C. G. Jung and Hans Urs von Balthasar Les Oglesby, 2013-10-23 This book brings together the work of Carl Gustav Jung and Hans Urs von Balthasar two of the most creative thinkers in psychology and theology in the twentieth century to critically compare their ideas on the perennial question of God's involvement with evil In later life Jung embarked on a project relating to Christianity with psychotherapeutic and theological intentions forming his collection of essays Symbolik des Geistes in which God and evil was a major theme Balthasar gave significant attention to Jung's psychology in his own theological trilogy but opposed the approach to God and evil that Jung presented In this book Les Oglesby provides a thorough examination of convergences and divergences in Jung and Balthasar's thinking their different approaches to the origins and reality of evil as well as their alternative theological orientations The book culminates with a study of each man's understanding of the central event of Christianity Christ's death on the Cross and his descent to the dead and discusses how Balthasar's vertical and Jung's horizontal approach to this major happening can be held together fruitfully with one another Illustrating how analytical psychology and Christian theology can mutually enrich one another when they are held in creative tension this book invites reflection on the meaning of the central symbol of Christianity and God's involvement with evil as an aid to integrated psychological living and theological maturity It will prove fascinating for students of psychology and religion as well as for Jungian analysts and practical theologians Ideological Possession and the Rise of the New Right Laurie M.

Johnson, 2019-05-16 Political theorist Laurie M Johnson deals with Jung's analysis of the effects of modern scientific rationalism on the development of communism fascism and Nazism in the 20th century and applies this analysis to the rise of the New Right in the 21st century Jung's thought provides much needed insight into contemporary ideologies such as neoliberalism Identitarianism and the Alt Right Johnson explains Jungian analytical psychology as it relates to these topics with a chapter devoted to Jung's views of Friedrich Nietzsche who exemplifies the modern problem with his proclamation that God is dead and an in depth discussion of Jung's views on truth and the psychological function of religion as a safeguard against deadly mass movements She then turns to Jung's treatment of anti-Semitism and the Nazi movement and his views on race and racism Johnson applies these historical insights to the current manifestations of mass psychological disruption in the clash between neoliberals and the right wing populist and Identitarian movements on the rise in North America and Europe She concludes by discussing the search for an authentic and meaningful life in a West that rejects extremism and is open to authentic spiritual experiences as a counterbalance to mass mindedness Ideological Possession and the Rise of the New Right will appeal to both undergraduate and graduate students of psychology and intellectual history The book will also be of interest to those wishing to understand the new nationalist nativist and Identitarian movements

Psychotherapy, the Alchemical Imagination and Metaphors of Substance Alan Bleakley, 2023-07-04 Alchemy is popularly viewed as a secret way of turning worthless base metal into gold and then a precursor to modern chemistry This is often taken as a metaphor for psychological development This book describes an innovative third way for both the education and exercise of an alchemical imagination that embraces both material matters and psychological insight alchemy as lyrical poetics or the intensive production of embodied metaphor Alchemy here is viewed as an immanent set of metaphor driven best practices for indwelling complex and contradictory earthly matters in a sensual artistic and humane manner Or again it describes best psychotherapeutic practice Alchemy is read not as a medium for personal growth but optimal co-existence with the natural world It is an ecological rather than ego logical project with deep aesthetic concerns education of the senses in close noticing and political intentions a democracy of worldly things The book echoes post-Freudian developments in psychoanalysis that avoid the mysticism of symbol systems to work rather with everyday signs and linguistic registers such as embodied metaphors keeping the focus on known and sensed phenomena rather than abstractions

Derek Jarman's Visionary Arts Michael Charlesworth, 2024-05-16 Derek Jarman's place in the history of film is assured by virtue of his vibrant defiant films that experiment with the very process of film making and create new forms His paintings their excitements and their profundity are less well known Michael Charlesworth sheds light on the varied ramifications of Jarman's artistic practice from his years at Prospect Cottage Dungeness and provides the first book length study of his interest in depth psychology He draws on Jarman's paintings especially his landscapes from the 1960s and 70s his multiple series such as black and broken glass GBH Queer and Evil Queen and his last Ecstatic Landscapes 1991-3 He also showcases Jarman's excellence as a writer with respect to his memoir Kicking the Pricks In a novel approach to Jarman's cinema selecting films such as Journey to Avebury 1973 Caravaggio 1986 The Garden 1990 and Blue 1993 Charlesworth emphasizes themes and artistry rather than narrative Exploring the ways in which Jungian and post Jungian psychology were absorbed into Jarman's varied works Derek Jarman's Visionary Arts provides a fresh perspective on his painting film and writing It celebrates him as one of the major British artists of the late 20th century engaging with current debates about queer sexualities environmentalism and climate catastrophe

The Dove in the Consulting Room Greg Mogenson, 2004-06-02 Psychoanalysis began as a treatment for hysteria over a century ago and recently has returned to hysteria as a focus most notably in the works of Christopher Bollas and Juliet Mitchell This provocative and original book critically engages with psychoanalysis and in particular the phenomenon of the return of hysteria to analysis from a Jungian perspective asking such questions as what is the purpose of the concept of hysteria in psychoanalysis What does it say about the concept of the soul and of the analytical culture What place does spirituality generally have in psychoanalysis what place for the dove in the consulting room Drawing on the works of Jung Bollas Hillman and Giegerich the author provides a rich rejoinder to Bollas's proposed theory of hysteria and provides a unique Jungian analysis of analysis itself both Freudian and Jungian The Dove in the Consulting Room is illuminating reading for the professional analyst and for anyone interested in the spiritual and cultural importance of psychoanalysis and analytical psychology

