Surmounting all Odds: Equalizing Education Opportunities in the New Millennium (1st in set - pb), 2002

Restoring Opportunity Greg J. Duncan, Richard J. Murnane, 2014 In this landmark volume Greg J Duncan and Richard J Murnane lay out a meticulously researched case showing how in a time of spiraling inequality strategically targeted interventions and supports can help schools significantly improve the life chances of low income children A crowning contribution from two leading economists in the field of education Restoring Opportunity is a passionate call to action on behalf of the young people on whom our nation s future depends Duncan and Murnane provide a no nonsense view of the growing educational gap between the haves and the have nots in America They also scour

the landscape to find promising solutions that provide hope for better outcomes in the future This is a thoughtful book that should be read with the care it merits Joel Klein CEO of Amplify and former chancellor New York City Department of Education This thorough examination of our public school system provides a clear picture of some of the toughest challenges particularly those facing low income students and the directions in which we need to go to fix them This book should be on the desk of every educator and policy maker in America so we can begin to change the odds for all of America s children Geoffrey Canada president and CEO Harlem Children s Zone Anyone who cares about improving schools should read this book Duncan and Murnane offer detailed case studies of effective programs to improve schools that can boost the life chances of disadvantaged children The authors present a careful analysis grounded in economics and education of the ways to make better schooling available to all of the nation s low income children David K Cohen John Dewey Collegiate Professor of Education and professor of public policy University of Michigan Greg J Duncan is a distinguished professor in the Department of Education at the University of California Irvine Richard J Murnane is the Juliana W and William Foss Thompson Professor of Education and Society at the Harvard Graduate School of Education

Closing the Opportunity Gap
Prudence L. Carter, Kevin G. Welner, 2013-04-26

While the achievement gap has dominated policy discussions over the past two decades relatively little attention has been paid to a gap even more at odds with American ideals the opportunity gap Opportunity and achievement while inextricably connected are very different goals Every American will not go to college but every American should be given a fair chance to be prepared for college In communities across the U S children lack the crucial resources and opportunities inside and outside of schools that they need if they are to reach their potential Closing the Opportunity Gap offers accessible research based essays written by top experts who highlight the discrepancies that exist in our public schools focusing on how policy decisions and life circumstances conspire to create the opportunity gap that leads inexorably to stark achievement gaps They also describe sensible policies grounded in evidence that can restore and enhance opportunities Moving beyond conventional academic discourse Closing the Opportunity Gap will spark vital new conversations about what schools parents educators and policymakers can and should do to give all children a fair chance to thrive
