The House In Norham Gardens:

The House in Norham Gardens Penelope Lively, 1974 The carved shield she finds in the attic brought from New Guinea years ago causes fourteen year old Clare disturbing dreams The House in Norham Gardens Penelope Lively, 1986-01-01

Four British Fantasts Charles Butler, Catherine Butler, 2006-04-25 Explores the work of four of the successful of the generation of fantasy writers who rose to prominence in the second Golden Age of children's literature in Britain The Best in Children's Books Zena Sutherland, 1980-05 Includes indexes Exploited, Empowered, Ephemeral Denise Burkhard, 2023-07-10 Childhood in neo Victorian fiction for both child and adult readers is an extremely multifaceted and fascinating field This book argues that neo Victorian fiction projects multiple competing visions of childhood and suggests that they can be analysed by means of a typology the childhood scale which provides different categories along the lines of power relations and literary possible worlds theory The usefulness of both is exemplified by detailed discussions of Philippa Pearce's Tom's Midnight Garden 1958 Eva Ibbotson's Journey to the River Sea 2001 Sarah Waters' Fingersmith 2002 and Dianne Setterfield's The Thirteenth Tale 2006 The Register of Persons Entitled to Vote at Any Election of a Member Or Members to Serve in Parliament for the City of Oxford, 1885 Landscape in Children's Literature Jane Carroll, 2012-08-06 This book provides a new critical methodology for the study of landscapes in children's literature Treating landscape as the integration of unchanging and irreducible physical elements or topoi Carroll identifies and analyses four kinds of space sacred spaces green spaces roadways and lapsed spaces that are the component elements of the physical environments of canonical British children's fantasy Using Susan Cooper's The Dark Is Rising Sequence as the test case for this methodology the book traces the development of the physical features and symbolic functions of landscape topoi from their earliest inception in medieval vernacular texts through to contemporary children's literature The identification and analysis of landscape topoi synthesizes recent theories about interstitial space together with earlier morphological and topoanalytical studies enabling the study of fictional landscapes in terms of their physical characteristics as well as in terms of their relationship with contemporary texts and historical precedents Ultimately by providing topoanalytical studies of other children's texts Carroll proposes topoanalysis as a rich critical method for the study and understanding of children's literature and indicates how the findings of this approach may be expanded upon In offering both transferable methodologies and detailed case studies this book outlines a new approach to literary landscapes as geographical places within socio historical contexts The Routledge Handbook to the Ghost Story Scott Brewster, Luke Thurston, 2017-11-14 The Handbook to the Ghost Story sets out to survey and significantly extend a new field of criticism which has been taking shape over recent years centring on the ghost story and bringing together a vast range of interpretive methods and theoretical perspectives The main task of the volume is to properly situate the genre within historical and contemporary literary cultures across the globe and to explore its significance within wider literary contexts as well as those of the supernatural The Handbook offers the most significant contribution to this new critical field to date assembling some of its leading scholars to examine the key contexts and issues required for understanding the emergence and development of the ghost story The Fantasy

Literature of England Colin N. Manlove, 2020-05-11 In this the first book on English fantasy Colin Manlove shows that for all its immense diversity English fantasy can best be understood in terms of its strong national character rather than as an international genre Showing its development from Beowulf to Blake the author describes English fantasy's modern growth through secondary world metaphysical emotive comic subversive and children's fantasy In them all England has led the world with authors as different as Chaucer Lewis Carroll J R R Tolkien and Salman Rushdie Burgess roll Oxford city, 1876 Report of the Commissioners Appointed to Inquire Into the Property and Income of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, and of the Colleges and Halls Therein Great Britain. Universities commission, 1874

