Spirit Of Place:

The Spirit of Place Loren Cruden,1995-09 All of Earth's life is interconnected and sacred. An awareness of that sacred relationship opens a direct path to spiritual understanding. These powerful techniques join mind, will, spirit, and intuition to the plants, animals, and minerals sharing our world, aligning the practitioner in a deeper relationship with life's sacred matrix.

The Art of Ruskin and the Spirit of Place John Dixon Hunt,2020-10-14 English art critic John Ruskin was one of the great visionaries of his time, and his influential books and letters on the power of art challenged the foundations of Victorian life. He loved looking. Sometimes it informed the things he wrote, but often it provided access to the many topographical and cultural topics he explored: rocks, plants, birds, Turner, Venice, the Alps. In The Art of Ruskin and the Spirit of Place, John Dixon Hunt focuses for the first time on what Ruskin drew rather than wrote, offering a new perspective on Ruskin's visual imagination. Through analysis of more than 150 drawings and sketches (many reproduced here), he shows how Ruskin's art shaped his writings, his thoughts, and his sense of place.

Spirits of Place in American Literary Culture John Gatta,2018 What might it mean existentially and spiritually to form an intimate relation with discrete places on earth? This book offers a uniquely integrative perspective on the matter. Centered on analyzing US literatures, it reflects a theological phenomenology cognizant of the spiritualities grounded in First Nature as well as settled spaces.

Spirit of Place Lawrence Durrell,1988 The Soul of Place Linda Lappin,2015-04-20 This is such a pleasure to read. Unlike most books with writing prompts, this one goes in depth with sensitizing you to ground yourself in awareness of where you are and why. Grazie, Linda, for this marvelous work. Frances Mayes, author of Under the Tuscan Sun. In this engaging creative writing workbook, novelist and poet Linda Lappin presents a series of insightful exercises to help writers of all genres (literary, travel, writing, memoir, poetry, fiction, creative nonfiction) discover imagery and inspiration in the places they love. Lappin departs from the classical concept of the Genius Loci, the indwelling spirit residing in every landscape, house, city, or forest, to argue that by entering into contact with the unique energy and identity of a place, writers can access an inexhaustible source of creative power. The Soul of Place provides instruction on how to evoke that power. The writing exercises are drawn from many fields: architecture, painting, cuisine, literature, and literary criticism, geography, and deep maps, Jungian psychology, fairy tales, mythology, theater, and performance art, metaphysics, all of which offer surprising perspectives on our writing and may help us uncover raw materials for fiction, essays, and poetry hidden in our environment. An essential resource book for the writer's library, this book is ideal for creative writing courses with stimulating exercises adaptable to all genres. For writers or travelers about to set out on a trip abroad, The Soul of Place is the perfect road trip companion, attuning our senses to a deeper awareness of place.

Spirits of the Place John Clifford Holt,2009-07-29 Spirits of the Place is a rare and timely contribution to our understanding of religious culture in Laos and Southeast Asia. Most often studied as a part of Thai, Vietnamese, or Khmer history, Laos remains a terra incognita to most Westerners and to many of the people living throughout Asia, as well. John Holt's new book brings this fascinating nation into focus With its overview of Lao Buddhism and analysis of how shifting political power from royalty to democracy to communism has impacted Lao religious culture the book offers an integrated account of the entwined political and religious history of Laos from the fourteenth century to the contemporary era Holt advances the provocative argument that common Lao knowledge of important aspects of Theravada Buddhist thought and practice has been heavily conditioned by an indigenous religious culture dominated by the veneration of phi spirits whose powers are thought to prevail over and within specific social and geographical domains The enduring influence of traditional spirit cults in Lao culture and society has brought about major changes in how the figure of the Buddha and the powers associated with Buddhist temples and reliquaries indeed how all ritual spaces and times have been understood by the Lao Despite vigorous attempts by Buddhist royalty French rationalists and most recently by communist ideologues to eliminate the worship of phi spirit cults have not been displaced they continue to persist and show no signs of abating Not only have the spirits resisted eradication but they have withstood synthesis subordination and transformation by Buddhist political and ecclesiastical powers Rather than reduce Buddhist religious culture to a set of simple commonalities Holt takes a comparative approach using his nearly thirty years experience with Sri Lanka to elucidate what is unique about Lao Buddhism This stimulating book invites students in the fields of the history of religion and Buddhist and Southeast Asian studies to take a fresh look at prevailing assumptions and perhaps reconsider the place of Buddhism in Laos and Southeast Asia     Spirit of Place; Letters and Essays on Travel Lawrence Durrell,1969     A Sense of the American West James E. Sherow,1998-10 An anthology of diverse approaches and issues in the environmental history of the American West     Poetics of Place Dermot McCarthy,1990-12-01 Dermot McCarthy has made extensive use of manuscripts correspondence and other archival material to uncover the complexity and genius of Gustafson s creativity He traces Gustafson s development from an early adolescent romanticism to his later modernist and post modernist approaches and situates this progression in the context of the general shifts in poetic approach and theory which took place during the same period A Poetics of Place surveys not only the life of a poet but the evolution of literary sensibilities from the thirties to the eighties Rather than force Gustafson s work into a theoretical matrix McCarthy has avoided critical jargon and fads of literary theory and has focused on Gustafson as a writer providing a perceptive and detailed analysis of all the major poems and volumes McCarthy shows Gustafson s appreciation of the local his poetics of place to be a distinguishing feature of his genius McCarthy allows the reader to return to the poetry itself     Sense of Place, Health and Quality of Life Allison Williams,2016-12-05 A significant body of theoretical and empirical studies describes sense of place as an outcome of interconnected psychological social and environmental processes in relation to physical place s Sense of place has been examined particularly in human geography in terms of both the character intrinsic to a place as a localized bounded and material entity and the sentiments of attachment detachment that humans experience and express in relation to specific places Scholars in a wide range of disciplines are increasingly exploring the relationship between place and health and recently the field of public health has been encouraged to recognize sense of place as a potential contributing factor to well being It is evident that over the last few decades sense of place has developed into a versatile construct This important book brings together work related to sense of place and health broadly defined from the perspective of a variety of fields and disciplines It will give the reader an understanding of both the range of applications of this construct within approaches to human health as well as the breadth of research methodologies employed in its investigation Mediated

