Superpowers At Sea An Assessment Of The Naval Arms Race:

Superpowers at Sea Richard W. Fieldhouse, Shunji Taoka, 1989 The arms race at sea is a dangerous nuclear race which is causing growing international concern and must be brought under control What are the hard facts about the situation This book documents the realities of the competition especially the nuclearization of naval forces and dispels some of the myths surrounding the naval arms race This incisive analysis of naval forces of the East and West concludes that contrary to common perceptions the US and its allies have a considerable military advantage over the Soviet Navy a trend which is expected to continue for the foreseeable future The authors describe in detail the widespread nuclearization of naval forces of all five nuclear navies analyse the implications for security and arms control and conclude with suggestions for possible arms control measures

Superpowers at Sea Fieldhouse, 1988 Europe and Naval Arms Control in the Gorbachev Era Andreas Fürst, Volker Heise, Steven E. Miller, 1992 For most of the Cold War naval arms control was the forgotten dimension of arms control Beginning in the late 1980s however it has become increasingly prominent in the East West dialogue But it is usually studied from the perspective of Soviet American relations This book examines the subject from a European perspective What role might naval arms control play in the European context What impact might naval arms control have on the interests and perceptions of European states What opportunities for and obstacles to naval arms control exist in Europe The authors address these questions describing the naval interests and attitudes towards naval arms control of European coastal states as well as the Soviet Union and the United States in the Norwegian Baltic and Mediterranean seas

Security at Sea Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 1990 Since the Second World War five navies are known to have acquired nuclear weapons and naval forces and activities around the world have become increasingly important and dangerous However there has been no serious consideration of naval arms control for more than forty years SIPRI gathered together a group of experts from eight nations to consider the problems of naval forces and the possibilities for arms control This book is a product of that conference and it presents for the first time a broad and detailed assessment of the dangers of the naval arms race problems with arms control possible approaches confidence building measures and verification technologies

The Naval Arms Trade Ian Anthony, 1990 This book offers a sober appraisal of the world trade in naval weapon systems at a time when recent attacks on merchant shipping in the Persian Gulf have kept maritime security at the centre of global attention At the same time India outside the international non proliferation regime has become the first ever customer for a nuclear attack submarine In 1987 88 the most expensive and controversial arms sales were related to naval systems and yet while regional navies are busy increasing their firepower the traditional naval powers remain dependent on their sea borne trade In particular the book highlights critical areas in which trade in naval systems differs from the sale of land or air systems and it discusses the implications of these differences

From Environmental to Comprehensive Security Arthur H. Westing, 2013-07-01 This work presents the evolution of the traditional concept of national security as military security to additionally embrace environmental security and then necessarily also social societal security thence to be termed comprehensive human security It accomplishes this primarily by presenting 11 of the author s own benchmark papers published between 1983 and 2010 additionally providing bibliographic citations to a further 36 of the author s related publications during that period The work stresses the importance of transfrontier regional cooperation and also recognizes global overpopulation as a key impediment to achieving comprehensive human security Changing Threat Perceptions and Military Doctrines Laszlo Valki,1992-06-18 Owing to the revolutionary changes in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union the threat perceptions of the East and West have vanished The contributors to this volume report this social process and try to identify some of the new threat perceptions which will arise The Security Watershed Alexei G. Arbatov,2021-01-26 This book first published in 1993 is an analytical review that discusses the changes in the international security policies of the USA and USSR at the end of the Cold War as well as the main events that occurred in the area of arms control A distinctive feature of this work is the detailed analysis of competing Russian views concerning arms control agreements and Russian military reforms The Security Watershed Alekseĭ Georgievich Arbatov,1993 Created at the Institute of World Economy and International Relations IMEMO and the Foreign Policy Association then headed by the former Minister of Foreign Affairs Eduard A Shevardnadze this analytical review discusses the recent changes in the international security policies of the superpowers as well as the main events that have occurred in the area of arms control A distinctive feature of this new work is the detailed analysis of competing Russian views concerning recent arms control agreements and of recent Russian military reforms Alexai G Arbatov has worked in the Institute of World Economy and International Relations IMEMO of the Russian Academy of Sciences He is the director of the Center for Arms Control and Strategic Stability Power at Sea Lisle A. Rose,2007 Volume 1 Traces the social issues technological advances and combative encounters of the international naval race from 1890 through WWI as the largest industrial nations U S Great Britain Japan and Germany scrambled to secure global markets and empire using their battleship navies as pawns of power politics Provided by publisher Maritime Security and Peacekeeping Michael Charles Pugh,1994 Maritime security and peacekeeping will be invaluable to all students of international relations and anyone with an interest in the development of UN peacekeeping naval power and maritime security The U.S. Navy and the Rise of Great Power Competition James J. Wirtz,Jeffrey E. Kline,James A. Russell,2023-12-22 This volume describes how technological and geo political trends are rapidly transforming maritime affairs A mix of original and previously published material this volume describes how the 21st century great power competition is changing the face of naval operations in general and U S Navy operations in the Western Pacific in particular The rise of an assertive China and its new anti access and area denial capabilities threaten the aircraft carrier based maritime dominance of the U S Navy Military and political trends in the Western Pacific and beyond suggest that the world is encountering a pivotal moment when existing weapons tactics and operations might be rendered obsolete by techno strategic change This volume considers these developments from three perspectives by describing 1 the techno strategic setting 2 the institutional constraints that impede the ability of the U S Navy to respond to these changes and 3 a new approach to naval force planning and strategy to cope with these developments The volume culminates in a discussion of sophisticated strategies and operational concepts that position the U S Navy and its maritime allies and partners to prevail in today s techno strategic churn This book will be of much interest to students of naval policy strategic studies Asia Pacific politics and International Relations

