, 1996 Collecting as Modernist Practice Jeremy Braddock, 2012-02-15 Winner of the Modernist Studies Association Book Prize of the Modernist Studies Association In this highly original study Jeremy Braddock focuses on collective forms of modernist expression the art collection the anthology and the archive and their importance in the development of institutional and artistic culture in the United States Using extensive archival research Braddock's study synthetically examines the overlooked practices of major American art collectors and literary editors Albert Barnes Alain Locke Duncan Phillips Alfred Kreyenborg Amy Lowell Ezra Pound Katherine Dreier and Carl Van Vechten He reveals the way collections were devised as both models for modernism's future institutionalization and culturally productive objects and aesthetic forms in themselves Rather than anchoring his study in the familiar figures of the individual poet artist and work Braddock gives us an entirely new account of how modernism was made one centered on the figure of the collector and the practice of collecting Collecting as Modernist Practice demonstrates that modernism's cultural identity was secured not so much through the selection of a canon of significant works as by the development of new practices that shaped the social meaning of art Braddock has us revisit the contested terrain of modernist culture prior to the dominance of institutions such as the Museum of Modern Art and the university curriculum so that we might consider modernisms that could have been Offering the most systematic review to date of the Barnes Foundation an intellectual genealogy and analysis of The New Negro anthology and studies of a wide range of hitherto ignored anthologies and archives Braddock convincingly shows how artistic and literary collections helped define the modernist movement in the United States Spirit of Africa, 1982 The Archaeology of Liberty in an American Capital Mark Leone, 2005-12-29 The Archaeology of Liberty in an American Capital is the work of a mature scholar reporting on one of the most important large scale and long range projects in contemporary American archaeology Randall McGuire author of The Archaeology of Inequality Many would argue the Mark Leone is the most distinguished practitioner of historical archaeology in the United States and one of the most prominent in the world Thomas C Patterson coeditor of Making Alternative Histories Decolonising Design in Africa Yaw

Ofosu-Asare,2024-09-30 Decolonising Design in Africa offers a groundbreaking exploration of design education in Africa through a decolonial lens By examining the colonial legacies that have shaped design education in Africa it foregrounds the problematic ways that current pedagogical approaches primarily reflect western values and priorities This book advocates for integrating Indigenous knowledge cultural practices and philosophies into contemporary African design education It spans a wide geographical and temporal range from historical analyses of colonial influences to envisioning decolonised African design futures It delves into diverse aspects including spirituality in design cultural symbolism sustainable practices and the ethical dimensions of decolonising design Pioneering in its interdisciplinary approach the book weaves together theoretical discussions methodological innovations like storytelling and practical strategies for curriculum reform It presents inspiring case studies of designers and educators who are actively decolonising their practices Decolonising Design in Africa is a vital resource for design educators students practitioners and policymakers not just in Africa but worldwide It makes a compelling case for reimagining design education in a more inclusive contextually relevant and socially conscious way The book's ultimate aim is to cultivate a new generation of designers equipped to address the complex challenges of a decolonising world The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter,2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries Word, Image, and the New Negro Anne Elizabeth Carroll,2005 This book focuses on the collaborative illustrated volumes published during the Harlem Renaissance in which African Americans used written and visual texts to shape ideas about themselves and to redefine African American identity Anne Elizabeth Carroll argues that these volumes show how participants in the movement engaged in the processes of representation and identity formation in sophisticated and largely successful ways Though they have received little scholarly attention these volumes constitute an important aspect of the cultural production of the Harlem Renaissance Word Image and the New Negro marks the beginning of a long overdue recovery of this legacy and points the way to a greater understanding of the potential of texts to influence social change Anne Elizabeth Carroll is Assistant Professor of English at Wichita State University
