This major new study of Baudelaire is a journey into the secret language of Les Fleurs du Mal the expressive plibilities of its verse forms and syntax the fluctuations of its rhythms its significant sonorities its metaphorical figures and dynamic image patterns its network of nerves and trigger points its shifting underground of parallels and contrasts analogies and antitheses Through a strategic selection of poems constituting a constellation a formal pattern of mutually illuminating parts the analysis aims to show that form and theme are indissoluble that each movement in the texture of the verse each pulse each rise and fall each intensification or release not only aids and abets the thrust of the poet s inspiration but is moulding and in the end creating the subtleties of sense which cannot exist but in the weft and web of the breathing evolving text It is a study which prioritizes the individual poem then the poem within an expanding formation of poems then Baudelaire within and beyond that formation an infini dans le fini It is also an enquiry into what makes poetry as well as a provocative contribution to the ongoing debate on the nature of criticism Surrealism and the Book Renee Riese Hubert,2023-11-15

Literature as Document, 2019-03-19 Literature as Document considers the relationship between documents and literary texts in Western Literature of the 1930s. More specifically the volume deals with the notion of the document and its multifaceted and complex connections to literary texts and attempts to provide answers to the problematic nature of that relationship. In an effort to determine a possible theoretical definition many different disciplines have been taken into account as well as individual case studies. In order to observe dynamics and trends the idea for this investigation was to look at literature taking its practices its factual looking and concrete applications as a point of departure that is to say then starting from the literary object itself.

Prêt-à-Porter, Paris and Women Alexis Romano, 2022-05-19 In the first critical history of French ready made fashion Alexis Romano examines an array of cultural sources including surviving garments fashion magazines film photography and interviews to weave together previously disparate historical narratives. The resulting volume Prêt à Porter Paris and Women situates the ready made in wider cultural discourses of art design urbanism technology and international policy. Through a close study of fashion magazines including Vogue and Elle Romano reveals how the French ready made and the genre of fashion photography in France developed in tandem. Analyses of representations of space women and prêt à porter in such magazines alongside other cultural ephemera such as contemporary film documentary photography and family photographs demonstrate that popular conceptions of fashion and modernity shifted in the period 1945-68. By connecting national and personal histories Prêt à Porter Paris and Women reveals the importance of the ready made to broader narratives.