Identities in the Futures of Place: Emerging Practices and Spatial Cultures Lakshmi Priya Rajendran, NezHapi Dellé Odeleye, 2020-01-02 This book examines the emerging problems and opportunities that are posed by media innovations spatial typologies and cultural trends in re shaping identities within the fast changing milieus of the early 21st Century Addressing a range of social and spatial scales and using a phenomenological frame of reference the book draws on the works of Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Don Hide to bridge the seemingly disparate yet related theoretical perspectives across a number of disciplines Various perspectives are put forward from media human geography cultural studies technologies urban design and architecture etc and looked at thematically from networked culture and digital interface and other perspectives The book probes the ways in which new digital media trends affect how and what we communicate and how they drive and reshape our everyday practices This mediatization of space with fast evolving communication platforms and applications of digital representations offers challenges to our notions of space identity and culture and the book explores the diverse yet connected levels of technology and people interaction A Sense of Place Steven Kolpan, 2010 In

A Sense of Place renowned wine expert and writer Steven Kolpan tells the story of how Francis Ford Coppola brought California's most distinguished and historic vineyard back to life Gustave Niebaum's Inglenook Estate started in 1879 was one of the Napa Valley's first established vineyards and the birthplace of its premium wine industry Generations after Niebaum's death the vineyard was sold to Heublein the wine and spirits monolith who broke up the land and changed the Inglenook brand from a premium connoisseur wine to a mass market jug wine In 1975 Francis Coppola bought the Niebaum residence and the surrounding estate Along with the original estate's reputation he also brought back some of its original workers including Rafael Rodriguez who in his late seventies now serves as the vineyard manager and historian Coppola overcame naysayers red tape and financial turmoil to reestablish the winery as a defender of quality producing wine under four different labels including the revered wine Rubicon In 1995 Coppola purchased the Inglenook Chateau and its adjacent vineyards fulfilling his dream of reuniting the original Napa Valley estate Kolpan's luscious flavorful narrative is worth enjoying now and keeping for later Tourist's Experience of Place Jaakko Suvantola, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 This volume follows on from the tradition of humanistic geography to examine tourism from an experiential perspective examining the experience of the tourists themselves By analyzing theories on tourism from anthropology psychology and cultural tourism it aims to further the geographical debates on interactions which occur in tourism The text offers a geographical approach which examines how the resulting experience of tourism can reveal something of our relationship with places in general and also about ourselves

Visions of Paradise John Warfield Simpson, 1999-04-15 This book synthesizes views of America's changing environment and the Ideal of that environment from the time of the Founding Fathers to the present. It is an exceptionally engaging account of American attitudes toward pristine and altered landscapes which they encountered, settled in, modified and moved westward from during the last three centuries

