

A Brief History
The County of Montgomery was organized in 1791 from parts of Prince George's and Anne Arundel Counties. It was named in honor of George Montgomerie, a Scottish nobleman and a friend of the American Revolution. The county's early history is marked by the establishment of the first settlement, Rockville, in 1791. The county's growth was rapid, and by 1800, it had a population of over 10,000. The county's economy was based on agriculture, and it was a major producer of wheat and corn. The county's history is also marked by the American Civil War, during which it was a major theater of operations. The county's role in the war was significant, and it played a key role in the Union's victory. The county's history is a testament to the resilience and spirit of its people, and it is a source of pride for all who call it home.
