The Holt Guide To English A Contemporary Handbook Of Rhetoric Language And Literature:

The Holt Guide to English William F. Irmischer,1981 The Holt Guide to English William F. Irmischer,1976

Essays on Classical Rhetoric and Modern Discourse Robert J. Connors,Lisa S. Ede,Andrea A. Lunsford,1984

Eighteen essays by leading scholars in English speech communication education and philosophy explore the vitality of the classical rhetorical tradition and its influence on both contemporary discourse studies and the teaching of writing Some of the essays investigate the rhetorical and historical issues Others show the bearing of classical rhetoric on contemporary problems in composition thus blending theory and practice Common to the varied approaches and viewpoints expressed in this volume is one central theme the 20th century revival of rhetoric entails a recovery of the classical tradition with its marriage of a rich and fully articulated theory with an equally efficacious practice A preface demonstrates the contribution of Edward P J Corbett to the 20th century revival and a last chapter includes a bibliography of his works The Holt Guide to English William F. Irmischer,Harryette Stover,1984-07-01 Contemporary Composition Studies Edith Babin,Kimberly Harrison,1999-12-30 Composition studies is a rapidly growing and constantly changing field At present however graduate students new to the field and writing teachers who want to make new connections between theory and practice have little choice of current reference works that define key terms in composition studies and provide information about the scholars and researchers who have shaped and are shaping the discipline This book supplies this information in an easily accessible format and places both scholars and terms in the context of the field's development Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 108 individuals who have developed the field and 128 terms central to the discipline The first part of the book provides entries for leaders in composition studies Each entry identifies the areas in which the scholar has contributed most influentially to the field and provides both a chronological overview of the person's contributions and a bibliography of representative works The second part includes entries for terms that are problematic both for newcomers and for those already familiar with the discipline The entries for the terms show how the disciplinary context has shaped the ways in which they have been used The entries also indicate how established thinkers in composition studies and other disciplines have explained or defined the terms provide examples of the terms in context and list scholars often associated with them An appendix includes entries for scholars from other disciplines who have contributed to the field Kenneth Burke Robert

Wess,1996-03-29 Kenneth Burke arguably the most important American literary theorist of the twentieth century helped define the theoretical terrain for contemporary literary and cultural studies His perspectives were literary and linguistic but his influences ranged across history philosophy and the social sciences In this important study first published in 1996 Robert Wess traces the trajectory of Burke's long career and situates his work in relation to postmodernity His study is both an examination of contemporary theories of rhetoric ideology and the subject and an explanation of why Burke failed to complete his Motives trilogy Burke's own critique of the isolated unique individual led him to question the possibility of unique individuation a strategy which anticipated important elements of postmodern concepts of subjectivity Robert Wess study is a judicious exposition of Burke s massive oeuvre and a crucial intervention in debates on rhetoric and human agency

Perceptions of Discourse: The Revolution in Assumptions Dorothy Naor,2014-12-12 This book was ready to go except for the final editing nearly 14 years ago when suddenly other events entered my life that took all my energy and time Apparently no one else in the interim has touched on the subject Because I was loathe to let 15 or so years of research go to waste and because I think that the history might be interesting and perhaps also useful to others and also because I suddenly realized that I am now in my 80s and would not be around forever I have finally taken time off to publish As for my sources which extend from about the 16th century till the late 1980s I have decided against updating them Those included in these pages serve the purpose of this study which is about a revolution in assumptions about discourse that began in the USA in the 1920s and became the institution in the 1980s in schools universities and in our perceptions of discourse in general The tale in these pages also covers the more important consequences of the revolution

Lost Texts in Rhetoric and Composition Deborah H. Holdstein,2023-05-03 A project of recovery and reanimation Lost Texts in Rhetoric and Composition foregrounds a broad range of publications that deserve renewed attention Contributors to this volume reclaim these lost texts to reenvision the rhetorical tradition itself Authors discussed include not only twentieth century American compositionists but also a linguist a poet a philosopher a painter a Renaissance rhetorician and a nineteenth century pioneer of comics the collection also features some less studied works by authors who remain well known These texts will give rise to new conversations about current ideas in rhetoric and composition This volume contains discussion of the following authors and titles Judah Messer Leon The Book of the Honeycomb s Flow Angel DeCora Sterling Andrus Leonard English Composition as a Social Problem Rodolphe T pffer William James Kenneth Burke Adrienne Rich Ann E Berthoff John Mohawk Western Peoples Natural Peoples William Vande Kopple William Irmscher Beat Not the Poor Desk Walter J Ong Geneva Smitherman Thomas Zebroski Linda Brodkey Craig S Womack Deborah Cameron James Slevin Marilyn Sternglass and William E Coles Jr

Techne, from Neoclassicism to Postmodernism Kelly Pender,2011-05-21 Techne from Neoclassicism to Postmodernism offers a deconstructive reading of the debates that have surrounded the term techne in rhetoric and composition explaining how we can affirm its value as a theory and pedagogy of writing without denying the legitimacy of the postmodern critiques that have been leveled against it

Learning to Write Aviva Freedman,Ian Pringle,Janice Yalden,2014-09-25 First published in 1983 The present volume holds the selected papers of a symposium on CCTE Conference held in 1979 in Ottawa Canada The content provides an introduction and a review of major themes in Writing research and pedagogy This is in part achieved by the papers themselves and in part by the introductions the Editors offer to each of the four Parts Second the reader is continually presented with a characteristic applied linguistic interplay of research and practice each affecting the other in a mutual and interactive manner Third the issues of Writing as Product versus Writing as Process or The Teaching of Writing Skills versus the Development of Writing Abilities or The Use of Writing for Learning and Knowing are not merely issues affecting Writing alone but language learning and teaching as a whole and one might add the entire process of education Cognitive Development in English Language Teaching Rajesh Lane,