Heidegger and the Thinking of Place Jeff Malpas, 2017-03-03 The philosophical significance of place in Heidegger's work and as the focus of a distinctive mode of philosophical thinking. The idea of place (topos) runs through Martin Heidegger's thinking almost from the very start. It can be seen not only in his attachment to the famous hut in Todtnauberg but in his constant deployment of topological terms and images and in the situated, placed character of his thought and of its major themes and motifs. Heidegger's work argues Jeff Malpas exemplifies the practice of philosophical topology. In Heidegger and the Thinking of Place Malpas examines the topological aspects of Heidegger's thought and offers a broader elaboration of the philosophical significance of place. Doing so he provides a distinct and productive approach to Heidegger as well as a new reading of other key figures notably Kant, Aristotle, Gadamer and Davidson but also Benjamin Arendt and Camus. Malpas expands arguments he made in his earlier book Heidegger's Topology. MIT Press 2007 discusses such topics as the role of place in philosophical thinking, the topological character of the transcendental, the convergence of Heideggerian topology with Davidsonian triangulation, the necessity of mortality in the possibility of human life, the role of materiality in the working of art, the significance of nostalgia and the nature of philosophy as beginning in wonder. Philosophy Malpas argues begins in wonder and begins in place and the experience of place. The place of wonder of philosophy of questioning, he writes, is the very topos of thinking

Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Johnathan Djabarouti, 2024-01-23 Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation: Evolving Perspectives supports an alternative point of departure for engaging with the historic built environment by critically questioning the legitimacy of dominant conservation concepts and methods that are often taken for granted within building conservation architecture and adaptive reuse The meaning of heritage is changing From pastness to presentness from preservation to participation and from tangible to intangible heritage is increasingly understood as a dynamic social and intangible process across many disciplines Consequently the role and remit of the built heritage practitioner and in particular the architectural conservationist is becoming progressively complex and in need of a critical gaze Is restoration really a falsehood from beginning to end Should the condition of existing materials determine the conservation method Is authenticity really an inherent quality within old buildings By engaging with a critical interpretation of heritage this book makes space for practitioners to consider the evolution of their own role within a rapidly changing context of built heritage practice Reinforced by a shift in emphasis from materials to meanings a socio material outlook is proposed which champions an enhanced focus on intangible heritage within the built heritage sector whilst still acknowledging the physical condition of old buildings is a priority for many stakeholders This book has been written with practitioners students and educators of architectural conservation in mind although will also be of relevance to the broader built heritage industry as well as academics researchers and heritage students with a passion for contemporary dialogues in heritage studies

Building for Life Stephen R. Kellert, 2012-09-26 Sustainable design has made great strides in recent years unfortunately it still falls short of fully integrating nature into our built environment Through a groundbreaking new paradigm of restorative environmental design award winning author Stephen R Kellert proposes a new architectural model of sustainability In Building For Life Kellert examines the fundamental interconnectedness of people and nature and how the loss of this connection results in a diminished quality of life This thoughtful new work illustrates how architects and designers can use simple methods to address our innate needs for contact with nature Through the use of natural lighting ventilation and materials as well as more unexpected methodologies the use of metaphor perspective enticement and symbol architects can greatly enhance our daily lives These design techniques foster intellectual development relaxation and physical and emotional well being In the works of architects like Frank Lloyd Wright Eero Saarinen Cesar Pelli Norman Foster and Michael Hopkins Kellert sees the success of these strategies and presents models for moving forward Ultimately Kellert views our fractured relationship with nature as a design problem rather than an unavoidable aspect of modern life and he proposes many practical and creative solutions for cultivating a more rewarding experience of nature in our built environment and the Visual Translation of Place, 500-1500 Renana Bartal, Neta Bodner, Bianca Kuhnel, 2017-04-21 Natural Materials of the Holy Land and the Visual Translation of Place 500 1500 focuses on the unique ways that natural materials carry the spirit of place Since early Christianity wood earth water and stone were taken from loca sancta to signify them elsewhere Academic discourse has indiscriminately grouped material tokens from holy places and their containers with architectural and topographical emulations two dimensional images and bodily relics However unlike textual or visual representations natural materials do not describe or interpret the Holy Land they are part of it Tangible and timeless they realize the meaning of their place of origin in new locations What makes earth stones or bottled water transported from holy sites sacred How do they become pars pro toto signifying the whole from which they were taken This book will examine natural media used for translating loca sancta the processes of their sanctification and how although inherently abstract they become charged with meaning It will address their metamorphosis natural or induced how they change the environment to which they are transported their capacity to translate a static and distant site elsewhere the effect of their relocation on users viewers and how their containers and staging are used to communicate their substance
