological assumption that innovation is a value co creation matter and that it takes place in a reality that is multiple constructed and socially embedded The aim is to tackle key issues such as social construction service innovation knowledge and learning processes value co creation innovating and innovation activities networking and collaborative innovation
