Springboard In The Pond:

The Springboard in the Pond Thomas A. P. Van Leeuwen, Helen Searing, 2000-02 Although others have written eloquently on the relationship of water to built form until now no one has investigated the swimming pool as a quintessentially modern and American space reflecting America's infatuation with hygiene skin and recreation In The Springboard in the Pond Thomas van Leeuwen looks at a familiar hole the domestic swimming pool and discovers an icon indispensable to the reading of twentieth century modernism At one level the book is a rereading of modern architecture that will leave that story permanently altered At another level it is the story of the origin and evolution of the private swimming pool as a building type and cultural artifact And at still another level it is a material philosophy of water Van Leeuwen explores the human relationship to water from a variety of viewpoints social religious artistic sexual psychological technical and above all architectural

The Spring Board in the Pond Thomas A. P. Strokes of Genius Eric Chaline, 2017-08-15 What could be better than diving into cool water on a hot day In this enormously enjoyable and informative history of swimming Eric Chaline sums up this most summery of moments with one phrase pleasure beckons at the water's edge Strokes of Genius traces the history of swimming from the first civilizations to its current worldwide popularity as a sport fitness pastime and leisure activity Chaline explores swimming's role in ritual early trade and manufacturing warfare and medicine before describing its transformation in the early modern period into a leisure activity and a competitive sport the necessary precursors that have made it the most common physical pastime in the developed world The book celebrates the physicality and sensuality of swimming attributes that Chaline argues could have contributed to the evolution of the human species Swimming like other disciplines that use repetitive movements to train the body and quiet the mind is also a means of spiritual awakening a personal journey of discovery Swimming has attained the status of a cultural marker denoting eroticism leisure endurance adventure exploration and excellence Strokes of Genius shows that there is not a single story of human swimming but many currents that merge diverge and remerge Chaline argues that swimming will become particularly important as we look toward a warmer future in which our survival may depend on our ability to adapt to life in an aquatic world

Here Comes the Sun Ken Worpole, 2000-12-01 Here Comes the Sun looks at how social reformers planners and architects in the early twentieth century tried to remake the city in the image of a sunlit ordered utopia While much has been written about architectural modernism Worpole concentrates less on buildings and more on the planning of the spaces in between the parks public squares open air museums promenades public pools and other public leisure facilities Life in the open was of particular concern to early urban planners and reformers with their dreams of release from the confines of overcrowded unsanitary slums Picturing youthful working class bodies made healthy by exercise and tanned by the sun they imagined an escape route from cities Worpole demonstrates how open air public spaces became sought after commissions for many early modernist architects in the early 1900s resulting in the transformation of the European cityscape a fascinating account of the political idealism that informed urban planning for the first two thirds of the twentieth century full of insights into how public space influences a sense of belonging and ownership The Guardian This is one of those books you stroke lovingly Open it and there is page after page of beautiful photographs this book combines history society politics environment and place in a well written and emotive text The strength of the book is the way it crosses these traditional boundaries and disciplines Town and Country Planning Drawing on architectural theories philosophy literature and even film making Worpole s book is wide ranging and erudite and should be of interest to the layperson as well as to the urban planner It is also elegantly written and complemented by a mixture of black and white and colour photographs to provide a visual emphasis to the points he raises N16 Magazine Contested Waters Jeff Wiltse,2009-11-30 From nineteenth century public baths to today s private backyard havens swimming pools have long been a provocative symbol of American life In this social and cultural history of swimming pools in the United States Jeff Wiltse relates how over the years pools have served as asylums for the urban poor leisure resorts for the masses and private clubs for middle class suburbanites As sites of race riots shrinking swimsuits and conspicuous leisure swimming pools reflect many of the tensions and transformations that have given rise to modern America

Our Own Devices Edward Tenner,2004-06-08 This delightful and instructive history of invention shows why National Public Radio dubbed Tenner the philosopher of everyday technology Looking at how our inventions have impacted our world in ways we never intended or imagined he shows that the things we create have a tendency to bounce back and change us The reclining chair originally designed for brief healthful relaxation has become the very symbol of obesity The helmet invented for military purposes has made possible new sports like mountain biking and rollerblading The typewriter created to make business run more smoothly has resulted in wide spread vision problems which in turn have made people more reliant on another invention eyeglasses As he sheds light on the many ways inventions surprise and renew us Tenner considers where technology will take us in the future and what we can expect from the devices that we no longer seem able to live without Designing the Seaside Fred Gray,2006 In Designing the Seaside Fred Gray provides a history of seaside architecture from the 18th century to the present day investigating leisure entertainment taste fashion and gender and shows how the seaside even became a hotbed for moral and sexual issues from the early use of bathing machines to twentieth century beauty pageants and naturist groups He relates the evolution of resort architecture to sweeping changes in how seaside nature was experienced and used by holidaymakers The book also traces the history of the coastal resort with examples ranging from Regency Sidmouth to Victorian Scarborough and early 20th century Morecambe as well as assessing seaside developments in the USA and Continental Europe from Coney Island and Santa Barbara to Nice and Trouville Featuring many colourful informative and often entertaining photographs drawings guidebook illustrations postcards and publicity posters from resorts around the world Designing the Seaside is a thoroughly readable as well as a visually fascinating account of changing attitudes to holidaymaking and its setting BOOK JACKET Merleau-Ponty Patricia M.

Locke, Rachel McCann, 2016-01-25 Phenomenology has played a decisive role in the emergence of the discourse of place now indispensable to many disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and the contribution of Merleau Ponty's thought to architectural theory and practice is well established Merleau Ponty Space Place Architecture is a vibrant collection of original essays by twelve eminent philosophers who mine Merleau Ponty's work to consider how we live and create as profoundly spatial beings The resulting collection is essential to philosophers and creative artists as well as those concerned with the pressing ethical issues of our time Each contributor presents a different facet of space place or architecture These essays carve paths from Merleau Ponty to other thinkers such as Irigaray Deleuze Ettinger and Piaget As the first collection devoted specifically to developing Merleau Ponty's contribution to our understanding of place and architecture this book will speak to philosophers interested in the problem of space architectural theorists and a wide range of others in the arts and design community Contributors Nancy Barta Smith Edward S Casey Helen Fielding Lisa Guenther Galen A Johnson Randall Johnson D R Koukal Suzanne Cataldi Laba Patricia M Locke Glen Mazis Rachel McCann David Morris and Dorothea Olkowski
