and the Worms Carlo Ginzburg,2013-10-15 The now classic tale of a sixteenth century miller facing the Roman Inquisition The Cheese and the Worms is an incisive study of popular culture in the sixteenth century as seen through the eyes of one man the miller known as Menocchio who was accused of heresy during the Inquisition and sentenced to death Carlo Ginzburg uses the trial records to illustrate the religious and social conflicts of the society Menocchio lived in For a common miller Menocchio was surprisingly literate In his trial testimony he made references to more than a dozen books including the Bible Boccaccio s Decameron Mandeville s Travels and a mysterious book that may have been the Koran And what he read he recast in terms familiar to him as in his own version of the creation All was chaos that is earth air water and fire were mixed together and of that bulk a mass formed just as cheese is made out of milk and worms appeared in it and these were the angels Ginzburg s influential book has been widely regarded as an early example of the analytic case oriented approach known as microhistory In a thoughtful new preface Ginzburg offers his own corollary to Menocchio s story as he considers the discrepancy between the intentions of the writer and what gets written The Italian miller s story and Ginzburg s work continue to resonate with modern readers because they focus on how oral and written culture are inextricably linked Menocchio s 500 year old challenge to authority remains evocative and vital today Thoughts and Gleanings Ralph

Life in Christ William Robert West, 2015-09-29 What do you believe about souls There are many very different doctrines taught in the world today concerning souls that are believed to be in all humans By most a soul is believed to be something that is wholly apart from the person a soul is in that a soul is something that is that is believed to be complete in its self without the person it will live after the person it is in is dead it is believed that a soul will exist forever without the person it will never be dead therefore a soul cannot be resurrected from the dead It is believed that a soul must live someplace forever and it will live either in Heaven or Hell even if there is no resurrection The doctrine of unconditional immortality of a deathless soul being in a person and that soul leaving that person at the death of the person makes it impossible for Christ to have give His life to save that soul from death if a soul had immortality it would already have life and could never not have life all Christ could do is give it a reward or punish it
