The High-Mountain Cryosphere Christian Huggel, Mark Carey, John J. Clague, Andreas Kääb, 2015-08-07 This edited volume showcasing cutting edge research addresses two primary questions: what are the main drivers of change in high mountains and what are the risks implied by these changes? From a physical perspective, it examines the complex interplay between climate and the high mountain cryosphere, with further chapters covering tectonics, volcano-ice interactions, hydrology, slope stability, erosion, ecosystems, and glacier and snow-related hazards. Societal dimensions, both global and local, of high mountain cryospheric change are also explored. The book offers unique perspectives on high mountain cultures, livelihoods, governance, and natural resources management, focusing on how global change influences societies and how people respond to climate-induced cryospheric changes. An invaluable reference for researchers and professionals in cryospheric science, geomorphology, climatology, environmental studies, and human geography, this volume will also be of interest to practitioners working in global change and risk, including NGOs and policy advisors.

The Highest Peak: How Mount Everest Formed Jenna Tolli, 2019-07-15 Mount Everest, Earth's tallest mountain over sea level, formed about 40 million to 50 million years ago when prehistoric continents split and collided. Breathtaking photographs provide readers with visual correlations to the narrative, while fact boxes and sidebars supplement the main text.

Cry from the Highest Mountain Tess Burrows, His Holiness the Dalai Lama, Joanna Lumley, 2007-08-01 Their goal was to raise money and awareness for the Tibetan cause. They chose to climb to the point furthest from the center of the Earth, some 2,150 meters higher than the summit of Everest, to read out peace messages they had collected from children around the World in the lead up to the Millennium. Their mission was to promote Earth Peace by highlighting Tibet and the Dalai Lama's ideals as an arrow of light for the new millennium. Their team comprised of Tess, a 56-year-old mother of three; Migmar, a young Tibetan prepared to do anything for his country but who had never been on a mountain before; GT, a 64-year-old accomplished mountaineer; and Pete, who is Tess's partner and a highly skilled climber. For Tess, it became a struggle of body and mind as she was symbolically compelled towards the highest point within herself.

Eight Years Wandering In The High Mountains Of Sinai Peninsula: A Tale Of Two Maps Ahmed Shams, 2011-08-07. This book is the first complete geo-based account about the High Mountains of Sinai Peninsula. A series of seventeen expeditions (Phase I 2000-2008) were conducted to study the geography and human occupation development, providing exclusive highly detailed maps. Between 2010 and 2013 (Phase II), the study has undergone an extensive analysis modeling process supervised and sponsored by IMT Institute for Advanced Studies, scientifically collaborating with the EURAC European Research Academy towards a global perspective. It is a multidisciplinary geographical account which focuses on a local Bedouin community which inhabits a transitional mountain area of a rich and complex context, reflecting the socioeconomic and geopolitical paradoxes of the Middle East the decade prior to the revolutions of the Arab Spring. It presents a complete image for the local aspects in a keystone Arab state, a state of a significant share in the Egyptian National Reforms Revolution of January 25, 2011 CE.

Anatomy, Age and Ecology of High Mountain Plants in Ladakh, the Western Himalaya Jiří Doležal, Miroslav Dvorský, Annett Börner, Jan Wild, Fritz Hans Schweingruber, 2018-07-02. This aesthetically unique book combines ecological, morphological, and anatomical as well as phylogenetic studies on plant material in a largely unexplored dry mountain region above the timberline. It offers the first comparative analysis of hundreds of plants: annuals, perennial herbs, and dwarf shrubs in an area of 87,000 km<sup>2</sup> at altitudes from 2600 to 6150 m above sea level in the Western Himalaya. Characteristic landscape pictures of all major vegetation types and maps show at which locations and altitudes the individual species of vascular plants are distributed, while macroscopic plant pictures and plant age are related to high quality micro sections and micro photographs. The anatomical features of 345 dicotyledons were characterized using the published coding systems, and those of 155 monocotyledones were characterized on the basis of a newly developed key. The number of annual rings and anatomical features of the xylem and phloem of dicots are compared and related to different ecological conditions within this extremely dry and cold environment. The ecological and anatomical characterization is used to create a phylogenetic tree based on nucleotide sequences and indicates which features are genetically stable and which ones are modified by environmental factors. The book appeals to scientists in the fields of plant taxonomy, morphology, anatomy, and ecology.

High Mountain Pastoralism in Northern Pakistan Eckart Ehlers, Hermann Kreutzmann, 2000. The strength of the book lies in this differentiated analysis which is based on extensive empirical research. Several chapters challenge conventional modernization theories, and the authors' intimate connection to their data makes for an unusually stimulating and pleasurable read.

Kalvoda, C.L. Rosenfeld, 2012-12-06 On the basis of a total of thirteen case examples from the Tien Shan Karakorum Himalaya and Tangula Shan central Tibet the risk potential and hazards are inferred from the development of landscape during the Quaternary The history of glaciers can be seen as of central importance for this The Ice Age glacial erosion created V shaped valleys which with their steep flanks as a consequence of the interglacial formation of V valleys have prepared and brought about landslides as well as rockslides and the hazards combined with them The same is true for the moraines which the glaciers have deposited high up in the valley flanks and related loose stone deposits Dry and wet mass movements follow after heavy precipitation especially in the semi arid investigation areas and are catastrophes for the settlements and the communication routes in the valley floors Their key forms are debris cones and debris slopes as well as mudflows and alluvial fans In addition to the Ice Age glaciation history as a preparatory indirect factor the Holocene to present glaciation history is as a result of the damming up of glacier and moraine lakes and their outbursts a direct risk factor The examples presented of acute and already occurred cases of damage were investigated in the years 1989 1994 Acknowledgements The authors wish to thank the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft DFG the Max Planck Gesellschaft MPG the Volkswagen Stiftung VW and the Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst DAAD for the financial support for the field work
