Souls Karl D. Hostetler, 2011-06-16 The simple premise of this book is that the purpose of education is to serve the well being of students Well being might seem to be an obvious aim for education but it has been given insufficient attention and often is poorly understood Karl D Hostetler asks What does it mean for a human being to live a good life to experience well being How as individuals and a society can we debate and evaluate the quality of lives What classroom practices would be conducive to furthering the welfare of our students Hostetler explores how teachers can seduce students souls guiding and provoking while still respecting individuals rights to conceive and live a fulfilling life for themselves He prompts serious reflection about the purposes of education and challenges dominant ideas about the aims of education the politics of policy making and the practice of teaching Seducing Souls argues eloquently and provocatively for the necessity of experiences that touch the soul that elevate the young self so that students can better understand life and discern value God, Morality, and Beauty Randall B. Bush, 2019-07-01 Randall B Bush analyzes the ways unacknowledged axiological assumptions e.g about what is important why human beings are valuing creatures and where the capacity to value comes from prejudice the perspectives and approaches of various academic disciplines especially in the social sciences and the humanities The disciplines of ethics and aesthetics provide the most useful tools for a philosophy of value but academic overspecialization has compartmentalized and segregated these disciplines from others threatening to unravel the unity of conceptions of the moral and the beautiful in human existence Bush argues that a dialectical approach to conflicts between ethics and aesthetics can point to a broader axiological vision informed by a Trinitarian conception of reality in which the whole a coherent theory of value is more than the sum of its parts