Military Expenditure Saadet Deger, Somnath Sen, 1990 The purpose of this book is to analyse world military expenditure at the end of the 1980s and to discuss its political and economic implications After a decade of unprecedented expansion of international military spending its level is falling though modestly Political developments in Europe and the success of arms control negotiations raise hopes for further reductions In addition technological and economic structural disarmament is adding to the pressure for reductions However performance has not matched up to promises and formidable obstacles to defence spending limitations still remain Military Expenditure surveys recent events and describes the process of change that characterizes international military expenditure and its determinants at this time of transformation

The Diffusion of Military Power Michael C. Horowitz, 2010-07-01 The Diffusion of Military Power examines how the financial and organizational challenges of adopting new methods of fighting wars can influence the international balance of power Michael Horowitz argues that a state or actor wishing to adopt a military innovation must possess both the financial resources to buy or build the technology and the internal organizational capacity to accommodate any necessary changes in recruiting training or operations How countries react to new innovations and to other actors that do or don t adopt them has profound implications for the global order and the likelihood of war Horowitz looks at some of the most important military innovations throughout history including the advent of the all big gun steel battleship the development of aircraft carriers and nuclear weapons and the use of suicide terror by nonstate actors He shows how expensive innovations can favor wealthier more powerful countries but also how those same states often stumble when facing organizationally complicated innovations Innovations requiring major upheavals in doctrine and organization can disadvantage the wealthiest states due to their bureaucratic inflexibility and weight the balance of power toward smaller and more nimble actors making conflict more likely This book provides vital insights into military innovations and their impact on U S foreign policy warfare and the distribution of power in the international system

Security with Nuclear Weapons? Regina Cowen Karp, 1991 SIPRI Stockholm International Peace Research Institute is an independent institute for scientific research which aims to further an understanding of the conditions for peaceful solutions to international conflicts and for a stable peace Over the past twenty years SIPRI has concentrated on problems of armaments disarmament and arms regulation SIPRI is financed mainly by the Swedish Parliament Its staff the Governing Board and the Scientific Council are international The prospect of large reductions of nuclear weapons poses fundamental questions about the purpose of nuclear weapons Why have some states chosen to acquire nuclear weapons How and why have these decisions been maintained over time Why have some states elected to approach but not cross the nuclear threshold This book examines the commonalities and differences in political approaches to nuclear weapons both within and among three groups of states nuclear non nuclear and threshold The chapters explore the evolution of thinking about nuclear weapons and the role these weapons play in national security planning The book transcends traditional East West approaches to analysis of nuclear issues by giving equal prominence to the issues of nuclear proliferation and non nuclearism The book also provides a comprehensive analysis of how current approaches to nuclear weapons have evolved both within and among the countries under study Success and Failure in Arms Control Negotiations April Carter,1989 Governments have been negotiating about disarmament or more limited forms of arms control for forty years Despite these negotiations weapons of increasing deadliness and sophistication continue to be developed Through the use of case studies of particular negotiations Partial and Comprehensive Test Ban SALT I and II INF and START and MBFR CFE the book explores both the reasons for success and the obstacles leading to failure and assesses the importance of different types of explanation Dr Carter not only analyses the reasons why negotiations fail she also examines the conditions under which they are likely to succeed The result is a balanced comprehensive treatment of the problems and prospects for arms control United States Military Forces and Installations in Europe Simon Duke,1989 For many people who live in Europe the presence of substantial US military forces is a matter of concern and debate which has tended so far to centre around a few highly visible bases such as the cruise missile locations Apart from these few bases relatively little is known about the size and extent of the US military presence in Europe This book aims to fill that gap by providing the raw data on what is where The study also highlights the historical details behind the acquisition of bases in individual countries and summarizes and analyses all of the basing agreements between the US and its host nations which are available to the public The book a timely contribution to the debate as discussions begin for possible post INF cuts in superpower force levels in Europe there is an urgent need for accurate and unbiased information on US forces in Western Europe and on the massive infrastructure that supports those forces Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1990 Arms Procurement Decision Making: China, India, Israel, Japan, South Korea and Thailand Ravinder Pal Singh,1998 SCOTT copy 1 From the John Holmes collection Regionalism in the Post-Cold War World Stephen Calleya,2018-03-29 This title was first published in 2000 This text describes analyzes and projects the implications of regionalism on contemporary international relations Regional policy positions are examined in order to increase our understanding of how the direct impact patterns of relations at a regional level of analysis are having in the shifting balance of international power The book clarifies what types of regional dynamics are manifesting themselves in different parts of the world and consists of both theoretical and empirical assessments similar to those developed in the author s previous book on regionalism that ensures that the comparative analysis conducted is a comprehensive and coherent one