Women and Evil Nel Noddings, 1991-05-08 Human beings love to fictionalize evil to terrorize each other with stories of defilement horror excruciating pain and divine retribution Beneath the surface of bewitchment and half sick amusement however lies the realization that evil is real and that people must find a way to face and overcome it What we require Carl Jung suggested is a morality of evil a carefully thought out plan by which to manage the evil in ourselves in others and in whatever deities we posit This book is not written from a Jungian perspective but it is nonetheless an attempt to describe a morality of evil One suspects that descriptions of evil and the so called problem of evil have been thoroughly suffused with male interests and conditioned by masculine experience This result could hardly have been avoided in a sexist culture and recognizing the truth of such a claim does not commit us to condemn every male philosopher and theologian who has written on the problem It suggests rather that we may get a clearer view of evil if we take a different standpoint The standpoint I take here will be that of women that is I will attempt to describe evil from the perspective of women's experience

Naming the Gods Gary D. Astrachan, 2019-11-29 Naming the Gods Cy Twombly s Passionate Poiesis concerns itself with the contemporary art work of Cy Twombly as seen against the deep background of classical Greek mythology In particular the two entwined figures and images of Orpheus lyre player lover and journeyer to the underworld and Dionysos Bacchus god of wine ecstasy and madness are taken up as the two principal thematic leitmotifs which animate and overarchingly inform Twombly s entire artistic oeuvre across all the mediums in which he worked both literally and symbolically from the early 1950 s until the last series of brilliantly colored paintings he made just before his death in 2011 His preoccupations with the rhythms of language poetry and writing on the one hand and his tendencies towards wildly expressive gestural abstraction on the other ultimately combine in his creation of a genuinely new and original performative aesthetic which unites and connects the powerful impulses of mark making painting and assembling with the basic human needs for individuation realization and redemption In a long and rich tradition of sublime poiesis spanning ancient Greek tragedy through Romanticism the poets Friedrich Hlderlin and Rainer Maria Rilke and into our own fragmented and imperiled postmodernist times Twombly s artistic corpus is viewed as providing a radically renovative relationship and practice for honoring working with and valorizing both psyche and matter the inner and outer worlds as well as with delimiting a uniquely germinative and seminal space for the further enactment of creative human doing making producing and being in reciprocal and intimate relationship with the otherness of things nature and the environment Gary D Astrachan Ph D is a clinical psychologist and Jungian psychoanalyst in private practice in Portland Maine He is a faculty member and supervising and training analyst at the C G Jung Institutes in Boston and in Switzerland and lectures and teaches widely throughout North America Latin America and Europe He is a founding member of the C G Jung Center of Brunswick Maine and is also an independent curator of contemporary art installations and exhibitions He is the author of numerous scholarly articles in professional journals and books and writes particularly on the relationship between analytical psychology and Greek mythology poetry painting film postmodernism and critical theory The Challenge of Epistemology Christina Toren, João de Pina-Cabral, 2011-10-01 Epistemology poses particular problems for anthropologists whose task it is to understand manifold ways of being human Through their work anthropologists often encounter people whose ideas concerning the nature and foundations of knowledge are at odds with their own Going right to the heart of anthropological theory and method this volume discusses issues that have vexed practicing anthropologists for a long time The authors are by no means in agreement with one another as to where the answers might lie Some are primarily concerned with the clarity and theoretical utility of analytical categories across disciplines others are more inclined to push ethnographic analysis to its limits in an effort to demonstrate what kind of sense it can make All are aware of the much wanted differences that good ethnography can make in explaining the human sciences and philosophy The contributors show a continued commitment to ethnography as a profoundly radical intellectual endeavor that goes to the very roots of inquiry into what it is to be human and to anthropology as a comparative project that should be central to any attempt to understand who we are Fusion of the Worlds Paul Stoller, 2024-05-31 This ethnography is more like a film than a book so well does Stoller evoke the color sight sounds and movements of Songhay possession ceremonies Choice Stoller brilliantly recreates the reality of spirit presence hosts are what they mediate and spirits become flesh and blood in the fusion with human existence An excellent demonstration of the benefits of a new genre of ethnographic writing It expands our understanding of the harsh world of Songhay mediums and sorcerers Bruce Kapferer American Ethnologist A vivid story that will appeal to a wide audience The voices of individual Songhay are evident and forceful throughout the story Like a painter Stoller is concerned with the rich surface of things with depicting images evoking sensations and enriching perceptions He has succeeded admirably Michael Lambek American Anthropologist Events ceremonies and life histories are evoked in cinematic style This book is approachable and absorbing it is well written uncluttered by jargon and elegantly structured Richard Fardon Times Higher Education Supplement Compelling insightful rich in ethnographic detail and worthy of becoming a classic in the scholarship on Africa Aidan Southall African Studies Review Jung's Life and Work C.