Invention in Rhetoric and Composition Janice M. Lauer, 2004 Invention in Rhetoric and Composition examines issues that have surrounded historical and contemporary theories and pedagogies of rhetorical invention citing a wide array of positions on these issues in both primary rhetorical texts and secondary interpretations It presents theoretical disagreements over the nature purpose and epistemology of invention and pedagogical debates over such issues as the relative importance of art talent imitation and practice in teaching discourse After a discussion of treatments of invention from the Sophists to the nineteenth century Invention in Rhetoric and Composition introduces a range of early twentieth century multidisciplinary theories and calls for invention's awakening in the field of English studies It then showcases inventional theories and pedagogies that have emerged in the field of Rhetoric and Composition over the last four decades including the ensuing research critiques and implementations of this inventional work As a reference guide the text offers a glossary of terms an annotated bibliography of selected texts and an extensive bibliography Janice M Lauer is Professor of English Emerita at Purdue University where she was the Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English In 1998 she received the College Composition and Communication Conference's Exemplar Award Her publications include Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context Composition Research Empirical Designs and New Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention as well as essays on rhetorical invention disciplinarity writing as inquiry composition pedagogy historical rhetoric and empirical research

Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1977 1977 Brent Henze, Jack Selzer, 2008-02-20 A product of extensive archival research and numerous interviews 1977 A Cultural Moment In Composition examines the local state and national forces economic political cultural and academic that fostered the development of the first year composition program at one representative site Penn State University in the late 1970s

Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works

Invariance, Markedness and Distinctive Feature Analysis Yishai Tobin, 1994-12-15 This volume provides a new kind of contrastive analysis of two unrelated languages English and Hebrew based on the semiotic concepts of invariance markedness and distinctive feature theory It concentrates on linguistic forms and constructions which are remarkably different in each language despite the fact that they share the same familiar classifications and labels Tobin demonstrates how and why traditional and modern syntactic categories such as grammatical number verb tense aspect mood and voice conditionals and interrogatives etc are not equivalent across languages It is argued that these so called universal concepts function differently in each language system because they belong to distinct language specific semantic domains which are marked by different sets of semantic features The data used in this volume have been taken from a wide range of both spoken and written discourse and texts reflecting people's actual use of language presented in their relevant linguistic and situational contexts

Readings in Contemporary Rhetoric Karen A. Foss, 2002

Crossing Borders, Drawing Boundaries Barbara Couture, Patti Wojahn, 2016-03-01 With growing anxiety about American identity fueling debates about the nation's borders ethnicities and languages Crossing Borders Drawing Boundaries provides a timely and important rhetorical exploration of divisionary bounds that divide an Us from a Them The concept of border calls for attention and the authors in this collection respond by describing it challenging it confounding it and at times erasing it Motivating us to see anew the many lines that unite divide and define us the essays in this volume highlight how discourse at borders and boundaries can create or thwart conditions for establishing identity and admitting difference Each chapter analyzes how public discourse at the site of physical or metaphorical borders presents or confounds these conditions and consequently effective participation a key criterion for a modern democracy The settings are various encompassing vast public spaces such as cities and areas within them the rhetorical spaces of history books museum displays activist events and media outlets and the intimate settings of community and classroom conversations Crossing Borders Drawing Boundaries shows how rich communication can be when diverse cultures intersect and create new opportunities for human connection even while different populations cultures age groups and political parties adopt irreconcilable positions It will be of interest to scholars in rhetoric and literacy studies and students in rhetorical analysis and public discourse Contributors include Andrea Alden Cori Brewster Robert Brooke Randolph Cauthen Jennifer Clifton Barbara Couture Vanessa Cozza Anita C Hernandez Roberta J Herter Judy Holiday Elenore Long Jos A Montelongo Karen P Peirce Jonathan P Rossing Susan A Schiller Christopher Schroeder Tricia C

Serviss M nica Torres Kathryn Valentine Victor Villanueva and Patti Wojahn Balancing Acts Virginia A. Chappell, Mary Louise Buley-Meissner, Chris Anderson, 1991 At a time when the study of composition seems especially prone to excess and imbalance heading toward what could be a tyrannizing theoretical order here is a call back to the center to the concreteness of the teaching moment itself In a festschrift to honor William F Irmscher director for twenty three years of the University of Washington composition program the editors outline the need for a balancing act among theories and between theory and teaching This balancing act is a tribute to Irmscher who counseled compromise and the resolution of conflicting viewpoints Irmscher could reconcile new ideas with the practical struggles of student writers and composition teachers As a theorist Irmscher was one of the first to bring theoretical rigor to composition studies yet he always strove to express the issues however complex in clear and fluid language The two parts of the text invoke the balancing act between the concerns of the students and the concerns of the teachers The first part Identity and Community presents six essays about helping students explore their identities as writers and the effectiveness of those identities within communities of writers The second part Intuition and Institution includes five essays focusing on the dynamics of teachers decision making about theory and pedagogy within their own institutional communities The last chapter examines Irmscher s life and writings This celebration of William F Irmscher is a celebration of the complexity and the humanness of the act of composing and of the student writers themselves who are at the heart of this whole enterprise American Book Publishing Record ,1983-04
