Support Of Breastfeeding:

A Guide to Supporting Breastfeeding for the Medical Profession Amy Brown, Wendy Jones, 2019-12-05 This book is a practical guide for medical practitioners as they navigate through breastfeeding problems that occur in day to day practice If mothers have a breastfeeding complication they are often directed to their GP In complex situations medical staff will be making decisions around what treatment plan to follow and whether a mother can keep breastfeeding In recent years there has been growing evidence that medical professionals often advise mothers to stop breastfeeding while undergoing treatment when in reality this was not a necessary step In a time when breastfeeding rates are decreasing it is important that medical professionals give accurate advice and support a mother s choice to breastfeed if the situation allows it A Guide to Supporting Breastfeeding for the Medical Profession includes contributions from a wide range of medical professionals and each chapter is written with the practitioner in mind Contributors include GPs paediatricians neonatologists lactation specialists and midwives Doctors have a vital role to play in supporting and facilitating breastfeeding and without the appropriate knowledge they can often inadvertently sabotage it This book will be of interest to GPs and paediatricians as well as nurse prescribers midwives and health visitors Breastfeeding Together: A Partner's Guide to Support and Bonding Persephone Hartfield, The role of midwives and nurses in protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding, 2021-08-04 All midwives and nurses have a valuable role in facilitating the health of mothers infants and children through protecting promoting and supporting breastfeeding We urge government leaders policymakers managers implementers and funders to value this role and invest in providing midwives and nurses with the time to provide quality care Protecting, Promoting and Supporting Breastfeeding Mary A. Uyoga, Seema Mahrshahi, Bindi Borg, 2025-03-14 Breastfeeding is widely recognized as the best start to life for all infants and one of the most effective and cost effective investments nations can make for the future health of their community The World Health Organisations recommend exclusive breastfeeding for the first 6 months of life and introduction of nutritionally adequate and safe complementary solid foods at 6 months together with continued breastfeeding up to 2 years of age or beyond Enabling women to breastfeed is key to the sustainable development goals as it improves nutrition ensures food security and reduces inequalities between and within countries Lack of breastfeeding is an important issue with health social and economic implications Infants who do not receive breast milk are more likely to experience infections and poorer health outcomes than breastfed infants In addition there are also health implications for mothers who do not breastfeed Protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding World Health Organization, Unicef, 2020-05-29 Tema del documento la promozione e l'organizzazione di servizi in grado di garantire l'allattamento al seno di neonati malati o prematuri Supporting Breastfeeding Past the First Six Months and Beyond Emma Pickett, 2022-04-21 This evidence based guide for professionals covers essential information to help support parents breastfeeding past the first six months including starting solids alongside breastfeeding nursing manners and common problems and challenges The recommendation of breastfeeding beyond six months is well established but many birth professionals don't feel confident enough to support parents This book packed with case studies of real life parents and practical tips helps to educate healthcare professionals as well as parents themselves to feel better informed Each chapter combines professional research led evidence with a parent focused resource section for a fully integrative approach Centring families and their personal journeys Supporting Breastfeeding Past the First Six Months and Beyond is an invaluable guide for all lactation consultants birthing professionals healthcare workers and parents Protecting, promoting and supporting breastfeeding in facilities providing maternity and newborn services - The Baby-friendly Hospital Initiative World Health Organization, United Nations Children's Fund, 2025-04-09 The Baby friendly Hospital Initiative BFHI is a global programme to apply the Ten Steps to Successful Breastfeeding as the standard of care in all maternity and newborn services This monitoring manual provides countries with various tools and strategies for monitoring adherence to the Ten Steps It is intended to guide governments and key stakeholders in planning BFHI monitoring activities including data collection and analysis The primary audience includes quality improvement and assurance teams regional or administrative entities public health officials and programme managers The manual describes opportunities for monitoring at three levels within maternity and newborn health care facilities themselves external quality assurance processes and at the national level for programme planning and evaluation Breastfeeding United States. Department of Health and Human Services. Office on Women's Health, 2000 Breastfeeding and Human Lactation Karen Wambach, Becky Spencer, 2019-10-01 Breastfeeding and Human Lactation Sixth Edition is the ultimate reference for the latest clinical techniques and research findings that direct evidence based clinical practice for lactation consultants and specialists It contains everything a nurse lactation consultant midwife women's health nurse practitioner physician assistant or Ob Gyn needs to know about the subject Topics include placing breastfeeding in its historical context workplace related issues anatomical and biological imperatives of lactation the prenatal and perinatal periods and concerns during the postpartum period the mother's health sociocultural issues and more vital information Beyond Health, Beyond Choice Paige Hall Smith, Bernice Hausman, Miriam Labbok, 2012-08-15 Current public health promotion of breastfeeding relies heavily on health messaging and individual behavior change Women are told that breast is best but too little serious attention is given to addressing the many social economic and political factors that combine to limit women's real choice to breastfeed beyond a few days or weeks The result women's infants and public health interests are undermined Beyond Health Beyond Choice examines how feminist perspectives can inform public health support for breastfeeding Written by authors from diverse disciplines perspectives and countries this collection of essays is arranged thematically and considers breastfeeding in relation to public health and health care work and family embodiment specifically breastfeeding in public economic and ethnic factors guilt violence and commercialization By examining women's experiences and bringing feminist insights to bear on a public issue the editors attempt to reframe the discussion to better inform public health approaches and political action Doing so can help us recognize the value of breastfeeding for the public's health and the important productive and reproductive contributions women make to the world
