The early history and culture of these communities is reconstructed from the accounts of explorers, travelers, and the early writings of the Methodist missionaries at Wascopam. In particular, the papers of Reverend Henry Perkins Boyd cover early nineteenth century cultural geography, subsistence economy, social structure, life cycle rituals, and religion. People of The Dalles also details the changes that occurred to these people's traditional life ways including their relationship with Methodism following the devastating epidemics of the early 1830s.
