Wilford, Samuel A. Stoner, Samuel Stoner, 2021-06-04 Through a reexamination of Immanuel Kant and his philosophical legacy this volume explores the philosophic presuppositions of the possibility of progress and our belief in reason s capacity not only to improve the material well being of humanity but also to promote our true vocation as moral beings The Hope and Despair of Human Bioenhancement Paschal M. Corby, 2019-12-23 The Hope and Despair of Human Bioenhancement is a virtual dialogue between Transhumanists of the Oxford School and the thought of Joseph Ratzinger Set in the key of hope and despair it considers whether or not the transhumanist interpretation of human limitations is correct and whether their confidence in the methods of human enhancement especially through biotechnology corresponds to genuine hope To this end it investigates the philosophical foundations of transhumanism in modernity s rejection of metaphysics the triumph of positivism and the universalism of the theory of evolution which when applied to anthropology becomes the materialist reduction of the human person Ratzinger calls into question this absolutization of positive reason and its limitation of hope to what human beings can produce naming it a pathology of reason a mutilation of human dignity and a fade of a world without hope In its place he offers a richer concept of hope that acknowledges our contingency and limitations Works

John Lubbock, 1889 Interim Assessment of the HOPE VI Program Cross-Site Report Mary Joel Hollin, 2011-11-17 In 1989 Congress established the Nat Comm on Severely Distressed Public Housing to explore the problems of troubled public housing developments and to establish a plan to address those problems by the year 2000 Following several years of research and public hearings the Comm s 1992 final report identified the key factors that defined severely distressed housing extensive physical deterioration of the property a considerable proportion of residents living below the poverty level a high incidence of serious crime and management problems as evidenced by a large number of vacancies high unit turnover and low rent collection rates The Comm members agreed that existing approaches for improving public housing were inadequate to address the needs of severely distressed developments and proposed the creation of a new program to address comprehensively the social and physical problems of distressed public housing communities Originally called the Urban Revitalization Demonstration Program this public housing revitalization program soon became known by the acronym HOPE VI Homeownership and Opportunity for People Everywhere In 1998 under the Dept of Housing and Urban Development HUD a 5 year evaluation of the HOPE VI program was begun The Interim Assessment of the HOPE VI Program was designed to study program outcomes by collecting and analyzing data about 15 HOPE VI sites once redevelopment was completed and units were reoccupied This report presents the study findings Figures and tables This is a print on demand report

Hope Draped in Black Joseph R. Winters,2016-05-20 In Hope Draped in Black Joseph R Winters responds to the enduring belief that America follows a constant trajectory of racial progress Such notions like those that suggested the passage into a postracial era following Barack Obama s election gloss over the history of racial violence and oppression to create an imaginary and self congratulatory world where painful memories are conveniently forgotten In place of these narratives Winters advocates for an idea of hope that is predicated on a continuous engagement with loss and melancholy Signaling a heightened sensitivity to the suffering of others melancholy disconcerts us and allows us to cut against dominant narratives and identities Winters identifies a black literary and aesthetic tradition in the work of intellectuals writers and artists such as W E B Du Bois Ralph Ellison Toni Morrison and Charles Burnett that often underscores melancholy remembrance loss and tragedy in ways that gesture toward such a conception of hope Winters also draws on Walter Benjamin and Theodor Adorno to highlight how remembering and mourning the uncomfortable dimensions of American social life can provide alternate sources for hope and imagination that might lead to building a better world

Embodied Progress Sarah Franklin,2022-10-12 This new edition of Sarah Franklin s classic monograph on the development of in vitro fertilisation IVF includes two entirely new chapters reflecting on the relevance of the book s findings in the context of the past two decades and providing a state of the art review of the field today Over the past 25 years both the assisted conception industry and the academic field of reproductive studies have grown enormously IVF in particular is belatedly becoming recognised as one of the most influential technologies of the twentieth and twenty first centuries with a far reaching set of implications that have to date been underestimated understudied and under reported This pioneering text was the first to explore the emergence of commercial IVF in the United Kingdom where the technique was originally developed During the 1980s the British Parliament devised a unique system of comprehensive national regulation of assisted reproduction amidst fractious public and media debate over IVF and embryo research Franklin chronicles these developments and explores their significance in relation to classic anthropological debates about the meanings of kinship gender and the biological facts of parenthood Drawing on extensive personal interviews with women and couples undergoing IVF as well as ethnographic fieldwork in early IVF clinics the book explores the unique demands of the IVF technique In richly detailed chapters it documents the topsy turvy world of IVF and how the experience of undergoing IVF changes its users in ways they had not anticipated Franklin argues that such experiences reveal a crucial feature of translational biomedical procedures more widely namely that these are hope technologies that paradoxically generate new uncertainties and risks in the very space of their supposed resolution The final chapter closely engages with the hope technology concept as well as the idea of having to try and uses these frames to link contemporary reproductive studies to core sociological and anthropological arguments about economy society and technology In the context of rapid fertility decline and huge growth in the fertility industry this volume is even more relevant today than when it was first published at the dawn of what Franklin calls the era of iFertility Embodied Progress is an essential read for all social science academics and students with an interest in the burgeoning new field of reproductive studies It is also a valuable resource for practitioners working in the fields of reproductive health biomedicine and policy

The Hope of Glory Walter Wilson, 2014-04-09 This study explores the background character and function of Colossians as a form of theological education and appeal in the Pauline tradition A historical literary rhetorical and narrative analysis of the text shows how its theological affirmations and claims were presented so as to engage the life of its readers in practical ways and in practical contexts especially in order to direct their moral formation as Christians and their self understanding as a Christian community in a time of controversy The specific strategies adopted by the author in designing his message and instructing the readers are familiar from Hellenistic conventions of moral and spiritual guidance particularly those conventions associated with philosophic paraenesis or moral exhortation for recent converts Inequality and Progress
