Superfund Times To Complete The Assessment And Cleanup Of Hazardous Waste Sites:

Superfund James F. Donaghy, 1998-04 Superfund cleanup timing has been a long standing concern of the Congress EPA In the Superfund Amendments Reauthorization Act of 1986 the Congress set time goals for EPA federal agencies to evaluate individual nonfederal federal sites for placement on the National Priorities List NPL begin various cleanup actions In 1992 EPA introduced several initiatives designed to expedite Superfund cleanups This report examines trends in the time taken to evaluate process hazardous waste sites for possible placement on the NPL to clean up these sites following their listing

The U S Government Accountability Office GAO is an independent agency that works for Congress The GAO watches over Congress and investigates how the federal government spends taxpayers dollars The Comptroller General of the United States is the leader of the GAO and is appointed to a 15 year term by the U S President The GAO wants to support Congress while at the same time doing right by the citizens of the United States They audit investigate perform analyses issue legal decisions and report anything that the government is doing This is one of their reports Defense Reform Act of 1997 United States. Congress. House. Committee on National Security, 1998 Spatial Aspects of Environmental Policy Wayne Gray, 2019-01-22 There has been a recent explosion of research incorporating a spatial dimension in environmental and natural resource economics where the spatial aspects of human behaviour or the natural environment make a crucial difference in the analysis and policy response to the problem Much of this research has been driven by the growing availability of spatially explicit social science data and the development of tools and methodological advances to use these data Collected in this volume are 24 key articles considering the reasons for spatial variation in policies due to either efficiency or equity considerations and the consequences of that spatial variation for both environmental and economic outcomes These articles demonstrate that the failure to address spatial issues in the analysis can create two problems 1 the analysis provides a poor basis for predicting actual behaviour that is specifically based upon spatial considerations and 2 the analysis fails to provide a basis for designing spatially targeted policies that could lead to more efficient outcomes

Committee on Public Works and Transportation. Subcommittee on Investigations and Oversight,1992 Lead Babies and Poisoned Housing Carolyn R. Boiarsky,2024-09-01 Drawing on historic sources as well as present day interviews Lead Babies and Poisoned Housing is a story about systemic racism environmental injustice and the failure of government In 2016 1 100 mainly minority residents of a low income housing complex in East Chicago Indiana received a letter from the city forcibly evicting them from their homes because a high level of lead was found in the soil under their houses The residents were given two months to move Many could not find safe housing nearby The site was designated by the Environmental Protection Agency as a Superfund site because of the large amount of toxic material on it More than 1 300 similar sites are located throughout the United States Over 70 million people live within three miles of one of these sites Five years later the U S Department of Housing and Urban Development Office of Inspector General charged three federal agencies EPA HUD and CDC with causing the lead poisoning of children living in the complex The EPA responsible for the cleanup had been aware of the situation for 35 years The director of the local housing authority admitted to building the complex over a demolished lead smelter When health issues arose the housing authority blamed the residents sanitary habits rather than its own failure to maintain the structures The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention s testing of blood lead levels was revealed to be faulty In short the very agencies that were supposed to protect these people instead neglected ignored and blamed them But this isn t just a story of victimization it is also about empowerment and community members insisting their voices be heard Lead Babies and Poisoned Housing records the human side of what happens when the industries responsible for polluting leave but the residents remain Those residents tell their stories in their own words not just what happened to them but how they acted in response We should listen not only for justice but as a cautionary tale against repeated history Reauthorization of Superfund United States.