North Oxford Tanis Hinchcliffe, 1992-01-01 And she looks at the inhabitants of the estate members of the professional middle class whose social religious and educational views did not always necessarily fit into the traditional life of the Oxford colleges Continuing her study up until 1970 Hinchcliffe also provides some interesting observations on the fate of Victorian suburbs and the efforts that have been made to maintain their character over time Projections of Paradise, 2011-01-01 Paradise is commonly imagined as a place of departure or arrival beginning and closure permanent inhabitation of which however much desired is illusory This makes it the dream of the traveller the explorer the migrant hence a trope recurrent in postcolonial writing which is so centrally concerned with questions of displacement and belonging Projections of Paradise documents this concern and demonstrates the indebtedness of writers as diverse as Salman Rushdie Agha Shahid Ali Cyril Dabydeen Bernardine Evaristo Amitav Ghosh James Goonewardene Romesh Gunsekera Abdulrazak Gurnah Janette Turner Hospital Penelope Lively Fatima Mernissi Michael Ondaatje Shyam Selvadurai M G Vassanji and Rudy Wiebe to strikingly similar myths of fulfilment In writing directly or indirectly about the experience of migration all project paradises as places of origin or destination as homes left or not yet found as objects of nostalgic recollection or hopeful anticipation Yet in locating such places quite specifically in Egypt Zanzibar Kashmir Sri Lanka the Sundarbans Canada the Caribbean Queensland Morocco Tuscany Russia the Arctic the USA and England they also subvert received fantasies of paradise as a pleasurable land rich with natural beauty Projections of Paradise explores what happens to these fantasies and what remains of them as postcolonial writings call them into question and expose the often hellish realities from which popular dreams of ideal elsewhere are commonly meant to provide an escape Contributors Vera Alexander Gerd Bayer Derek Coyle Geetha Ganapathy Dor Evelyne Hanquart Turner Ursula Kluwick Janne Korkka Marta Mamet Michalkiewicz Sofia Mu oz Valdieso Susanne Pichler Helga Ramsey Kurz Ulla Ratheiser Petra Tournay Thedotou The Butcher, The Tailor, The Picture-Frame Maker... Gareth Winrow, 2023-02-28 As she awaits her execution at Oxford Castle a newly wed woman from a God fearing family convicted for murdering her housemaid is pardoned at the last minute by King George II A butcher suddenly disappears and changes his identity after the tragic death of his young wife A picture frame maker from humble origins becomes the richest man in Oxford and is at ease socialising with the luminaries of the Victorian art world And a lovestruck local member of parliament with a serious gambling addiction dies in suspicious circumstances These are some of the stories of individuals connected with the land and property on Middle Way in Summertown Oxford where the author now lives The book presents an alternative history of Oxford and explores how Summertown evolved from being primarily an artisans village to becoming a well heeled suburb of Oxford Extensively referenced and using archival sources and interviews a voice is also given to the living relatives of people connected with the land and property on Middle Way Historical Fiction for Children Fiona M. Collins, Judith Graham, 2013-10-18 Historical fiction has a great deal to offer as its readers and devotees have always known The time is ripe however for the historical novel and historical picture book to be promoted more emphatically so that many more are made aware of the delight and learning to be found in the genre The editors of this book invited authors academic writers and teachers to reflect on the nature scope range and richness of historical fiction for children What is collected here provides an overview of the field a consideration of significant writers of historical fiction from the nineteenth century onwards a sense of the various historical eras commonly explored Stone Age to World War 2 a discussion of commonly raised issues themes and topics such as child labor slavery and migration and a forum for writers to reveal their insights into the writing of historical fiction Julian Atterton Berlie Doherty Michael Foreman and Philip Pullman have made contributions It provides evidence of children and students engaging creatively with historical fiction

Buildings for Bluestockings Margaret Birney Vickery, 1999 Vickery's book which includes floor plans and eight pages in color examines the intimate relationship between a Victorian institution intended solely for women and the architectural theories of the period In doing so she sheds light on the role of the founders such as Emily Davies at Girton their goals for their colleges and the pressure which a reluctant and skeptical society placed upon them Reformers in women's education were sometimes radical feminists but more often the women and men who were involved were modest in their approach arguing for little change in the status of women and veiling their ambitions for women's progress under a restrained and traditional rhetoric This conservative approach conditioned the built environment of the colleges and is an important aspect of nineteenth century British feminism Central to this book is the connection between the attitudes of Victorian society towards the higher education of women and the built environment Feminist architectural historians and anthropologists are just beginning to explore these connections and Vickery's book with its focus on a gender specific building type offers insight into the ways in which the values of a society are encoded into the environment in which we live and work It is therefore of interest not only to architectural historians but to feminists social historians and anyone interested in the history of the collegiate environment BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
